PREFACE.

WE desire to acknowledge, with gratitude, the hearty indorsement and the kindly co-operation that we have received, since the very inception of this book, from the Protestant clergymen of Syracuse. Without their favor and assistance, the volume could never have been completed. With the exception of only two or three, the interesting historical sketches of the churches, which are here presented, have been prepared by their respective pastors expressly for this book. The brief biographical notes have been gathered from various sources, some from the National Cyclopedia of American Biography, several from the Syracuse dailies, but most of them are original material that has not previously been in print. They might easily have been made longer; but the purpose in mind was not to eulogize, but simply to state the essential facts.

We sincerely regret that a few Protestant churches are not represented in these pages. The omission is because of inability to secure the desired information concerning them.

As to the arrangement of the subject-matter: We have placed the denominations in alphabetical order, the churches in each denomination (so far as possible) in chronological order.

The eighty-seven (87) excellent engravings that illustrate and adorn the book were made by the H. J. Ormsbee Engraving Co., of this city; and the fine photographs of the churches (except some half dozen previously made) were taken exclusively for this volume, by I. U. Doust, photo-artist, 130 E. Genesee street.

We trust that any slight errors that the book may contain will be generously overlooked, since they are not due to any lack of painstaking care.

THE PUBLISHERS.

INTRODUCTION.

THIS book is something entirely new under the sun of Syracuse. We are indebted to the enterprise and skill of one of our youngest churches for its timely appearance. It has for its aim to make the churches of our fast growing city know each other better. For this end it brings before the reader the portrait of each clergyman and a likeness of each church edifice. It then gives a brief account of the origin and history of each church and the principle facts in the life of each clergyman. To this is added a list of the church officers, and of the auxiliary organizations, with a list, carefully prepared, of resident members (in case of nearly all the churches), with their residence.

Such an undertaking involves a large outlay of time, of minute and patient labor, and of money. Of course there will be some errors, not due to the publishers, but to the change which will take place while the book is passing through the printer's hands.

Although many churches publish occasionally, each for itself, a directory or manual, giving some of these facts for the use of their own members, yet the combining of all these together, so that the members of all the Protestant bodies may readily learn about one another, is an entirely new plan and will prove to be a great success. It will now be possible, for a very moderate sum, for every family in the city to have a register of all the churches and a summary of their history for ready reference.

Aside from the great convenience of such a volume there are higher ends to be secured. We are members, in all these churches, of one another; our aims are common; our methods vary and we can learn much from each other. The idea of the visible unity of Christendom is in the air. A humble contribution to that end is composed in this book which shows how much there is in common between us. There is also great practical value, in a city growing as this does, in holding up the beginnings of things and the course of history in the churches. The stranger can inform himself in a few moments as to the story of the church into which he has come from another community.

Let the whole city take pride in supporting this unique and valuable contribution to its past and present life.

EDWARD N. PACKARD,
Pastor of Plymouth Church.

BAPTIST CHURCHES.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Enjoys the distinction of being the oldest religious organization in Syracuse. About the year 1818 a few Baptists began to hold meetings in private dwellings. When the first school house was erected, the location being the corner of West Willow and Franklin streets, these worshippers found in it a temporary sanctuary. Preaching was furnished by theological students from Hamilton; among them being Jonathan Wade, who later went as a missionary to Burmah.

After worshipping in the school house for several months, the subject of the church organization was broached. On January 12, 1820, a few persons met at the home of Braddick Dart, and agreed to call a council to advise with them in the matter. Such a council convened at the school house, February 16, 1821, and by its advice a church was formed the next day, February 17, 1821, to be known as "The First Baptist Society of Syracuse." The village then contained about 250 people.

In May, 1823, Rev. N. J. Gilbert entered upon the pastorate. Late in the fall he began the building of a church edifice. The structure cost about $2,500 and stood on the spot now occupied by the Universalist Church It was the first house of worship in Syracuse. While Rev. John Blain was pastor from November 1837, to November 1841, 300 were added to the church by baptism, and 100 by letter. The house was enlarged and improved at a cost of $2,300.

In 1848, under the pastoral care of Rev. Robert R. Raymond, the church began the erection of a new house. It stood on the present lot, and was dedicated in 1840. On August 28, 1859, the building was burned. A new one was dedicated, entirely free from debt, November 1, 1860. Rev. J. S. Backus, D. D., was pastor.

In 1871, a "Jubilee Service" was held. A Memorial Fund, raised largely by the efforts of Rev. E. A. Lecompte, amounted to $1,300, In December 1884, under the direction of Rev. H. W. Sherwood, the first Christian Endeavor Society in the city was organized.

A notable pastorate was that of Rev. Cortland Myers, who served from 1890 to 1893. About 500 new members were received. The building was enlarged and remodeled at an expense of $19,000. Large congregations and a revival spirit continue under the present pastor, Rev. Thomas J. Villers. During the first eight months of his pastorate 130 were added to the church.

The church has now (June 1, 1895) a membership of 850; and the Bible school, which is the largest in the city, a membership of about 1,200. There are three Christian Endeavor societies, four companies of the Boys' Brigade, a society of Farther Lights, and a men's organization known as Ban-Amelek. The church has also six circles of the Kings' Daughters, one circle conducting a Kitchen Garden, where girls are taught practical housework. The Woman's Christian Work society has a Foreign Missionary department, a Home Missionary department, a Benevolent department and a Social department. Miss Emma Thursfield, a graduate of the Chicago Baptist Missionary Training School, is the pastor's assistant. The Daily Journal has complimented the church by saying that while it is the oldest in the city, it is at the same time the most aggressive.

REV. THOMAS. J. VILLERS

Was born at Centreville, W. Va., on May 23, 1861. From childhood he was possessed with a desire to preach. His father, who served as Sunday school superintendent for thirty-five years, early initiated him in Christian work.

Entering Marietta College he obtained every prize for which he was permitted to compete—three as a scholar, two as an orator, and one as an essayist. The last part of his college course was taken at the University of Rochester, where he graduated as valedictorian of the class of '85. The faculty published this statement; 'The standings of the class of '85 have averaged higher than those of any preceeding class; and one of its members, T. J. Villers, has obtained the highest standing ever given a graduate of the university." He graduated from the Rochester Theological Seminary in 1888.

On October 25, of the same year, he was married to Miss Rose Stanley Merriam, who has been an invaluable helper. Some of her musical compositions are published by the Oliver Ditson Co. Five years were spent as pastor of the First Church of Gloucester, Mass. Many valuable members were added. The young people were organized. The congregations and Bible school grew till they became the largest in the history of the church. On December 3, 1893, Mr. Villers began his present pastorate.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Central Baptist Church was originally organized as the Second Baptist Church of Syracuse. This organization was completed August 17, 1846, with the following gentlemen as the first board of trustees: Amos T. Holmes, Zeriah Pangburn, Noble G. Otis, Daniel Hull, Lyman Stevens, Moses Hearn, and Otis S. Sumner. The first pastor of the Church was Rev. A. Pinney.

On the third of June, 1850, the land on E. Genesee street, where now stands the French Catholic Church, was purchased. The building, which is now used by that body, was erected the following year, with Mr. E. T. Hayden architect. This house was used for nearly twenty years. The building in which the church now worships, on the corner of Montgomery and Jefferson streets, was completed in 1872, the name having been changed, a short time previously, to the Central Baptist Church. It is a handsome brick structure, with Onondaga limestone trimmings, and was erected at a cost of $60,000, having a seating capacity, aside from the lecture room, of seven hundred.

On the evening of June 23, 1874, a large number of people were gathered socially in the parlors. Suddenly the floor gave way, precipitating the throng into the lecture room below, and bringing down the heavily timbered ceiling from above. Fourteen people were killed outright, and one hundred forty-five were more or less injured in the frightful disaster.

The pastor at this time was Rev. George Thomas Dowling, whose preaching was listened to by immense crowds, and whose popularity was perhaps equalled by no other minister in Syracuse. When the catastrophe occurred, the whole city was profoundly moved, both because of its intense sympathy for the afflicted families and its attachment for the gifted young pastor.

The prosperity of the church suffered only temporary check from this fearful accident. The congregation, as a whole, stood nobly by each other—the loss was repaired, and the building enlarged. The church has now a membership of nearly seven hundred, notwithstanding it has contributed largely to the formation of four Baptist churches within a few years.

The following have been the successive pastors of the church: Rev. A. Pinney, Rev. J. T. Seeley, Rev. Winfield Scott, Rev. E J Foote, Rev. A. J. Frost, Rev. H. J. Eddy, Rev George Thomas Dowling, Rev. Dr. Goodspeed, Rev. T. E Clapp, and Rev. Smith Thomas Ford.

Mr. Ford's pastorate is the longest in the history of the church, having now covered a period of nine years, and it has been attended by marked success. The church occupies a leading place among the Baptist churches and is among the foremost in the city in point of numbers, influence, and usefulness.

SMITH THOMAS FORD,

Pastor of the Central Baptist Church, was born at Camden, N. Y., February 3, 1851, the youngest son of Rev. William Ford, a Baptist clergyman, who came from England to America in 1831, and identified himself with the pioneers of Northern New York. Mr. Ford prepared for college at Whitestone Seminary, and was graduated from Madison (now Colgate) University, Hamilton, N. Y., in 1878. He pursued his theological studies at the same institution, completing them in 1881, and was shortly afterward ordained in the Baptist church at Greene, N. Y., where he had preached during his Seminary course. He next accepted a call to Waverly, N. Y., where he remained for three years, meeting with great success and giving abundant proof of his ability as a preacher. He subsequently removed to Albany, N. Y., to take charge of the old, historic First Baptist Church. In 1886 he accepted a call to the Central Baptist Church of this city. Since the beginning of his pastorate the church has been greatly strengthened, not only in a largely increased membership, but in those qualities which make a strong and prospe ous organization.

FIRST GERMAN BAPTIST CHURCH.

Ever since the founding of the University and Seminary of Rochester, N. Y., (1851) German ministerial students of those institutions labored periodically among the Germans of Syracuse. After many years a mission was organized in connection with the First (English) Baptist Church of this city. In 1878 this mission was organized as a separate church, their first pastor being Rev. R. Hoefflin. Their first chapel was located on Lodi street.

In 1885 the church succeeded in building their present commodious house of worship on Catherine street, valued at $11,000, and with a seating capacity of 600.

Owing to the fact that a great number of their members (those of the second and third generations) continually go over to English churches, the membership of this church is not as large as might be expected.

Present church members, 320; Sunday School (average), 100; Y. P. S. C. E., 56.

Since the advent of the present pastor, much has been done in organizing an educational work along religious lines. A kindergarten was organized (which is at present in a flourishing condition) with the prime object of providing the children with that religious (non-sectarian) training which in the public schools is not given at all, and in the Sunday schools but insufficiently. At the same time they are taught the German language, a knowledge of which is absolutely necessary as long as German churches are needed here as missionary agencies among the immigrated German population. The present membership of the church is 76.

REV. LOUIS GERHARDT

Was born on February 20th, 1856, in Langensalza, Prussia. Converted at the age of twenty-five, he became a member of the German Baptist Church at Altona, Prussia. Prompted by a conviction to preach the gospel, he entered the theological seminary at Hamburg for one year's study, and then labored as a city missionary. In 1885 he emigrated to the United States, intending to work among the German population here. In Coal City, Ill,, he began at once preaching regularly on Sundays to a small congregation, meanwhile earning his support by secular labor in the coal mines, and later as a music teacher. In 1891, feeling the necessity of a more thorough theological education, he entered the theological seminary at Rochester, N. Y., from which he was graduated in 1894 to take charge of the First German Baptist Church of Syracuse, N. Y.

FOURTH BAPTIST CHURCH.

This church had an exceedingly small beginning. On January 17th, 1883, a meeting was held at the house of the Rev. J. S. Blanden, and a church was organized consisting of seven members. The Rev. J. S. Blanden was elected and called to the pastorate of it.

On January 30th of the same year it was determined to build a chapel on a lot at the corner of Orange and Sizer streets, which had been given by Mrs. Mary Sizer for that purpose. The chapel was finished and dedicated May 8th, 1883. In May, 1884, an addition was made to the building for Sunday school purposes, and in 1887 a building for mission work was erected in Lafayette avenue on a lot donated by Mrs. John Webster. The Rev. Mr. Blanden continued as pastor until October 19th, 1890, when the Rev. B. R. Smith succeeded him.

During his pastorate many changes were made. The mission property on Lafayette avenue and the church property on Sizer street were sold, and the proceeds were invested in the lot on which the present structure stands.

The present church building is a great improvement upon the original structure. It was dedicated November 7th, 1893. The Rev. Mr. Smith resigned the pastorate at the end of the year, and the church after hearing the Rev. Amos Naylor, extended to him a call. His pastorate commenced January 1st, 1894.

The church building has 300 sittings, and the church organization is experiencing a rapid and healthy development.

REV. AMOS NAYLOR,

Pastor of the Fourth Baptist Church, was born at Kendal, Westmoreland county, England, in the year 1852. He inherited from his ancestors, who were eminent in the chartist and other republican movements, a sturdy democratic spirit, which impelled him to emigrate early in life to America.

Although devoted to altruistic and reform movements from youth, it was not till his thirty-third year that he was converted to the Christian faith, when he immediately sought preparation for the ministry in the Rochester Theological Seminary.

Mr. Naylor has had an extended experience in affairs social, industrial, commercial and political, and is well qualified to do what he believes in doing—applying the principles of the gospel of Jesus Christ to every phase of human experience. His previous pastorates were at Lyons and Throopsville, N. Y.

THE DELAWARE ST. BAPTIST CHURCH,

Corner of Delaware and Dudley streets, in the Thirteenth ward, is one of the youngest churches in Syracuse, having been organized March 6, 1889. For a number of years prior to this, the Baptists of the city had maintained a mission, known as "Hope Mission," in a substantial chapel on the corner of Wyoming and Tully streets. The consecrated workers at this mission had thought they were forming the nucleus for a Baptist church in the Fifth ward. But the site proved not the most desirable. The work was practically discontinued. The property was sold and the proceeds of the sale used by the First Baptist Church. The Baptists of the old Fifth ward did not, however, abandon their hope, and purpose, to establish a church nearer their homes, than the down town churches were. "In the fullness of the time" the Lord opened the way; and in the spring of 1889, seventy brethren (47 from the First Baptist and 22 from the Central Baptist church) after much prayer, and against much opposition, decided to constitute themselves the Delaware Street Baptist Church. After several meetings in private residences, White's Hall, corner of Delaware and Geddes streets, was secured as a meeting place. At the first meeting in the hall, March 6, 1889, the brethren elected church officers, adopted articles of faith and church covenant, and assumed its corporate name. Prof. H. H. Sanford and Rev. J. W. Taggart, as invited guests, assisted in effecting the organization.

The formation of a Sunday school, with a constituent membership of about seventy, and of a small Y. P. S. C. E. immediately followed On April 24th, 1889, a Council of Recognition convened, and, after a careful examination, unanimously and heartily gave formal recognition to the new body as a regularly constituted Baptist church, and extended them a cordial welcome into the Onondaga Baptist Association. Recognition services were participated in by Revs. A. C. Lyon, H. H. Sanford, W. T. Potter, G. H. Hubbard, S. T. Ford, A. R. Palmer. The evening of the same date (April 24) a call was extended the Rev. R. E. Burton to the new pastorate. Much desire, but little hope, was felt that Mr. Burton would accept the invitation. It proved, however, that the action was prompted by the Holy Spirit. Mr. Burton at once declined a call to a Brooklyn church, which he had under serious and favorable consideration, and, following his long cherished desire to undertake a new work in an uncultivated field, at once visited the field and accepted the call. For five years (to date) there has been continual and grateful and mutual acknowledgement of the Holy Spirit in forming the union.

The young society represented very little wealth. It had not so much as a penny's worth of church property. But with what some termed "the audacity of faith" in God's purposes and promises, the church began its work. From the first, God gave his approval and blessing. White's Hall very soon was overcrowded. A lot—the present site of the church—was purchased at a cost of $3,000 and paid for. The following year lecture rooms, of brick and stone, were erected on the rear of the lot at a cost of $9,000. It was dedicated Nov. 13, 1890, with a debt of $4,000, which has since been paid in full. With its audience room on the first floor, having about 500 chairs, and its upper rooms for infant department, Bible class, social and other work this building has met for a time the needs of the growing work. More room is now needed and a committee is at present considering plans for the main part of the contemplated structure. The largest donor to the financial work and of whom we would make grateful and loving mention, was Mrs. Sallie Clark—whose bequest aggregated $3,000. All other gifts were relatively, or actually, small. The Finance Committee reported that 2,500 people contributed toward the work. The finances of the church have been conducted, from the first, on the "voluntary offering" plan, and with most signal success. The current expenses of the church are easily, and joyously met. The total receipts, in the five years for all purposes and from all sources has been about $29,000 Many are giving one-tenth of their income, and are the most prosperous of our number. In membership we have had an annual net gain of 60. Present number 370. In our Sunday school we enrol 420. Mission school 100. Home Department Class about 100. We are also credited with having the largest Y. P. S. C. E. of any denomination in the city. To God be all the glory. The little church stands to-day a monument to the prayers and faith and wisdom and sacrifice of its original founders, conspicuous among whom were the beloved—now departed—Deacons D. F. Harris and William Waring; but most of all is it a witness to the truth—"Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

REV. REUBEN E. BURTON,

Son of a thrifty farmer of Wayne county, N. Y., was born at Clyde, N. Y., August 22, 1843. He began his education in a rural district school—attending the winter terms. When fourteen years old he was converted and became a member of the Baptist Church at Clyde, in which his father had long and faithfully served as deacon. At sixteen he began his college preparatory course at Red Creek Union Academy. During the summer vacation of 1862 he enlisted as a private soldier in the 138th N. Y. Infantry—afterward the 9th N. Y. Heavy Artillery, and served three years and three months. Was captured by the enemy at Monocacy Junction July 9, 1869, and was a prisoner of war about ten months. Was repeatedly commissioned and promoted by the Governors of his State. At the close of the war was Assistant Inspector General on staff duty under appointment of Major General Augur. In the spring of 1866 he began business near his old home. Was married to Janette Waldurff December 10, 1867. She still remains his very worthy and beloved companion. Two years later he felt called to the ministry and at once disposed of his business interests, and began a six year's course of preparatory study. His studies were pursued in Rochester University and Theological Seminary, with classes '73 and '76 respectively. Was ordained to the Christian ministry June 13, 1876, at East Aurora, Erie county, N. Y. His pastorates have all been in his native State and are as follows: East Aurora, Fairport, Buffalo, Oswego, Syracuse. With this sketch of my life, I want to acknowledge my gratitude to God for having called me to this ministry of His word; and to mention the supreme joy, and fullness of blessing I have found in rendering even so humble and imperfect service to our Beloved Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

BETHANY BAPTIST CHURCH.

For a number of years prior to the year 1887 a colored Baptist Church had been talked of as a felt need in Syracuse. One had been actually organized, but the movement was premature and died out. The colored population continued to increase, many of whom were Baptists in belief or inclination.

These newcomers would either join or attend more or less regularly the Zion A. M. E. Church, the only colored society in the city. The assimilating power in the church was not strong enough to make a homogeneous congregation out of these different elements. The Baptist sentiment, therefore, began to strengthen. The result was that in the beginning of the year 1887 a company of brethren and sisters drew out from Zion Church and began to hold cottage prayer-meetings, looking to the forming eventually of a Baptist Church. These meetings continued for four months. About the last of March they rented a room in the old Y. M. C. A. Building on East Genesee street, and began regular worship and opened a Sunday School.

Having heard of Rev. Garnet Waller, a student in Newton Theological Seminary, the society invited him to come and work with them a while. He came and spent six weeks. God blessed his work. Nine souls were converted. The Holy Spirit in the very inception put His seal upon the work, and in the fusion of His presence the young society became one in heart and purpose.

It was clear that a permanent pastor was necessary to lead the church into the promising field opening up before them. Having heard that Rev. George E. Stevens was about to graduate from the seminary at Lincoln University, Pennsylvania, the society, not yet permanently organized, extended a call to him, which he accepted. Mr. Stevens arrived in Syracuse on the 19th of May, 1887.

and preached his first sermon to his little flock the next day, which was the Lord's day.

ORGANIZATION AND RECOGNITION.

A week later they organized under the name "The Union Baptist Church," which name was changed in 1890 to "The Bethany Baptist Church." Eight persons banded themselves by covenant. This first eight were: Brothers Joseph G. Terrill, Walter J. Smith and E. H. Wilson; and Sisters Susan A. Watson, Jenny Watson, Mary Terrill, Kitty T. Blackstone and Fanny Burns. The following week ten more were added to the little company.

On the 12th of June a council to recognize the society as a regular Baptist Church was called; the examination proving satisfactory, the recognition services were held that evening.

Mr. Stevens had not as yet been ordained. On the 26th of June an ordaining council was called to examine him, and the same evening he was publicly set apart to the gospel ministry.

One month from organization nine persons were baptized in the Central Baptist Church—the first baptism by the young pastor. The membership now numbered twenty-seven.

They worshipped in the old Y. M. C. A. Building for two years. The room was two flights up, poorly ventilated, and unsuitable for reaching many persons at a time; yet it was here that the young church took on form and character, and where some of the richest seasons of grace were experienced. One by one and two by two souls were converted. The present membership, which numbers sixty, has from time to time been curtailed by death and discipline, but more especially by the floating character of the population.

NEW CHAPTER OPENING.

The next move was to Meads' Business College Hall, corner of East Jefferson and South Salina streets. Here, for the first time, the work caught the eye and heart of the public. Prof. C. P. Meads, our true friend and brother, who remained to worship with us on the first morning in his hall, struck the key-note of this new chapter when, just before benediction, he arose and said: "I will give twenty-five dollars towards a church home of your own." With this pointing of Providence began the struggle to secure a building lot. One was purchased on East Washington street, Mr. Eli C. Brayton advancing the money. The public generously responded to our call for contributions, so that within eight months the lot was paid for. The frame building which stood upon the lot was altered for a place of worship, and for nearly two years they met here.

These quarters grew too small. In the spring of 1893 the public were again asked to contribute $3,000 towards the building of a house of worship before ground should be broken. The amount was raised. The Hon. Peter Burns suggested the purchase of the adjacent lot, as the first lot was hardly wide enough. Mr. D. A. Munro of Camillus, N. Y., with strong faith in the possibilities of the work, loaned the money for the purchase. The house which stood upon it was fixed over for the parsonage.

Work at once began upon the edifice, which was completed in March, 1894, and dedicated on May 10th, following.

The Sunday School is full of promise, with a membership of one hundred.

The C. E. Society is active, with a membership of twenty-two.

Under the superintendency of Mrs. J. F. Stevens a number of the little girls of the congregation meet once a week in the basement of the church to sew, when also instruction in personal neatness and purity is given. This is the beginning of the industrial school which Pastor Stevens hopes to effect in connection with the church, that the girls may know the elements of good housewifery, and the boys useful trades.

The Bethany Baptist Church has its own peculiar and important place to fill in this city in bringing the gospel to the hearts and homes of the colored people.

P. S.—Thirteen new members have been added to the church since the above was written, and there are indications that the entire church debt will soon be paid.

REV. GEORGE E. STEVENS.

Rev. George E. Stevens, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, was born at Philadelphia, Pa., on the 24th of May, 1861, being one month old when the first shot of rebellion was fired on Fort Sumter. He was the second son in a family of five children. His parents, George E. and Susan A. Stevens, were natives of Pennsylvania; but the grandparents on both father's and mother's side were born in Virginia, and were devout and staunch Baptists. His father was a cabinet-maker by trade, and when the war broke out was carrying on a prosperous business in Philadelphia. When President Lincoln issued his call for colored volunteers, he was among the first to enlist. He went to the field as a private in the 54th Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers, commanded by Col. R. G. Shaw—a regiment whose splendid service has made Fort Wagner and Port Hudson historic fields.

Two years after the close of the war the family moved to Essex county, Virginia, where his father taught school and later became sheriff. Three years were spent here, which, as Mr. Stevens recollects them, were among the happiest years of his childhood. On the return of the family to Philadelphia, little George, who was now eleven years of age, went to live with his uncle, Solomon Howard, at Danielsonville, Conn. He was here three years, and went to school meanwhile. His aunt, who was a Yankee housewife, trained him to habits of industry and system. She was inflexible in her ideas of tidiness and thrift, who, though always kind, made it lively for all concerned when her rules were disobeyed or the chores left undone.

George finally grew homesick. He decided to start for Philadelphia without informing his aunt and uncle of the intention. One misty evening he set forth on his three-hundred mile journey without any money and on foot. He reached Philadelphia safe; but the trip was full of romance, and pivotal in his life. The courage and resolution in the boy of thirteen years a gracious Providence has blessed in the undertakings of later years.

He went to school for a while, but was forced by circumstances to go to work. For some time he was an errand boy in a tailor store. Mrs. Edmundson, the wife of his employer, was motherly and kind, and gave George instructions at night. In this way the break in his early schooling was somewhat mended. While working here his mother died, leaving two boys and two girls—George being the oldest, 14 years. Willie, the first born, had died several years before.

Shortly after the death of the mother, his uncle, A. F. Stevens, a leading caterer in Philadelphia, offered him a home with a view to fitting him for the business. For four years he lived with his uncle, and though still in his teens, his prospects were considered bright for success as a caterer. It was while here in his uncle's home that the great event of his life occurred—his conviction of sin and conversion to the Lord Jesus Christ. The old Cherry Street Baptist Church in 1879 was blessed with a sweeping revival of religion. George and his sister Mary, who is now a pastor's wife and an active Christian worker, were among the eighty who at that time were baptized.

No sooner was he converted than a strong desire to preach the gospel took possession of him. After prayerful thought and consultation with his pastor, he resolved to prepare himself for the gospel ministry. In the fall of 1879 he entered the preparatory department of Lincoln University. The following year he entered the Freshman class, and was graduated from college after a four years' course, in 1884. At commencement he delivered the Rhetorical oration. In the fall he returned to take a course in theology. He was at once elected an instructor in the preparatory department where, five years before, he had entered as a pupil. After a three years' course in the seminary he was graduated in 1887, receiving at the same time the degree of A. M.

The little company of brethren and sisters in Syracuse who had for five months been holding cottage prayer-meetings, having determined to organize themselves in a Baptist church, and needing a pastor, they extended a call to Mr. Stevens just before his graduation from the seminary. He had resolved to enter the first open door, so when this call came Mr. Stevens at once accepted it.

The day after his graduation—one week before he left for Syracuse—Mr. Stevens was married at Lincoln University to Miss Johanna D. Flanders, a school teacher. During the nearly eight years of labor in Syracuse, Mrs. Stevens, who is beloved by all, has been an invaluable helper to her husband in the work. Three children have been born to them. One, George Boardman, is not. Two girls, Edith Hasseltine and Helen Gordon, remain.

Mr. Stevens was ordained to the gospel ministry on the 26th of June, 1887.

There was some strong opposition to the church in the beginning, besides the mistakes resulting from the inexperience of the young society itself. But these things have become memories now as barriers surmounted; so that to-day, under the blessing of God, the church has a name and place among the spiritual forces of the community. Their new house of worship, recently built and dedicated, speaks for itself. As a recognition of the work done, the Onondaga Baptist Association made Pastor Stevens their moderator for 1893-4.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

As early as 1838 a Congregational Church existed in Syracuse and continued until 1850. It had six ministers, none settled by council in the usual manner, and while many excellent and faithful people were enrolled in its membership there was much dissention, growing out of the contest then stirring the city and country over slavery. Without descent from this body, Plymouth Church was formally organized September 24th, 1853, with many members of the former organization joining the permanent work. Thirty-one persons joined in forming the church and giving it its name. To this little company the Rev. Michael E. Strieby was immediately called as pastor and at once began his work, remaining in charge eleven years and leaving it only to take up congenial duties as Secretary of the American Missionary Association which is devoted to the education of the Freedmen, Indians and Chinese in America. Under his able and devoted ministry Plymouth acquired a character which it has never lost, standing for reforms, for equality, for missionary zeal, for practical interest in public matters so far as righteousness enters into them. In 1859 the corner stone of the present edifice was laid, superseding a frame chapel on the site of the present chapel which is under the same roof with the church. During the war times Plymouth was active in furnishing recruits and in tenderly caring for the men at the front. Thirty-six went out from the congregation, eleven died, one from the effects of imprisonment in the famous "Libby" of Richmond. Dr. Strieby was a thorough expositor of the scriptures, a pungent pulpit orator and a devoted pastor. After him came Rev. S. R. Dimock—a brilliant and fearless preacher—who remained here four years, resigning in 1858 to the great regret of many. He was succeeded by Rev. A. F. Beard, D. D., who labored fourteen years in Plymouth, during which time the church grew to be the largest at the time in the city and its influence was felt throughout the State. The New York Home Missionary Society was organized largely through Dr. Beard's efforts and he was for many years its president. Several powerful revivals came. Good Will Mission was organized by the workers of Plymouth in 1871, leading, after years, to the Good Will Church. The American Board was entertained here in 1879 and the first meeting of the Creed Commission was held within the walls of Plymouth. In 1883, Rev. Edward A. Lawrence, D. D., was settled and during his ministry three new churches took form. Dr. C. C. Creegan, then secretary of the Home Missionary Society, being active in their foundation. These three are Danforth, Good Will and Geddes. Dr. Lawrence resigned in 1886 to make a world tour among the mission stations and subsequently to become pastor of the First Congregational Church in Baltimore, where his lamented death occurred in 1893.

On the first day of September, 1887, Rev. Edward N. Packard. D. D., the present pastor, began his work. In 1891 the church was renovated at a cost of about $18,000 and a new organ set up. A branch has been maintained several years at the corner of Fabius and Oswego streets, known as Pilgrim Chapel in which about fifty members are enrolled. Together with these the present membership of Plymouth is little less than six hundred, four hundred having been received during the present pastorate.

Plymouth has been known for its evangelical soundness, its interest in moral reforms, its revivals, its social unity with a large measure of individual freedom.

REV. EDWARD N. PACKARD.

Rev. Edward Newman Packard, pastor of Plymouth Church, was born in Lancaster, Mass., 1841. His father, Charles, was a Congregational clergyman, who died in Biddeford, Me., 1864. His grandfather, Hezekiah, was a Revolutionary soldier, an educator and a Congregational minister. Mr. Packard was graduated at Bowdoin College, 1862; went to Virginia intending to enlist in the army, but was prevented by sickness; took a year's theological study at Bangor Seminary and was appointed tutor in his college, where he remained five years, being assistant professor the last year; was a year in Andover Seminary as resident licentiate, having been licenesd in Maine previously, where he had done some preaching. He accepted a call to the First Congregational Church in Evanston, Ill., 1870, and became a charter member with forty-eight others in the enterprise; was ordained January 13th, 1870. Continued in Evanston for nine years when he was called to the Second Church, Dorchester, Boston, Mass., where he served eight years and until his settlement in Syracuse, 1887.

In 1870 he married Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. John D. Ford, of Winona, Minn., and they have six children.

For ten years Mr. Packard has been an overseer of Bowdoin College and for several years assistant recording secretary at the annual meetings of the American Board. In 1891 he received the degree of D. D. from Syracuse University. During his entire ministry he has been a contributor to the religious press and has sermons in the annual volumes of the Monday Club of Boston.

PILGRIM CHAPEL.

The chapel is located at the corner of Fabius and Oswego streets, and is a branch of Plymouth Congregational Church.

A Sunday school was started by earnest members of Plymouth Church at No. 50 Oswego street in 1871, and the present chapel was dedicated May 29th, 1873. It is owned by Plymouth Church society. In 1886 Good Will Church was formed out of the chapel school, and is now in its own edifice.

September 5th, 1886, the school was reorganized chiefly through the labors of Dr. W. A. Duncan, who was elected its first superintendent, and who has continued to this time.

In 1889 such an interest had grown up around the school that the New York State Home Missionary Society, sustained by the Congregational churches, appointed a missionary and assumed responsibity for his support. The pastors thus commissioned have been Rev. George Lusty, Rev. Jay W. Somerville, Rev. L. D. Van Arnam, Rev. W. F. Moulton, Rev. D. P. Rathbun, and is at present supplied by Rev. Annis A. Rathbun.

Regular preaching services are maintained every Sunday morning and evening. Under the first pastor the question arose, What shall be done for those desiring to join the church? Plymouth voted to receive them into full membership, and set them off to work at the chapel. The Lord's supper is observed from time to time. The pastor of Plymouth Church makes occasional visits and takes a general oversight of the work. Friends from other Christian bodies have helped to support the work.

This work means bringing souls to Christ; saving children from the streets, and young men from the saloons. It means the study of God's word in the Sunday school; Christian sympathy for the poor and needy, sick and sorrowing ones.

The work is progressing. Plans are being formulated for repairs, and hopes are entertained that in the near future we may be better prepared to accommodate the different societies in the chapel, and to do more efficient work for the Master.

We are doing missionary work, and although we have but few members, are very well organized and earnestly and faithfully working in many different lines.

After the setting off of members from Plymouth Church, for this work, the ladies of the chapel and vicinity met June 28th, 1889, and organized a Ladies' Aid; each pays ten cents as dues monthly. Sewing for sick and needy ones is done; quilts are pieced, tied and sold; goods are bought at wholesale and made into useful articles, and sold; suppers are served, and entertainments held, and from these various sources quite an amount is realized. The Aid pays $50 yearly toward pastor's salary. The past year we have sent money both to home and foreign work. Under God this society has been the greatest factor in the success of the work in this place.

We have active, earnest workers among the young people, through the Y. P. S. C. E., who aid the work in many ways. They have given ten dollars toward the salary and for coal, etc.

The Junior Y. P. S. C. E. was organized in October, 1894. It is a very interesting society, and from its numbers some have united with the church the past year. They also have contributed their mite for the support of the gospel.

Connected with the chapel is a sewing school of Earnest Workers, under the leadership of Christina Blinn, with faithful assistants, that is laying a sure foundation for future work for the blessed Master. The little ones are taught to sing and pray, as well as to sew.

We have a Prayer Circle, led by Daniel Hollington, that meets every Sabbath evening before services to pray for the success of the work. We also hold cottage prayer meetings, and when requested go to the homes of the sick and aged.

REV. ANNIS A. RATHBUN.

Mrs. Rathbun, whose maiden name was Shattuck, was born May 31, 1842, in Bath, N. Y., where her early life was spent. She finished her education at the Union School at Bath, and followed the vocation of a teacher in Steuben county for several years. She was married to William Emerson March 15th, 1862, during the civil war. He enlisted in the army soon after, and died December 26th, 1862. A daughter was born to her the March following.

On April 4th, 1869, she was converted and joined the Wesleyan Methodist Church, and on September 5th of the same year was united in marriage to Rev. D. P. Rathbun who "passed over the river" March 8th, 1894. This union was blessed with two children: a son, who is now in the United States Navy, and a daughter, who resides with her mother in this city.

Early in her Christian experience she felt that God called her to preach the gospel, and after some months of mental and spiritual conflict, she yielded her will to that of the Master, and began to work in this public manner.

God has graciously and wonderfully opened her way and blessed her labors. She followed the course of theological study prescribed by the Wesleyan Methodist connection, and passing a satisfactory examination for elder's order, was ordained to the Christian ministry by the Champlain Wesleyan Methodist conference, at Moores Junction, May 18th, 1875.

As assistant pastor with her husband she has served a number of churches in this State, Iowa and Pennsylvania, and has also taken charge of several alone while her husband was engaged in the lecture field.

She has been serving Pilgrim Chapel for the past eighteen months, the work from which her late husband was taken to his eternal reward.

In September, 1893, she handed in her letter to Plymouth Church of this city, of which she is now a member, and was also received into the Central Association in December following.

THE DANFORTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

On the seventh day of January, 1884, these persons met at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Mann in Danforth: Mr. and Mrs. E. Mann, Rev. C. C. Creegan, John Dunn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. E. Butler, Mrs. Mary C. Franklin, Mrs. R. H. Stevens, Miss Mary E. Morse, Miss Elma D. Hayden, C. C. Hall, D. E. Hayden and T. K. Fuller. The result of the conference is expressed in the following declaration: "Resolved, That the time has come to organize a Congregational church in the village of Danforth." A series of meetings all at private houses followed, and on February 1st a legal organization was effected and a constitution adopted. On February 3 the first formal religious service was conducted in the Furman Street M. E. Church, the use of which had been generously tendered. The Rev. Edward A. Lawrence, pastor of Plymouth Church, preached; a Sunday school was formed, Mr. Nathan S. Curtiss being chosen the first superintendent.

The first election of officers was held February 12. The following were elected: Trustees, C. C. Hall, D. E. Hayden, G. F. Hitchcock, G. S. Hubbard, James Hunter, O. C. Knapp, Enoch Mann, J. M. Rose, Luke Wells; treasurer, E. C. Tallcott; deacons, S. V. R. Van Heusen, Sr., G. F. Hitchcock, N. S. Curtiss, E. H. Abbott; clerk, Ebenezer Butler.

An ecclesiastical council was held March 3 to review the proceedings. Several of the pastors and many of the members of the city churches were not in favor of the movement, but the council wisely approved, the church was recognized as a Congregational Church and the first sacrament was administered. The meetings of the church were held in the Furman Street M. E. Church until March 30, when they convened at the village school house. A lot was purchased on Salina street, opposite Kirk avenue, and an edifice begun. The corner stone was laid September 5, and the completed house was dedicated June 29, 1885. The building is of brick and cost with its furnishings about $16,000. The lot cost $1600. The auditorium seats 450; the chapel has two rooms, each seating 200; and all can be opened as one audience room. A fine-toned bell was the gift of Mr. Enoch Mann, and later, a beautiful pipe organ was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Tolman; Mr. P. G. Petterson and many others have been generous benefactors.

The first pastor was Rev. D. F. Harris who came under the Home Missionary Society. His ministry was attended with some success, but dissension arose and he resigned in February, 1887. Rev. Ethan Curtis, of Camden, N. Y., accepted the pastorate and was installed in February, 1888. His pastorate was highly successful. Through his efforts the organization was greatly improved, many members were added and the debt of $6,000 still remaining was paid. Mr. Curtis resigned in September, 1889, to become the secretary of the New York Home Missionary Society. In the following February an invitation to become pastor was extended to Herbert A. Manchester, a student in Auburn Theological Seminary, which he accepted. He was ordained and installed by an ecclesiastical council in May and has remained pastor of the church until now. During this last pastorate the church has prospered, the membership and the Sunday school have been doubled and the church made independent of missionary aid which it received from the Home Mission Society for eight years.

The membership of the church is a little more than 200; of the Sunday school nearly 400, and it counts over 200 families among its adherents. Located in a very pleasant and growing suburb, free from debt, with good business sagacity to manage its finances, and earnest, devout workers to care for all its interests, the prospect before this church is very bright.

HERBERT A. MANCHESTER.

Herbert A. Manchester was born at Hartland, Niagara county, N. Y., November 2, 1859. The Manchester family is of ancient English lineage. The subject of this sketch spent his boyhood on his father's farm. Delicate health withheld him from early advantages of schools, but after some desultory studies in district school and academies he entered the University of Rochester and graduated in the class of 1887. He won honors in several departments. He entered the Auburn Theological Seminary and finished the course in 1890, independent of ecclesiastical care or authority. During the Seminary course he was commissioned as a Home Missionary under the Syracuse Presbytery and was sent to Hastings and Parish, Oswego county, N. Y. This was a new field to the Presbyterians. Mr. Manchester spent three summers there and retained supervision during the remainder of the year while at Auburn. A church organization was effected at Hastings and a church building erected and paid for during the first year, and since that time the same has been accomplished at Parish. Mr. Manchester was pastor of the two charges, preaching three times regulariy, often four and sometimes five times each Sunday. He was also superintendent of two Sunday schools besides teaching classes in each.

He accepted the pastorate of the Danforth Congregational Church and became its acting pastor March 1, 1890, though not settled in Syracuse until October. He was ordained and installed by an ecclesiastical council May 26, 1890.

He united with the Christian Church of Royalton, N. Y., when seventeen, and continued his membership until he joined the Danforth Church at the beginning of his pastorate. It was always his desire from boyhood to be a minister of the gospel.

He married Grace Denniston Smith at Auburn, N. Y., September 16, 1890.

GOOD WILL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Good Will Mission Sunday School was started by a Young Men's Association of Plymouth Congregational Church. Forty-six persons attended the first session at 3 P. M. October 22d, 1871, in the rented upper room of the house No. 50 Oswego street.

May 29th, 1873, the growing school moved into the present Pilgrim Chapel, Oswego street corner of Fabius. August 8th, 1886, it moved out of Pilgrim Chapel to its present location, Grace street corner of Ontario—a church of 43 members and a Sunday School of 84 members, leaving, however, the larger part of itself behind, to continue as the Pilgrim Chapel Sunday School.

The beginning of Good Will Congregational Church was in 1884, when Rev. D. F. Harris, from April to May 25, and Rev. C. H. Small, from June 8 to August 31, preached and did pastoral work at Good Will Mission Chapel on Oswego street. In August a Society for Christian Service was formed at the Chapel, which, October 14, 1884, voted to form the Good Will Ecclesiastical Society. On the same night trustees were elected and a pastor called. The Rev. C. C. Creegan, D. D., secretary of the N. Y. Home Missionary Society, offered, for his society, substantial aid.

The first trustees were: Rev. E. A. Lawrence, D. D.; W. A. Duncan, Ph. D.; G. R. Hovey, W. S. Reed, G. A. Mosher, E. G. Hall. H. J. Frost was elected clerk, and W. S. Reed treasurer.

October 25, 1884, Rev. J. Cowles Andrus, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Highlands, N. Y., accepted a call to become pastor, and began preaching November 12, 1884.

April 14, 1885 Good Will Congregational Church—of 28 members—was organized by Council, and Rev. Mr. Andrus was installed pastor. The first deacons were: C. M. Grannis and H. J. Frost. Clerk, C. W. Cable. W. A. Duncan, Ph. D. (1875–), was superintendent of the Oswego Street Sunday School, G. A. Mosher, assistant superintendent (1871–1886). Mr. Mosher became in 1886 superintendent of the new Good Will Sunday School on Grace street, corner of Ontario; E. G. Hall, assistant superintendent; C. W. Cable, secretary; C. A. Louergan, treasurer; F. A. Chadwick, chorister; Ada Burpee, pianist; Mina Burpee, assistant pianist; Walter Smith, librarian; Adella S. Baker, W. S. Reed, members of the Executive Committee.

January 1, 1885, a committee to purchase a new lot for the church was appointed. March 6, 1885, the large lot on Grace street, corner of Ontario, was purchased; the plans for a house of worship, by E. G. Hall, architect, a member of the church, were accepted. September 24, 1886, the present Good Will Chapel was dedicated, and January 15, 1891, the main building was dedicated.

The value of the Good Will Church property is $30,000. The church building is of brick; in architecture, interior appointments and decorations, it is one of the most modern and pleasing edifices in the city. The seats in the main auditorium are opera chairs, arranged, on a sloping floor, in a semi-circle. The frescoing and stained windows are by J. & R. Lamb of New York. The equipment of the Sunday School has from the first been in accord with modern ideas. The seating capacity of the church (900) includes the lower floor of the chapel, which can be added at will to the main room.

May 7, 1893, Rev. Mr. Andrus, the efficient first pastor, resigned, to accept the pastorate of a Congregational Church at West Superior, Wisconsin. An excellent portrait of Mr. Andrus hangs in the chapel.

Rev. H. N. Kinney, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Winsted, Conn., was, on July 7, 1893, called to succeed Mr. Andrus as pastor, and on July 21 accepted the call.

Four hundred and fifty-one persons have united with Good Will Church in its ten years' existence. The present membership is about 350. The total enrollment of the Sunday School is 435.

REV. HENRY NASON KINNEY.

Rev. Henry Nason Kinney was born in Chicago, Ill., January 30, 1856, of New England ancestry on both sides. His father, James Adams Kinney, started and was first superintendent of the Sunday School, out of what grew the (West Side) Tabernacle Congregational Church, Chicago.

On the death of his father in 1859, the family removed to Somersworth, N. H., and, in 1870, to Boston, Mass. Entering the Boston Latin School in 1872 he graduated in 1875. In his senior year at Harvard College, 1879, he united with the Old South Church, Boston. He was class poet on graduating from Andover Theological Seminary in 1882. June 22, 1882, he married Selina Elizabeth McIntosh, daughter of Andrew J McIntosh, of Springfield, Mass. They have two children, Marian and Selina.

Mr. Kinney was pastor 1882-4 of the Congregational Church, Fergus Falls, Minn., and of the First Congregational Church, Winsted, Conn., 1884-93. September 15, 1893, he became pastor of Good Will Congregational Church, Syracuse. His installation by Council took place October 2, 1894.

Mr. Kinney in 1885 assisted in forming the first State Union of Y. P. S. C. E.—that of Connecticut—and was its president 1887-9. He has been a speaker at seven of the International Y. P. S. C. E. conventions. The Golden Rule (Boston) says that "Mr. Kinney formed in 1887 probably the first Senior or Adult Society of Christian Endeavor ever organized." He was a speaker on forms of aggressive Christianity in America and England at the International Christian Workers' Conventions of 1890 and '92. In 1887, at Winsted, Conn., he founded "The People's Course," a lyceum for public improvement, carried on by a committee of citizens representing all classes.

The Men's Sunday Evening Service Club, formed December 11, 1893; the Good Will Choral Union; Senior, Parents' and Junior Societies of Christian Endeavor, and Chapter No. 1 of the Koumi Club, formed January 5, 1894,—a sisterhood similar to the Brotherhood of St. Andrew; some of these associations, the first of the kind in the State—are among new organizations at Good Will during Mr. Kinney's pastorate.

January 30, 1894, Mr. Kinney became president of the Syracuse Christian Endeavor Union. The Syracuse Union was awarded a diploma for faithful service in Christian citizenship at the International Y. P. S. C. E. Convention of 1894, and the banner for the best work in Christian citizenship at the International Y. P. S. C. E. convention of 1895.

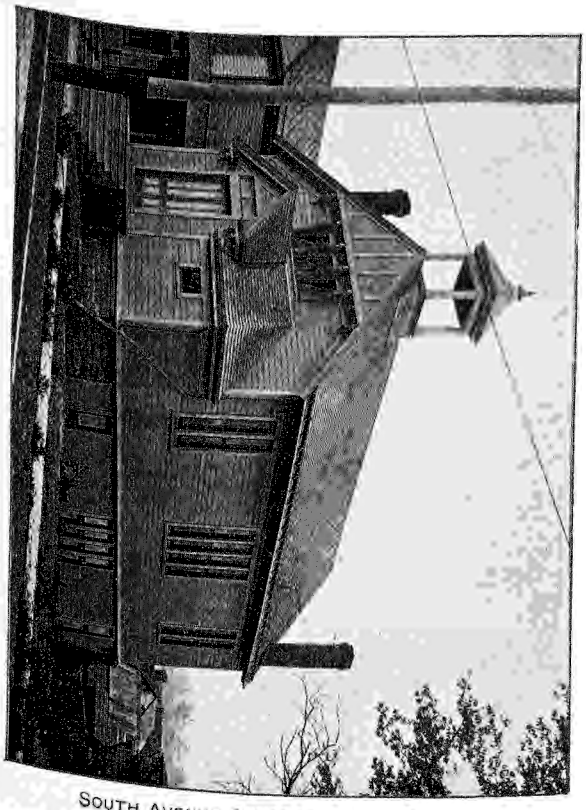
REV. FRED L. LUCE.

GEDDES CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.



SOUTH AVENUE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

MR. MORGAN MILLAR.

GEDDES CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The first attempt to organize a Congregational Church in what is now the western portion of the city of Syracuse, was made during the existence of the old village of Geddes, in the summer of 1884, by Rev. Charles H. Small. The work was so discouraging that after two meetings, Mr. Small abandoned the field and started the movement which resulted in the same year, in the formation of Good Will Congregational Church of the Fifth Ward of this city. It was Rev. C. C. Creegan, D. D., of Syracuse, N. Y., then Secretary of the Congregational Home Missionary Society for New York State, who brought Mr. Small here, and it was Mr. Creegan's continuing faith in the ultimate success of the work that led to a second attempt so soon after the failure of the first.

In the summer of 1886, Mr. Creegan arranged with Rev. F. A. S. Storer, then a recent graduate of Auburn Theological Seminary, to come and give three months' work toward starting a new church in the west end of the city of Syracuse. Mr. Storer commenced his work on Wednesday, September 8th, 1886, by calling upon the families of George C. Gere, Charles E. Hubbell, and George W. Draper. Matters looked quite discouraging, but Mr. Storer determined to push ahead and arranged for the first service in the Methodist Church, Sunday P. M., September 12. A goodly number of people attended this service, but scarcely any one imagined that the movement was to be a success. However, when the first prayer meeting was held at the residence of George C. Gere, September 22, there was considerable to give encouragement. At the second prayer meeting, September 27, Rev. C. C. Creegan was present and spoke encouraging words. At this meeting a committee was appointed, who at the next prayer meeting, October 6th, presented a creed and a portion of a church constitution, which were adopted October 13th. The name of the new church, "Geddes Congregational Church of Syracuse," was selected and a temporary clerk and treasurer chosen. The Sunday School was organized October 17th, temporary deacons chosen October 20, and Rev. F. A. S. Storer elected first pastor of the church October 24th.

On November 16th the church was recognized by council at a meeting held in Plymouth Church, Syracuse, N. Y., at which time thirty-six charter members were received.

On December 30th the first permanent officers of the church were elected as follows: Trustees, George C. Gere, Charles E. Hubbell, E. C. Parsons, Charles E. White, Solon H. Lane; deacons, George W. Draper, Giles H. Stilwell, Ezra B. Cobb; clerk, Albert R. Gillis, treasurer, Avery Howlett; Music Committee, Solon H. Lane, Mrs. W. E. Manzer, Mrs. A. E. Pharis.

The ground was broken for the building of a church edifice October 11, 1887, on land at the corner of Willis Avenue and Erie street, given to the church by Mrs. George C. Gere and Mrs. Charles E. Hubbell. The corner stone of the church was laid November 23rd following, and the church dedicated May 1st, 1888, Dr. A. J. F. Behrends of Brooklyn, N. Y., preaching the dedicatory sermon.

The church edifice with its site and furnishings was valued at the time of its dedication at $8,000, and was encumbered with a debt of $3,000. The first reduction in this debt was made in the present year (1895) by the payment of $500 by the Ladies' Aid Society. The church has also assumed self-support during the present year. It has contributed generously to missions from the first; its annual benevolences now amount to $200 or more.

Mr. Storer closed his pastorate because of ill-health, December 1, 1893. His successor entered upon the work January 1 following. The present membership is 135.

REV. FRED LEANDER LUCE.

Fred Leander Luce was born at Northville, Long Island, N. Y., August 2, 1861. The eastern end of Long Island was settled as early as 1640, and Mr. Luce's ancestors were among the first settlers. His father is a farmer and occupies to-day the farm which has been in the family for several generations. As a boy, he showed great fondness for books and study; and it was even then his serious purpose, when he grew to be a man, to be a minister of the Gospel. This was so early in life a part of his consciousness that he cannot remember when it began.

At nine, he entered the academy in his native place; and at eleven he was sent to the "Bridgehampton Literary and Commercial Institute," which he attended for two and a half years. He was now prepared to enter college, but being small of his age, his father thought best that he should give up study altogether for a time. Accordingly, four years were passed in the healthful occupation of out-door labor on the farm. At the age of eighteen, after six months study, he entered Williams College, graduating in the class of 1883. He was principal of the Northville Academy for the year 1883-4. In September, 1884, he went to Union Theological Seminary, New York City. During his first year in the Seminary, a classmate and himself were invited to take pastoral charge of Phelps Mission. They did so, and Mr. Luce preached his first sermon Sunday morning, January 11, 1885.

In April, 1887, a call was extended to Mr. Luce by the Congregational Church of Lisle, N. Y. It was accepted. He graduated May 10, was married May 23 to Miss Carrie M. Young, of Aquebogue, L. I., and began his pastorate over the church at Lisle May 29. This pastorate, which was marked by the most cordial relations between pastor and people, continued for four and a half years. A call came from the North St. Church at Middletown, N. Y., which was accepted. After two years service in this field, Mr. Luce was invited to become pastor of the Geddes Church. He was installed April 10, 1894.

SOUTH AVE. CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

This church is in its infancy as a Congregational church, it having had a short life in another denomination. When the New York Home Missionary Society assumed charge of the organization in January, 1893, things were at a low ebb. For four months the enterprise was carefully nurtured by Rev. Lemuel Jones of this city, general missionary of the society. In June of that year the first pastor, Rev. O. C. Crawford, assumed charge. During the first year the Sunday school and other departments of the work had remarkable growth. In October, 1893, the church was regularly organized as a Congregational church, and Mr. Crawford ordained to the gospel ministry.

The field is a difficult one, but a great work has been accomplished among the young men of the neighborhood, drawing them into the congregation and organizing them into a society by themselves. Christian Endeavor and other young people's societies have shown encouraging developement. Rev. Mr. Crawford resigned in June, 1895, after two years of service. His departure was much regretted by the church and community. Both he and his excellent wife have left a lasting impression for good upon that part of the city. The present pastor, Mr. Morgan Millar, a member of the senior class in Syracuse University, also a member of Plymouth church, has just begun his work, but in a way that gives great promise of success.

MR. MORGAN MILLAR.

Morgan Millar, pastor of the South Avenue Congregational Church, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 19, 1869, and is of Scotch parentage. His education was received at Trinity School, New York City; Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, New Jersey, and Syracuse University. Prior to his coming to this city, Mr. Millar resided in Boston, Mass.

LUTHERAN CHURCHES.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF ST. JOHN.

This congregation was organized Christmas, 1838. During the summer preceding the organization, the late Rev. J. Muchlhaeuser of Rochester preached here several times. On the 18th of December, 1838, the Rev. George J. Kempe reached Syracuse and began to hold regular services on the 25th of December in the "session room" of the First Presbyterian Church. On that day church officers were elected and the congregation organized under the name of "The Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. John," and a constitution was adopted. In January, 1839, the church was incorporated. At the close of the year 1839, differences arose among the members, the congregation at that time being composed of Lutherans and German Reformed. In the spring of 1840 a compromise was entered into regarding some verbal expressions in the Lord's Prayer. In January, 1841, Rev. Mr. Kempe resigned, and Rev. Charles Rechenberg was elected his successor. Shortly after his entering upon his duties as pastor the Reformed element sought to have more concessions made, and their wishes were conceded. Peace, however, was of short duration, for the same party desired the name "Lutheran" dropped, whereupon the pastor and his adherents resolved to continue under that name, and in 1843 the congregation divided, the Reformed element stepped out and organized the Evangelical St. Peter's Church and erected a church edifice directly opposite to St. John's Church. Two years later a certain Rev. George Saul, who was expelled by the Ministerium, caused another division in the mother church, but this new congregation soon after disbanded. The beginning of the history of St. John's Church characterizes its future fate and the developmet of the German Protestant Church in Syracuse. Discord and divisions have occurred periodically. The first church, a frame structure, was dedicated on April 11th, 1842. In 1843 a parochial school building was erected near the church on Butternut street, and a school was maintained over twenty years, until the third division of the congregation in 1863 weakened the church, and the parochial school could be maintained no longer. On April 23, 1855, the late Rev. F. W. Weiskotten was called to the pastorate of St. John's church. The parochial school building was enlarged, the congregation was received into membership of the Ministerium, and a new constitution was adopted. On Sunday, December 28, 1856, shortly after the morning service, the church was set afire and burnt to the ground. The congregation, though suffering by the withdrawal of former members, was not discouraged, started to erect another church edifice, the present building, a massive brick structure, 80x48 feet in dimensions, that will seat 600 people. At the close of the year 1857 this new church edifice was dedicated to the service of God. Rev. Weiskotten had a very difficult position, still with faithful, persevering work the congregation steadily increased in membership. His pastorate ceased with his death on May 22, 1863. Several candidates were now proposed to the congregation by the president of the New York Ministerium, and when the time for election of a successor arrived some members moved that the name of Rev. Steinhauer, who had tried to force himself upon the congregation, be placed on the list of candidates, and this motion was carried by 82 votes against 30. At the election 80 votes were cast for Rev. Steinhauer, and four of the seven trustees of the church thereupon barred out the newly elected pastor with his adherents. This was the second great division of the church, and this new congregation organized itself under the name of "Zion's Evangelical Lutheran Church," and erected a church on the third corner, opposite the mother church. Only 27 families remained in St. John's congregation, and these few families called the late Rev. C. H. Thomsen as pastor in 1863, who served the congregation very faithfully. In 1864 the congregation built a parsonage next to the church, and the debt on the church was reduced. Rev. Thomsen died in May, 1877. His successor was the Rev. L. Koenig, during whose pastorate changes were made in the church service.

In March, 1880, the Rev. J. Nicum was called and accepted. During the early part of his ministrations several changes were made in the constitution and great troubles arose in the congregation, the outcome of which was another division in the church, which occurred in January, 1885, when the opposing party organized St. Mark's Lutheran Church. In 1883 the debt on the church had increased to $1,000, and this debt was cancelled in December, 1886. Rev. Nicum resigned his pastorate in 1887, and his successor was the Rev. G. A. Bruegel, who served until the fall of 1890, when the present pastor, the Rev. Carl C. Manz, was called. The congregation is to-day in a flourishing condition and has a communicant membership of about 400. In 1894 a debt of $250, which was contracted during the former pastorate, was cancelled, and many improvements have been made at the parsonage. The pastors of the church were: Rev. G. J. Kempe, 1838-1841; Rev. C. Rechenberg, 1841-1855; Rev. F. W. Weiskotten, 1855-1863; Rev. C. H. Thomsen, 1863-1877; Rev. L. Koenig, 1877-1879; Rev. J. Nicum, 1880-1887; Rev. G. A. Bruegel, 1887-1890; Rev. Carl C. Manz, January 1, 1891.

The Ladies' Society has a membership of 46.

The Luther League has a membership of 120 young people and has the following officers: President, Rev. C. C. Manz; vice-president, W. J. F. Wiegand; secretary, Miss Clara K. Harth; financial secretary, H. J. Thomasmeyer; treasurer, E. F. Muser, jr.

REV. CARL C. MANZ.

Rev. Carl C. Manz was born October 20, 1859, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. His parents were natives of Germany, his father being a clergyman. He first attended a parochial school, and afterwards the public schools at Clarence Center, N. Y., and at Lyons, N. Y. In 1873 he entered the college of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of New York at Newark, N. Y., where he took up the study of foreign languages besides the regular branches of education. He remained at the college but one year, and returning home he received private tuition until in September, 1876, when he entered the classical department of St. Matthew s Academy at New York city, graduating from that institution on July 3, 1879. In September of the same year he entered the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia, Pa. From June 15, 1881, to September 15, 1881, by recommendation of the theological faculty he supplied the German-English Evangelical Lutheran Church at Beaver Falls, Pa., in the absence of the regular pastor. Returning to the seminary he was recommended by the faculty to the Rev. Dr. Geissenhainer, of New York, to supply in his stead the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Hainesport-Mount Holley, N. J., during the winter of 1881 to 1882. He was graduated from the theological seminary at Philadelphia in May, 1882, and was ordained to the gospel ministry on June 18, 1882, during the convention of the Ev. Luth. Ministerium of New York, at Rochester, N. Y., where his parents reside. On May 14, 1882, he received a call to the pastorate of the Ev. Lutheran Church at Newburgh, N. Y., and entered upon his duties as pastor June 23, 1882. The church at Newburgh was his first regular charge, and he found the congregation both financially and numerically in a very poor and weak condition, but by patient and persevering work he left the church in a healthy, prosperous condition.

In October, 1890, he received a call to the pastorate of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. John at Syracuse, and entered upon his duties as pastor in January, 1891.

ST. PETER'S GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

This congregation was organized in the year 1843 with thirty families, and was incorporated August 6th in the same year. After organization the congregation purchased a building lot on the northwest corner of Butternut street and Prospect ave., at a cost of $300, the site being opposite the present church, on which a wooden structure of worship was erected, which was afterward moved to the present site. In 1860 a fire destroyed this edifice, whereupon immediately a brick structure was erected at a cost of $12,000. In the course of fifty-two years the congregation has had ten pastors, as follows: Rev. Hemmerer, Steiner, Hesselman, Feysel, Fix, Zischka, Solden, Pick, Henckell, and Rev. Johannes Schaefer, the present pastor, who has served the congregation for the last twelve years.

Rev. Hemmerer served as pastor from 1843 to 1046, Rev. Steiner from 1846 to 1850, Rev. Feysel from 1850 to 1852, Rev. Fix from 1852 to 1858, Rev. Zischka from 1858 to 1860, Rev. Solden from 1860 to 1870, Rev. Pick from 1870 to 1874, Rev. Henckell from 1874 to 1883, and Rev. Johannes Schaefer from 1883 to the present time.

During Rev. Emil Henckell's administration three bells were placed in the tower of the church by the Sunday school, and since that time the church has made remarkable progress.

The number of communicants reached its highest point in the year of 1889, there being 890 partakers of the Lord's supper. At the present time the congregation consists of 400 families of the most prominent Germans of this city. The church has several societies in good standing, which aid the congregation in all its undertakings. The present pastor has organized a Y. P. S. C. E. Society, which is in a very properous condition. The Sunday school was organized under the administration of Rev. B. Pick. The same is attended by 450 to 500 children, it being the largest Sunday school in the city. Rev. Johannes Schaefer is the superintendent and Joseph H. Rees the assistant superintendent. Fifty able teachers instruct the children in the spiritual ritual of the Evangelical doctrine. The Sunday school is controlled by a Board of Trustees, consisting of the pastor, the three elders, and three members of the S. S. Teacher's Society. The present Board is governed by the following officers: Rev. Johannes Schaefer, ex-officio; Joseph H. Rees, president; Arthur Schlichter, secretary; William Senk, Jr. treasurer.

REV. JOHANNES SCHAEFER,

Pastor of St. Peter's German Evangelical Church, was born in Württemberg, Germany, on the 21st of February, 1851. He was educated at home, but his theological studies he made in Bâle, Switzerland, and was ordained in Mühlhausen, Alsace, the 27th of September, 1874. A few months later he parted for his first congregation in Espirito Santo, Brazil, among the German colonists of that country, which to this day call their pastors from the motherland. Miss Emilie T. Schlachter, from Bâle, whom he married the 17th of December, 1874, went with him there, where they arrived on the 21st of February, 1875. Nearly five years he devoted his time and work to his countrymen in Brazil, after which he went to the United States, and again worked five years in Rome, N. Y., as pastor of the German Trinity Church. In 1884 he accepted a call to fill the pulpit of St. Peter's Church of this city, which position he retains until this day.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN ZION'S CHURCH.

Corner Prospect Avenue and Butternut street. The church was built as a frame building in the year 1863. There had been differences among the members of the German Evangelical Lutheran St. John's Church, and a part of them decided to leave this congregation and to start a new one under the guide of the new elected pastor of the old church, Rev. C. E. Steinhauer. The congregation was organized under the name, The German Evangelical Lutheran Zion's Church, and this new organization held its services at the beginning in various halls and for a time in the German Evangelical St. Peter's Church, until the new church had been erected opposite the old mother church. Rev. C. E. Steinhauer was in charge of the congregation until the year 1869. In the year 1868 the church building was destroyed by fire and the young but steadily growing congregation resolved to erect a stone building and the present structure bears testimony of the interest taken by the founders of the congregation. The following year Rev. C. E. Steinhauer, the first pastor of the church, resigned and was succeeded by Rev. A. Oberlander, who took charge in 1869 and served the congregation until 1893, when his resignation tendered to the congregation in January to take effect on the 15th of April was accepted. He was succeeded by Rev. H. G. Dattan, the present pastor, who was elected by an unanimous vote of the congregation and preached his first sermon on the 30th of April, 1893. The congregation is now in a flourishing and prosperous condition and the prospects for the future are bright and promising. Connected with the congregation is a Ladies' Society of about ninety members and a Young People's Society of about one hundred and fifty members. The Sunday school is composed of forty-seven teachers, among them the president and treasurer of the congregation and three hundred and thirty scholars. God bless the members of our beloved Zion's Church.

REV. HERMANN G. DATTAN.

Rev. Hermann G. Dattan was born on the 25th of January, 1853, in Rudersdorf, a small village in Germany, near Weimar, a most famous city in the old Fatherland. He grew up in the house of his parents, and his father being a minister of the gospel himself undertook the education of his young son until he reached the age of fourteen years, and after his confirmation he left home and entered the gymnasium at Weimar. At Easter 1872, after a five years' course in this institution, he entered the University of Jena, graduating in 1875. He also attended the University at Halle, and after passing his theological examination he was immediately ordained to the gospel ministry and by the highest officials of the church was appointed assistant pastor of the Court Chapel in the capital of the country, Weimar. There he remained until 1877, when he became pastor in Neckeritz from 1877 to 1882. Then he took charge of the pastorate in Stadtlengsfeld, staying there till 1887, and of the pastorate of Niederreissen 1877 to 1890. In this year he decided to give his services to the Lutheran church of this country, and by the recommendation of the Diaspora conference, under the auspices of General Superintendent Trautvetter-Rudolstadt he emigrated to this country and took charge of the German Evangelical Lutheran Grace Church at Buffalo, N. Y., joining the ranks of the Evangelical Lutheran General Synod as a member of the New York and New Jersey Synod in 1890. In 1893 he received a call from the Evangelical Lutheran Zion's Church here, which he accepted, working here since the 30th of April, 1893, hoping and praying that his beloved master Jesus Christ will build his kingdom by his weak strength as much as possible and will bless his work more and more.

FIRST ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH.

On Sunday morning, June 1, 1879, I met a band of young Lutherans in the court house, and there preached my first sermon in Syracuse, on "The Profitableness of Godliness." In the evening my subject was, "Christ Becoming Poor that We Might be Made Rich"—and as I recall those times and our humble beginning, I recognize a fitness in my texts and discourses. For some time previous to my coming, services had been held at stated intervals in the old Y. M. C. A. hall and the court house. A few weeks later I became their pastor, and a permanent organization was effected at a regular congregational meeting by the adoption of the constitution of the New York and New Jersey Synod, thus becoming a part of the General Synod of the English Lutheran Church in the United States. The officers were duly elected and installed, and one member of the original Board of Trustees is still serving the church in the same capacity. We held our regular services in the court house without interruption for seventeen months, including our Wednesday evening prayer meeting. The court room at that time was much larger than at present, and here we held our first confirmation services on Good Friday evening. The house was filled to overflowing, and I recall those services as being of the most impressive character, when eighteen young persons were received into fellowship with the church by the solemn and ancient right of confirmation. Of that number more than one-fourth have passed into the church triumphant in Heaven. There we held our preparatory services and celebrated the Holy Communion, but I could never entirely escape the irresistible associations of the secular surroundings, and I am pursuaded that no place is so favorable for devotional thought and feeling as the churchly House of God; for just as the outward elements in the Lord's Supper appeal to the senses as well as to the heart, and awaken corresponding thoughts and feelings, so do the surroundings of the place conduce to devout worship, or distract by the secular appearances and associations. Hence it was with deep feelings of joy and gratitude to the Father of all our blessings, that on Sunday, October 31, 1880, we were able to hold our first service in our present church, a temple dedicated to the worship of God on that memorable morning. The Rev. George Neff, D. D., president of the New York and New Jersey Synod, preached the dedicatory sermon, and there was great fitness in the day, it being the birthday of the Reformation, when Martin Luther nailed the 95 theses against the church door at Wittenberg, in which he publicly attacked the abuses of the Romish Church and challenged a public discussion. The following Sunday I preached my first sermon in our church from the text which found a ready and joyful response in every heart. "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord," Ps. CXXII: 1. We made the mistake of dedicating our church wholly on faith instead of paying off the mortgage when all were so anxious for a place of worship in God's own sanctuary. In time we atoned for the mistake, and long ago all the debt was paid and the property freed from every incumbrance. The English Lutheran Church was greatly needed in Syracuse, and should have been organized many years before. It was the suicidal policy of the conservative Germans in some of the churches in opposing the organization of English Lutheran churches that caused the loss to our church of so many of our anglicized people and has made the work so difficult. The linguistic prejudice was a grievous mistake on the part of some of our fathers, as though the doctrines of Luther as taught by Christ and the apostles could not be expressed in the English language. Language does not affect Lutheranism any more than it does God's truth, for our church is founded upon the Divine Word, and holds "the Word of God as the only infallible rule of faith and practice, and the Augsburg Confession as a correct exhibition of the fundamental doctrines of the Divine Word." Fortunately those blind and fatal prejudices are now numbered among many other evils of the past, and our Lutheran church is having an almost phenomenal growth, as Dr. Carroll has shown us in his national census of all the churches in the United States.

for whilst the rate of increase of all the Protestant denominations in this country between 1880 and 1890 was 42 per cent., that of the Lutheran church was over 78 per cent.,—almost double that of the other Protestant denominations. More than 16 years have passed away since the people and pastor united together in consecrated effort to do the Lord's work in the First English Lutheran Church. We have conducted our work in a scriptural and churchly manner, without any of the questionable and sensational methods that prove a snare to those who seem to have more faith in extravagant "clap-trap" methods than in the Gospel of Christ which Paul preached and which he declared to be the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth. Our church places special stress upon the religious training of the young, and for more than six months every year the pastor meets with these in the chapel and instructs them carefully in the fundamental, moral and saving truths of our holy religion using Luther's Catechism as the text-book, so that they may commit important passages of scripture, as well as definitions of doctrines and proofs, and thus "be able and ready always to give an answer to every one that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you." In these weekly meetings, in addition to the instructions, we seek by prayer and personal interview to lead them all to a saving knowledge of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus, that they may experience the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, and thus having an experimental knowledge of divine truth, and power to become the sons of God, henceforth grow in Christian life and efficiency in the church and home. There has been a steady, normal growth in the spiritual development of the members that is manifested in unmistakable fruits; and if giving is a test of spiritual life and activity, then we have this one hopeful indication to be thankful for, inasmuch as only one church in the New York and New Jersey Synod contributed as much for missionary purposes a year ago as did our own congregation, and yet we did it all in a quiet manner, and without begging. Our communicant membership exceeds 350, and there are hopeful indications for large accessions the coming year. We have always had peace and harmony, and our only trust is in the great Head of the Church.

JEREMIAH ZIMMERMAN,

Pastor First English Lutheran Church, was born near Snydersburg, Carroll county, Md., April 26th, 1848. His father, Henry Zimmerman, a well-to-do farmer, was born at the same place, as well as his ancestors on the paternal side for a number of generations. He attended the public school of the village; then spent two years at the military school of Irving College, Manchester, Md., and two more years at the missionary institute at Selins Grove, Pa. He then entered the sophomore class of Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa., where he was graduated with honorable mention in 1873. In September following he entered the theological seminary at the same place, where he was graduated in 1876. While pursuing his studies during the last year he received calls to three different churches, and in April accepted the call to the Lutheran church at Valatie, N. Y. In January, 1877, he married M. Adele Springstein. One year later he resigned his charge and spent the year traveling abroad, visiting Egypt, Palestine and the countries of Europe. In 1879 he came to Syracuse, N. Y., where he organized the First English Lutheran Church. Since then he has devoted his time to the duties of the ministry, seeing the work of his denomination prosper, until there are eight Lutheran churches. Mr. Zimmerman was twice a delegate to the General Synod. In 1889 he made a second extended trip abroad. He has devoted much of his time to the historical evidences of Christianity and the Bible, and has been interested in the study of archaeology. He has followed with a keen relish all the important discoveries made by the Egypt and Palestine exploration societies. His name appears in the "Scientist's Directory" under the subjects of bibliography and archaeology. For some years he has devoted attention to the study of the historical coins of ancient Greece and Rome, and delivered an address before the annual convention of the American Numismatic Association in 1893 at Chicago on "The Historical Value of the Ancient Coins of Greece and Rome." In vol. I of the Standard Dictionary, immediately following the editorial staff, special acknowledgement is given to "Rev. Jeremiah Zimmerman for valuable aid in the preparation of the table of coins and moneys of account, given under coin." On January 21, 1890, he married Sophia Elizabeth Amos. Dr. Zimmerman made a third extended trip through Europe in the summer of 1894. He is an honorary secretary of the Palestine Exploration Society and an associate member of the Victoria Institute or Philosophical Society of Great Britain.

METHODIST CHURCHES.

REV. THERON R. GREEN, A. M., PRESIDING ELDER OF THE SYRACUSE DISTRICT OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Rev. Theron R. Green was appointed to his present position in 1871. His field of supervision includes forty-five pastoral charges and three missions. He is president of the Syracuse Methodist Preachers' Meeting, composed of about sixty ministers, and is also president of the Board of Control of the Syracuse Deaconess Home. Mr. Green was born in South Sodus, N. Y., in 1845. His early education was received in public schools and in the Red Creek and Sodus Academies. He prepared for college at the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary from which he entered Genesee College and was afterward graduated from Syracuse University with the degree of A. B., subsequently receiving that of A. M. in course. In 1894 he was president of the Alumni Association of the University. During the past ten years he has been a member of the board of trustees of the Cazenovia Seminary. Converted at the age of fifteen, he soon thereafter united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and in 1867 he was duly licensed to preach the Gospel. Subsequently he united with the East Genesee Conference and in regular course was ordained deacon and elder respectively by Bishops Simpson and Ames. Previous to entering the ministry he was for two years principal of the Gowanda Union High School, which position he relinquished only at the imperative call of what he deemed to be his real life work. As a pastor his ministry has been fruitful in all the churches that he has served. His pastoral appointments have been as follows: East Palmyra, N. Y., Wall Street Church in Auburn, N. Y., Pleasant Street Church in New Bedford, Mass., Marcellus, N. Y., Cazenovia, N. Y., Clifton Springs, N. Y., Centenary Church, Syracuse, and Canandaigua, N. Y. Mr. Green is now serving his second district as presiding elder. In 1885 he was appointed to the Cazenovia district, but after one year resigned the position because of impaired health. Syracuse district, of which he has had the charge during the past four years, involves large responsibility and much labor. The office of presiding elder in the Methodist Episcopal Church is quite exceptional in many respects and is but little understood by other denominations of Christians or by the general public. Its duties include the looking into every detail of the spiritual and financial life of every church in a given district, advising the Bishop at conference as to pastoral appointments, and, in the interim between the annual sessions of the conference, visiting every charge quarterly to ascertain all needful facts pertaining to its interests both local and as related to the general church. Syracuse district is making marked progress in all departments both in city and country, and its steady expansion calls for increasing labor and the most careful supervision on the part of the presiding elders.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The first sermon of a Methodist preacher in the village of Syracuse was given by Edward L. North in 1823. The place was a school house situated about where the First Baptist Church now stands. Father North was a local preacher, and a carpenter by trade. The next year, 1824, Rev. Mr. Luce, a conference preacher, organized a society with nine members. During the infancy of the society the people worshipped in upper rooms over grocery stores, blacksmith shops and dry goods stores. In 1828 they used a log school house, situated on North Salina street, about midway between the sites where now stand the Empire House and West Shore Station.

In 1835 the society felt themselves strong enough to undertake the support of a pastor, and V. M. Coryell was stationed at Syracuse without other appointments. During his pastorate there was a glorious revival with some 150 conversions. The immediate result of the revival in a material way was the building of a church where the present one now stands, at that time on the very outskirts of the village, on rather low, marshy ground.

Bro. Coryell, in his memoirs, relates a curious incident that occurred in connection with the rearing of the steeple of the newly built church, which Father Pease, one of the leading members, thought "was a just judgment of God and a manifestation of his wrath against the building of steeples, especially tall steeples, on Methodist churches." On raising one of the bell deck timbers, it slipped through the ropes and fell to the ground, seriously injuring one of the men. After the steeple was completed and a lightning-rod duly attached, but while the lower end was left dangling in the air a flash of the electric fluid struck the steeple and shattered it into pieces. The steeple was repaired, but before the scaffolding had been removed a whirlwind struck it, twisted and broke the steeple at the bell deck and threw it to the ground. It was a day of triumph to Father Pease. No further effort was made to rebuild the steeple and it was afterwards finished at the bell deck. The church was dedicated in 1837.

The pastorate of Rev. James Erwin, beginning in 1845, is specially memorable for two reasons: It was during his pastorate that about 30 members left the First Church to form a separate charge at Geddes; and also that a revival of marvelous power and lasting results took place. The limited space allowed forbids the mention of the successive pastors. It is interesting to note that no trustee meeting was held from January 1833 to January 1857, but that a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for some purpose connected with the church. For the past five years the First Church has contributed yearly the following amounts: For pastor, $2,500. Running expenses, $2,200. Methodist Union, $350.00. Y. M. C. A., $250.00. Regular benevolences, $1,975.00. A yearly total of $7,500.00, or a total for five years of $37,500.00. This mother church of Syracuse Methodism has ever manifested a tender and fostering care towards those struggling off-spring for whom she herself has travailed and sacrificed. And to-day she is bravely bearing burdens which would speedily sink a church less unselfish and less tried. So this loyal church, time tested and fruitful, dauntlessly sets her face towards the future confident that her latter days shall be even better than her former days, and that He who has so long led her forward will not betray her faith.

REV. JAMES B. KENYON, LIT. D., PASTOR FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

James Benjamin Kenyon was born in Frankfort, Herkimer county, N. Y., April 26, 1858. His boyhood was passed in the Mohawk Valley. He was graduated from Hungerford Collegiate Institute in 1874. For three seasons following he taught school. In 1878, at the age of twenty, he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church. With the exception of two years spent in New York city as manager of a lecture bureau, he has been in the pastorate since the time when he first received a license to preach. He has been successful in the pulpit, having risen rapidly from the poorest to the best appointments in the conference. He usually preaches without notes. He has published several volumes of poems, the first one appearing when he was only sixteen years of age. The title of his first book was, "The Fallen, and Other Poems." "Out of the Shadows" followed in 1880; "Songs in all Seasons" in 1885; "In Realms of Gold" in 1887, and "At the Gate of Dreams" in 1892. He has been a contributor to the "Atlantic Monthly," the "Century," "Lippincott's," "Manhattan," and "American" magazines and to other publications. In 1892 the honorary degree of doctor of letters (Lit. D.) was conferred upon him by Syracuse University. He is also a member of the Author's Club, New York city. He was married January 2, 1878, to Margaret Jane Taylor, a lady of Scotch ancestry, and they have two children, a boy and a girl.

WEST GENESEE STREET METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH,

Corner Milton avenue and West Genesee street, Syracuse, N. Y. In the year 1839 Mr. W. H. Farrar and his wife, as members of the First M. E. Church of this city, came to the village of Geddes to live. Finding no Methodist church in the place, they, with a few other Christians, united in holding prayer meetings at private houses. The first of such gatherings comprised the following persons: W. H. Farrar and wife, Horatio Ward and wife, Simeon Draper and wife, Peter Coykendall and wife. A deep religious awakening was the fruit of these modest endeavors. Many of those, who afterwards became the pillars in what was known as the Geddes M. E. Church, were converted to God. About this time Rev. Aaron Cross, a young man from near Jamesville, N. Y., came to teach the public school in the old brick school house. For one year he preached to the people on Sundays. The next year Elder Bussing, a local preacher, was the pastor. Through the courtesy of the Protestant Episcopal Church the Methodists held meetings in their church edifice, which stood on "the village green" facing West Genesee street. The first regular appointee from the conference was Rev. M. Barber. In two years he was succeeded by Rev. Ezra Squires. Up to 1852 the Protestant Episcopalians and the Methodist Episcopalians occupied the church of the former on alternate Sundays. From the years 1851 to 1854 inclusive, the following pastors respectively served the charge, one year, Revs. C. S. Braydon, Dr. Arnold, Reuben Reynolds and A. S. Wightman. In 1855, under the administration of Mr. Wightman, a very commodious wooden church was erected at a cost of $2,000 on the corner of what is now Milton avenue and West Genesee street. The Protestant Episcopal Church, having abandoned their services for many years, the Methodist Episcopal Church was the only Protestant denomination in Geddes, N. Y. The society was so prosperous that in 1870, with Rev. W. H. Annable as their popular and efficient pastor, the present elegant and substantial brick structure, at a cost of $30,000, was erected. By its side, during the pastorate of Rev. Milton Hamlin in 1884, was built a modern and attractive parsonage. Last year the church was renovated and improved at a cost of about $2,000. The society is out of debt, has a large membership, its church is centrally located on a main street, and both its past history and present well-doing are a source of satisfaction to patronizing and resident citizens.

The subjoined list gives the names of the pastors who have served this church with the date and years of service:

REV. A. W. BROADWAY, PH. D.

Rev. A. W. Broadway, A. M. Ph. D., was born in Blandford, Dorsetshire, England, November 16, 1854. Early in life he left his native land, and with his parents came to Ontario, Canada, where he remained thirteen years. On completing his common school instruction, with pedagogic aims in view, he was given a liberal education at the St. Mary's and Ingersoll High Schools, and the Brantford Collegiate Institute. After three successful years of teaching, he experienced a call to the ministry, which was conscientiously heeded. As a preparation for his chosen calling, he took a full course of theological training, with honors, in Canada, and in June 1880 became a member of the London Conference in "The Methodist Church of Canada." In the fall of the same year he matriculated at Syracuse University, from which he was graduated in arts in 1884 with distinction. Pursuing post graduate studies, his alma mater, on Examination in Christian Evidences, conferred upon him the degree of Master of Arts in 1885, and the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at merits the following year. The credentials of Dr. Broadway being recognized by the Central New York Conference of the M. E. Church in October, 1884, he became a member of that body. His ability as a preacher and administrator was quickly acknowledged by his brethren, and promotion was rapid. From serving the Cardiff charge, as a supply, he was sent to the First M. E. Church of Palmyra, N. Y., where he successfully advanced every interest of the society, and largely increased its membership. His next appointment was Sodus, N. Y., where in the first year of his pastorate he saw completed and dedicated, FREE OF DEBT, one of the finest and most commodious churches in the conference. In the fall of 1891 he was honored with the care of the West Genesee Street Church, of which he is at present the incumbent. During the second year a floating debt of over $1,100 was cheerfully wiped out, and then steps were taken to completely renovate and repair the church edifice and parsonage. The outlay was nearly $2,000, but at the re-opening, through the industry of the Ladies' Aid Society and the prompt, liberal responses of the people, the trustees were relieved of every farthing of obligation. The present thrifty Solvay Church is an offshoot of this society, and although it lost numerically one-fifth of its membership in the establishment of this scion, such has been the vigor of the mother church, that the loss has been more than recovered. Dr. Broadway is completing strongly the fourth year of his labors in the interest of this influential West End parish.

CENTENARY METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The centennial year of American Methodism, 1866, was a time of marked interest in the history of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Several of her great benevolent societies came into existence through the general impulse which the celebration of that event gave to the entire church. The Methodism of Syracuse was touched by this same spirit. This led to an expansion of the field within the city. In keeping with this general feeling, that the work of the church should be broadened and prosecuted more vigorously, plans were laid for the occupation of a new field.

In April, 1866, Rev. Ebenezer Arnold was appointed pastor of what was the original Fifth Ward of Syracuse, with the object of establishing there a Centenary Monumental Church. At that time there was no church edifice nor organization. The congregation even was yet to be gathered by pastoral industry. The newly appointed pastor could find no place in which to live within the bounds of his charge, and was obliged to take up his residence with a brother pastor in the First Ward.

There was not even a public hall to be had for the holding of services. There were two chapels, however, within the Fifth Ward, one which was owned and fully occupied by the Protestant Episcopal Church; the other, Hope Chapel, was owned by the Baptists and occupied a part of each Sabbath by a Young Men's Christian Association Sunday School. This was hired for a part of each Sabbath, and the work of gathering a Sunday School and congregation begun.

After a time the place of meeting was changed from the chapel to the second story of the Pike Block, corner of South Salina and Fayette streets. About a half dozen families decided to enlist in the new enterprise. The Missionary Society of the church granted an appropriation of $500 for the pastor's use.

On July 16, 1866, the lot on South West street, near Onondaga, where the church now stands, was purchased by Rev. A. J. Phelps, the presiding elder of Syracuse district, and Rev. E. Arnold, the pastor, in behalf of the as yet unorganized society.

A subscription was opened for the erection of a church building. In January, 1867, about forty members of the First M. E. Church asked to be transferred to the new society to aid in forming the "Centenary Church."

The society was organized in that year by the election of the following Board of Trustees: S. A. Daniels, B. W. Baum, S. D. Richardson, Thomas Talbott, Edward Drake, T. D. Camp, A. N. Palmer, L. J. Ormsbee and Aaron Schermerhorn.

Subscriptions to the amount of $13,000 having been secured, the site purchased, the foundation laid and the walls partly built, the corner stone was laid by Bishop Jones at the time of the assembling of the annual conference in Syracuse, in April, 1867.

At this session of the conference Rev. Elijah Horr was appointed pastor of the new church. The following year the fine substantial brick structure, which still adorns the site, was finished and dedicated, the entire cost being about $37,000. During Mr. Horr's pastorate large numbers were added to the church, and it came to a prominent position among the churches of the city.

In 1870 the Rev. Jesse T. Peck was appointed pastor. His able sermons and wise administration proved of great value to the young organization. In 1872 Dr. Peck was elected one of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Rev. Manley S. Hard was sent to fill the vacant pastorate.

His marked Christian activity and faithful attention to all the details of his work and his social qualities made him a favorite with all, and his work resulted in large accessions and growth to the church.

In 1875 Rev. A. C. George succeeded him. He was a man of marked ability, but had scarcely got settled down in his new field when his highly successful work was cut short by his tranfer, during his second year, to Wheeling, West Virginia.

For the remainder of the year Rev. Dr. Wesley F. Coddington of Syracuse University served the church to the great delight and profit of the people.

In 1877 Rev. Oscar A. Houghton became pastor. In the third year of his term of service, aided by Mrs. Maggie VanCott, a noted Evangelist, a large revival took place that added much to the numerical and spiritual strength of the church.

In 1880 Rev. Benjamin Shove was appointed to Centenary Church. His faithful attention to the affairs of the society, and his kind services to the poor and the sick are still gratefully remembered. He was followed in 1883 by Rev. Augustus W. Green, whose strong scriptural preaching made a lasting impression on the minds of the people.

In 1886 Rev. Theron R. Green succeeded his brother. During his term a gracious revival was enjoyed and the large and convenient Sunday school rooms and parlors were added to the church building, making it one of the finest in these particulars in the city.

In 1889 Rev. Theron Cooper was appointed pastor. His faithful and solid work along all the lines of church enterprises resulted in steady growth and prosperity to the society.

The present pastor, Rev. J. C. Nichols, was appointed in 1893.

REV. JOHN C. NICHOLS.

Nichols. Rev. John C., son of James and Sarah

(Benton) Nichols, was born in Minisink, Orange County. N. Y., November 10, 1848, and prepared for college at Claverack Seminary in Columbia County. He entered the Syracuse University and was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1875, after which he became a member of the Central New York M. E. Conference, being assigned to the pastorate of the M. E. Church in Cicero, where he remained two years. His subsequent pastoral charges have been as follows: Elbridge one year, Amber two years, Borodino two years, Marcellus three years, Newark three years, Geneva three years, Auburn district one year, and Towanda, Pa., one year. Since October, 1893, he has been stationed at Syracuse as pastor of the Centenary M. E. Church in South West street. Mr. Nichols was married on March 22, 1876, to Miss Julia E., daughter of Chauncey B. Laird, of Memphis, by whom he has one son, Ralph L.

UNIVERSITY AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

Dempster Methodist Episcopal Church, now called University Avenue, was founded in the year 1869. Some services had been previously held by the pastor of the First M. E. Church, and in 1868 a Board of Trustees was elected, but was never legalized. On the eighth day of June, 1869, a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing a religious society according to the forms and usages of the Methodist Episcopal Church, notice of such meeting having been given according to law. Pursuant to the statute, two chairmen and inspectors of election were appointed, consisting of Senica B. Settle and Charles W. C. Howe.

Nine trustees were duly elected as follows, viz.: Senica B. Settle, W. K. Wicks, W. H. Bell, S. B. Ward, Archibald Haggart, Charles H. Fitch, A. L. Robinson, Roswell O. Brown and Richard Titus.

Rev. T. B. Shepherd received the appointment of pastor of the new society. Rev. C. P. Lyford had initiated the enterprise as a mission from the First Methodist Episcopal Church, and in its new relations it received help from the missionary society until it was able to care for itself.

The first place of worship was a little chapel, capable of holding about two hundred persons, situated on the corner of East Fayette and Chestnut streets, where now stands a block of dwellings called East Fayette Place. Steps were immediately taken for the purchase of the lot on the corner of East Genesee and Walnut, now University Avenue, where the church now stands.

On the second day of March, 1870, the place of worship was changed from the chapel to the Good Templars' hall in the Seager Block, and the society united with the Good Templars in the purchase of carpet for the hall.

Rev. C. P. Lyford was appointed pastor while the society worshiped in Seager Hall.

The corner stone of the church was laid August 31, 1870; Presiding Elder A. J. Phelps officiated. Rev. D. D. Love, D. D., then editor of the Northern Christian Advocate, delivered an address. Rev. Dwight Williams read a poem. Both address and poem are preserved in the church records

At the fourth session of the Central Conference held at Cortland, in April, 1872, Rev. J. T. Gracey was appointed pastor and saw the church dedicated, remaining until the conference of 1873 in October, the time of holding the session having been changed from spring to fall.

The first service was held in the basement on Sunday, April 28, 1872. Rev. Daniel Steele, D. D., vice-president of the Syracuse University preached from Luke 24:47.

The dedication of the church occurred on the twelfth of December of the same year. Bishop Matthew Simpson preached one of his transcendent sermons. The text was from Hebrews 9:4. Bishop Peck preached in the evening from John 1:4. The church is valued at $60,000. Its seating capacity is 1200.

The name was changed September 10, 1872, from Dempster to University Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. In October, 1873, Rev. D. W. C. Huntington D. D., was appointed pastor and Rev. William Reddy, D. D., was Presiding Elder. In 1876, Rev. Theron Cooper became the pastor. Rev. J. D. Adams, D. D., came as pastor in 1879. Three years later the Rev. Dr. Wilbor was appointed as pastor. The Rev. L. F. Congdon, D. D. followed in a five years' service, the time limit having been extended during his pastorate. In October, 1890, the Rev. J. H. Willey, Ph. D., was appointed, having been transferred from the Wilmington Conference, Maryland.

BETHANY MISSION.

Bethany Mission is situated in the Fourth Ward of the city on the corner of Sherwood Avenue and Henderson street.

The Mission is practically associated with our church, though under the control of the Syracuse Methodist Episcopal Union. The work is thoroughly organized and in a thrifty condition.

Preaching services are held every Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M; Prayer Meeting Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

The Sunday school has a membership of 198 with an average attendance of 120 and holds its session Sunday afternoon at 3:00. On the roll of its officers and teachers appear the names of some of our own able workers.

The Epworth League holds its meeting Sunday evenings at 7:00 and has twenty-one members with a Junior League of thirty-five members.

JOHN HESTON WILLEY.

John Heston Willey, A. M., B. D., Ph. D., was born in St. Michaels, Md. His parents were descendants of an old English family. He became a member of the Wilmington Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1878, and after filling some of the most important pulpits of that conference, and seeing more than a thousand souls converted under his preaching, he was transferred to the Central N. Y. Conference and placed in charge of the University Avenue Church, Syracuse, in 1890. Dr. Willey is a graduate of the Illinois Wesleyan University, and of Drew Theological Seminary, which latter institution gave him the Degree of Bachelor of Divinity. He also has taken a two years' post graduate course in English Literature and Christian Evidences at Syracuse University, receiving the Degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. He is at present arranging to take a course in the Philosophy of History in one of the German universities.

He has been a frequent contributor to the press and is regarded as a poet of fine taste and keen susceptibilities. In addition to this he has published a work on the Relation of Science to the Bible, and has now in preparation another on The Revelation of God in History. Mr. Willey was a member of the Advisory Council of the World's Fair Parliament of Religions, and is also a member of the American Institute of Christian Philosophy.

He was married April 27th, 1892, to Miss Ella Marie Stickney of Albany, associate founder with her mother of the Stickney Home for Indians in the State of Washington. For several years Miss Stickney was Secretary of Supplies of the Troy Conference, and now occupies the same position in the Central N. Y. Conference. Dr. Willey is peculiarly favored of God in having a helpmeet of queenly grace and culture.

In social life, in the pastorate, in the pulpit or on the platform he stands equal to the very best. His sermons are spiritual, logical, picturesque, abounding in the choicest illustrations and delivered with the grace of the finished orator. His style is polished, original and scholarly. He is also a most inspiring singer and leader of sacred song, frequently writing his own music. The University Avenue Church has greatly prospered during his ministry. W. S. T.

BROWN MEMORIAL CHURCH.

The beginnings of Brown Memorial Church were on Magnolia street, near the present Nelson Street M. P. Church. So far as the data at hand shows, the first preaching in this virgin territory was by Rev. A. S. Wightman, a preacher of the Wesleyan connection, in 1867. Mr. Wightman soon abandoned the field and was succeeded in the pioneer work by Rev. Gustavus M. Pierce, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Geddes. Under the pastoral care of Mr. Pierce a class was formed, a Sunday school organized, and in 1868 a chapel built. At the annual conference of 1869 Magnolia chapel was made a part of the Simpson charge or chapel parish of Syracuse, and Rev. T. B. Shepherd appointed "preacher in charge." In the year 1870 the small, but growing society, asked to be recognized as a full-fledged church, and demanded a resident pastor. These requests were granted and Rev. Robert Brewster was appointed to "Magnolia, Syracuse." The society soon discovered that they had made a mistake in location; there was not room for growth. "It was clear to pastor, people, and the outside world, that that sidehill never could become the location of a strong and self-sustaining church." Consequently a lot was secured on Geddes street, near the present site, and on March 2, 1873, the pastor, Rev. Ebenezer Arnold, "gave a discourse upon the situation." On the last point he showed the obvious call of duty at our new locality, and the utter hopelessness of Magnolia as a strategic point and then, showing the movable nature of our chapel (standing on posts) only a temporary structure at best, he blew the trumpet of Israel and announced that the church had "long enough compassed this mountain and that the pillar of fire and cloud was assuredly about to move southeasterly, and exhorted Israel to strike camp and march, and then, with a loud voice, sang 'Old Israel.'" The meeting ended in full and rapturous consent to "take up their baggage and go. That week the chapel moved!"

Brown Memorial Church, which took the place of the "movable" chapel, was erected in 1876, during the pastorate of Rev. E. M Mills, D. D. It is very favorably located at the junction of Davis and Geddes streets, and has already become too small for the needs of its rapidly growing membership and Sunday school. A new auditorium is soon to be built on the vacant lot adjoining.

REV. WILLIAM H. LATIMER.

Rev. Wm. H. Latimer was born of Scotch-English parentage in Homer, Cortland county, N. Y., in 1858. After his conversion, at the age of eighteen, he spent some time in mercantile pursuits in the village of Cortland, N. Y. This work not proving congenial he accepted the position of assistant secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, Harrisburg, Pa. In the year 1885 he was appointed by the Central N. Y. Conference pastor of the M. E. Church at Delphi, Onondaga county, N. Y. Since his first appointment he has successively served the following charges: East Syracuse, N. Y., First Ward, Syracuse, and is now serving his fourth year as pastor of Brown Memorial Church, Syracuse, N. Y. His work at Brown Memorial has been greatly blessed in the large additions to the membership, the rapid growth of the Sunday School and the reduction of indebtedness on the church property. Mr. Latimer received his education at the State Normal School, Cortland, and at the Boston University School of Theology.

tuted the first board of trustees. In March, 1871, a small church edifice was completed and dedicated by Bishop Jesse T. Peck.

The Sabbath School was organized and superintended by Spencer Beard during several of the early years of its history.

For a time preaching services were conducted by temporary supplies. In 1874 Rev. Wm. Reddy, D. D., Presiding Elder of Syracuse District, secured the appointment of a regular pastor by the bishop then presiding over the Central New York Conference. The following is the list of pastors: Elijah Wood, J. M. Wells, Charles H. Bennett, John Easter, Jay N. Taft, E. C. Bruce, W. H. York, Charles M. Eddy, D. D. Campbell, C. E. Jewell.

The present beautiful edifice was erected in 1886, during the pastorate of Rev. W. H. York. The membership now numbers 352.

Within the church there are several organizations for Christian work.

The Ladies' Aid Society—President, Mrs. Henry Cox; secretary, ——— ———; treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Benedict.

Y. P. S. C. E.—President, Charles McDowell.

The King's Daughters, with two circles—The Rebecca Circle, with Mrs. E. R. Benedict, matron; the Dorcas Circle, with Mrs. Minnie Green, matron.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society—President, Miss Sarah Banta.

Woman's Home Missionary Society—President, Mrs. C. M. Hodgkins.

Sunday School Missionary Society—President, Miss Annette Moore.

Sunday School numbers 450. Superintendent, E. R. Benedict; assistant, Alfred Day; secretary, Agnes Reed; treasurer, Clara Johnson.

The following constitute the official board of the church: C. W. C. Howe, F. Z. Wilcox, O. E. Hayden, B. F. Fellows, E. R. Benedict, C. J. Jeffrey, E. C. Meacham, L. H. Bennett, C. P. Edwards, W. W. Storkweather, M. Huhes, W. P. Rogers, Charles Aikey, Alfred Day, Morris Lydell, C. P. Hayden, Rev. E. C. Bruce, Rev. F. W. Tooke, Rev. H. Anderson, Rev. Hoyt Hill, Rev. E. Rockwell, S. J. Clarke, D. L. Marshall, Ira S. Wright.

REV. C. E. JEWELL.

Rev. C. E. Jewell was born in the town of Marcellus, Onondaga county, N. Y., November 18, 1853. He was the seventh of a family of eleven children, nine boys and two girls. He received his education at Falley Seminary, where he was converted at the age of fifteen, Cazenovia Seminary and Syracuse University. Being obliged to provide his own means for paying his way in school, he had quite an extended experience in teaching before entering the ministry. He joined the Central New York Conference in October, 1879. He has served the following churches: North Lansing, Freeville, Butler Center, Owasco, Fleming, Seneca Falls.

ERWIN MEMORIAL METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Corner of Bassett and Hawthorne Streets, 14th Ward.

In May, 1889, the Erwin Memorial Church began its work as a mission on Hawthorn street, near Bassett street, in an unfinished dwelling house in process of building owned by Alfred Gough.

The late Rev. James Erwin was appointed by the Presiding Elder of Syracuse District, Rev. W. H. Annable, as the pastor.

The present site of the church was purchased, and a building commenced at once. It was finished and dedicated August 18th of the same year, and the congregation took possession. The Sunday School numbered about 50, and a congregation of about 75 persons, old and young, was gathered. Nov. 25, 1891, a meeting of the society was held for the purpose of organizing as a church and conference appointment.

The Presiding Elder was present and encouraged the movement, and announced that by the authority of Bishop W. X. Nuide he would then organize them into a conference appointment, and would appoint Rev. James Erwin as preacher in charge. The quarterly conference was formed by the appointment of Adelbert Acker and Lewis Manchester, class leaders, John S. Falk, Edwin L. Chapin, Russell D. James, Alfred Gough, Irving K. Webb, Henry L. Baker, Alson W. Horton, Caleb Dawe, Albert E. Doxee and Joseph Gill, stewards.

The building has since been enlarged to double the seating capacity, now seating 350. The society has 155 full members and 23 probationers. The Sunday School numbers 231. The Epworth League of 85 members is doing excellent work. The society is spiritual, enthusiastic and aggressive.

REV. W. H. ANNABLE.

Rev. W. H. Annable was born at Little Falls, Herkimer county, N. Y.; was educated at the academy in that village; entered the Traveling Ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1861. He joined the Black River Conference in the spring of that year. He became a member of the Central New York Conference by the rearrangement of the conference boundaries, and has served several of the most important churches within its bounds, among which are the Auburn First Church, Syracuse West Genesee street, also the First Church, Syracuse, and the First Church in Cortland. Mr. Annable has filled the position of Presiding Elder eight years, superintendent of Syracuse M. E. City Missions one year, and has been secretary of the Syracuse Methodist Episcopal Union since its organization six years ago. He has been actively engaged in the City Evangelization Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States, being one of the charter members of that organization. The founding of seven missions and the erection of chapels for their accommodation has been principally under his direction. Twenty-six years ago Mr. Annable came to this city as pastor of what is now the West Genesee Street Church, and sixteen years of that time he has been stationed in the city. He is still vigorous in health and active in all the work of the church.

THE LAFAYETTE AVE. METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Lafayette Ave. Methodist Episcopal Church began its existence December 22, 1889, in the organization of the Brighton Mission in the 11th ward under the auspices of the Furman St. M. E. Church.

The movement was the result of a deep conviction of the need of the work.

At the first service the Rev. W. H. York, pastor of the Furman St. Church, preached.

On the 28th of September, 1890 the Sunday School was organized with 48 scholars.

In 1891 the mission was adopted by the Syracuse Methodist Episcopal Union, becoming a part of the City Mission Church.

In November, '91, the property on Lafayette Ave. which had been occupied as a mission by the Fourth Baptist Church was purchased. During the winter an extensive revival broke out, resulting in the conversion of about seventy-five, the majority of whom joined the church.

In May '92 the Sunday School room, which for the present is serving as an auditorium, was completed and dedicated by the Rev. T. R. Green, Presiding Elder. At the session of the Central New York Conference in Oct. '92 Lafayette Ave. Mission became a church with seventy members and Rev. W. H. Annable was appointed pastor, who served as such for three years. From the beginning the work has been signally blessed of God and has steadily grown in numbers and interest.

Much of the credit for the success of this movement is due to the Rev. W. H. Annable whose zeal and wisdom are seen in the careful, painstaking and judicious manner in which the foundation of this church was laid, and upon which a strong and vigorous society is seen to rise.

REV. WALTER S. WRIGHT.

Rev. Walter S. Wright was born near Jordan in the town of Elbridge, N. Y., Sept. 16, 1864. His early life was spent on a farm.

He attended the district schools and afterward the Jordan Academy, where he spent several years, preparing for life's work, little realizing what that work would be.

After completing his academic course he engaged in business until the time of his conversion, when he felt called to the work of the christian ministry. He soon began the work of preparation, studying nights and working in a store during the day, and preaching occasionally, having received a local preachers license.

He prepared for college under the private tutorship of Prof. J. W. Chandler, then principal of Jordan Academy, but circumstances would not permit him to enter at that time.

In the fall of 1888 he was appointed as a supply at Cicero, N. Y., by the Rev. W. H. Annable, Presiding Elder, where he served very successfully for three years, during which time the society took on new life and many were added to the membership. He then served three years as pastor at Mottville and Skaneateles Falls, where the membership was largely increased and church property much improved.

In October, 1894, he was appointed pastor of the Lafayette Ave. M. E. Church in this city, where he has thus far very acceptably labored.

OLIVET M. E. CHURCH.

BY A CHARTER MEMBER, JUNIUS W. STEVENS.

The history of Olivet Church up to the present time, November 30, 1894, is the story of the struggles of a small band of young people, with only here and there one who had reached middle life, who left Salem Evangelical Church with the purpose of founding an English mission. There was a large section of the city in the vicinity of Butternut street that was thickly populated with English speaking people, while it was entirely without an English church. If we would understand the course of Olivet's history, we must keep constantly in mind the purpose of its founders, to start an English church for English speaking people where no such church existed, and where hundreds of people never entered one of God's houses.

Thus far Olivet has been emphatically a young people's church. Of the fifteen members who founded it, not more than four or five were of age, and not more than two of these had reached the age of thirty. Perhaps this is the reason why we have always had such an enthusiastic membership. For this same reason the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor has been so closely interwoven into the life of the church that it is impossible to write a history of the church without including that of the society.

Those who left Salem Church immediately formed themselves into a class to be known as the Bethany Evangelical Church. Brother Schlenk of Salem Church presided, and afterwards preached on several occasions. Brother Thomas R. Jordan was chosen our first class leader. On the evening of September 17, 1890, the members of the class met, and after prayer meeting, organized a Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. These officers were elected: President, Thomas R. Jordan; vice-president, Frederick J. Strebel; recording secretary, Miss Anna Schield; treasurer, Herman Rex; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Jordan. The home of Brother Strebel, 716 McBride street, had been offered to the class to be used as a place of meeting. There both class and society were formed, and there meetings were held for some eight or ten weeks. The Y. P. S. C. E. had a membership of about sixteen, and the Sunday School consisted of twelve scholars. The charter members of the church are as follows: Thomas R. Jordan, Frederick J. Strebel, Herman Rex, Albert Horn, Edward Haun, Mrs. Mary Jordan, Miss Anna Schield, George Strebel, H. Augustus Eiler, Charles A. Yates, Junius W. Stevens.

The work went on until about the middle of November, 1890, when a room in the Gilcher Block, 608 Butternut street, was rented. Immediately many people began to attend the meetings, curious to see what was done in the new mission. Such ministers as could be secured from Sabbath to Sabbath filled the pulpit. Among these were Rev. Bro. Horn and Rev. Daniel Miller. During the month of December, 1890, eighteen members were added to the Y. P. S. C. E. Between December 14, '90, and January 25, '91, the Sunday School increased from thirty-five to eighty-four. The Sunday School superintendent was Thomas R. Jordan, the secretary, Edward Haun, and the treasurer Junius W. Stevens.

About May, 1891, a more suitable room was rented in the Schilly Building, 805 Butternut street. Soon after Joseph Reynolds preached for several weeks, and was then followed by Raymond W. Lowry, an energetic young man, who remained in Olivet for some months. This pastor helped greatly to put the mission on a firm basis. After Brother Lowry left Olivet, Rev. W. H. Annable, superintendent of Methodist missions in Syracuse, preached once each Sunday, while the other service was supplied by various ministers. Brother Annable had been chiefly instrumental in bringing Olivet into the Methodist Episcopal branch of the church. The value of his services to the mission then and afterward cannot be over-estimated. Some of those who filled the pulpit then were: Brothers Southall, Rockwell, Handsay, Andrews, Stewart Scott, Gardner, and Dr. Warren of the Northern Christian Advocate. At this time Deaconess Esther Linter first came to Olivet. She has remained with us, excepting one year, and has done very much toward helping Olivet through its darker days. Her visits among the people have been very helpful, and the church owes much of its success to her untiring faithfulness. During this time Olivet was a mission under the care of the First M. E. Church, from whose members much help was received.

When the arrangement with Brother Annable came to an end, Brother Edwin Carr of Syracuse University was engaged as pastor, and during his ministry Olivet enjoyed some of its truest prosperity. With him the members worked and planned for a church building. Desirable lots were very scarce, and prices were high. At last the Methodist Union offered to buy a lot and build a church if the members of Olivet would raise $1,000. This seemed an impossibility. The actual workers who could be depended upon were very few. But they went to work with a will and raised all but $175 of the required amount. Then matters came to a standstill, until the loyal Y. P. S. C. E. came to the rescue. The young people had raised $100 with which to furnish their parlors in the church building that was to be. They now voted to give up to the building fund, not only the $100 for which they had worked so hard, but also the rest of the money in their treasury. This gave the building fund a new start, and soon more than the required $1,000 was secured. The Olivet News, a monthly paper published in the interest of the church now appeared, and was continued through thirteen numbers. But before our church building was secured Brother Carr left us, and N. G. Warren, another University student, took his place in the spring of 1893. At last, June 25, 1893, the Olivet Mission Church worshipped God in its own building. Only the Sunday School room in the rear of the church was completed, but every member was supremely happy, remembering that only about two and a half years before they were meeting in a private house, with no pastor. N. G. Warren preached the first sermon in the new building.

About the middle of July, 1893, Naboth Osborne took the place of Brother Warren, and was very successful in his work as pastor. He remained at Olivet until the conference of Central New York appointed Rev. W. L. Bryers as the first regular conference pastor of Olivet. Brother Bryers began his pastorate October 22, 1893. At the annual meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Union of Syracuse, the following report for Olivet Mission was given: "Olivet Mission, three years old. Sunday School membership about 140; Christian Endeavor Society, 32 members. Raised during past year for building fund, $1,200.00; for current expenses, $260.69. Total for the year, $1,460.69. Were it not for the Union, and for the energy and hard work of its superintendent, Bro. Annable, we to-day would be without a church, but with their help we have as pretty a chapel as any mission in Syracuse, and ever since its completion we have felt like singing, 'Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow.' Our chapel has an auditorium that will seat 300 people, a Sunday School room, an infant class room, a choir gallery and two Christian Endeavor parlors." Brother Bryers soon determined to furnish the auditorium, which was still empty. Meetings had been held in the Sunday School room. With tireless energy he and the members of Olivet labored to secure this desired end, and at last on March 25, 1894, Olivet Church was entirely furnished. The church was dedicated on this day at 3 o'clock. Rev. T. R. Green, Presiding Elder, delivered the dedicatory sermon. After staying at Olivet a year, Brother Bryers was succeeded by Brother Geo. L. Rosenberry, the present pastor, who came October 21, '94. He is successfully carrying on the work so well begun. November 29, 1894, he preached the first Thanksgiving Day sermon ever delivered at Olivet, from the text, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

This brings the history of Olivet down to the present time. Thomas R. Jordan has always been a true leader in every department of the work. Without him Olivet would hardly be in existence. Charles Jordan has given liberal financial aid, and among many loyal members who have helped in the darkest hours and have "done what they could" are: H. A. Eiler, Miss Josie Erlenback, Miss Anna Tuttle, Miss Anna Bahr, Miss Carrie Bahr, Miss Nellie Nyhart, Misses Florence and Clara Bauer, Augustus Strebel, Mrs. Mary Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Erlenback, Mrs E. H. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siler, John Hoffman, Deaconess Esther Linter, Junius W. Stevens, Messrs. Wm. and Frank Haun, Miss Gertie Schneider.

GEORGE WASHINGTON ROSENBERG.

George Washington Rosenberg was born in Mifflin county, Pa., on the 14th of September, 1869. His boyhood days were spent upon the farm. At the age of 19 years he began teaching in the public schools. He afterward attended the Central State Normal School at Lock Haven, Pa., finishing the course as far as the end of the junior year. He then entered Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, Pa., from which school he was graduated in 1894, being valedictorian of his class and taking the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In the fall of 1894 he took up some work in Syracuse University, and is continuing his studies there at the time of this writing.

THE AFRICAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL ZION CHURCH,

Located on Crouse Avenue, was organized July 4th, 1842, by Rev. Thomas Jones with the following officers as trustees: John Lyles, P. P. Jackson, William Jenkins, John Decato, Nathan Nelson, Peter Hornbeck and Joseph Bristol and a number of others as members. They held their meetings in private houses until they purchased the lot on which the church now stands, in 1848 from Charles Brease and his wife Hannah. The following trustees purchased the lot, viz.: Prince Jackson, Charles Myers, Richard Wandall, Frances Key and John E. Foster. They erected a church on said lot which was dedicated to the service of Almighty God, by Bishop Christopher Rush. Among the pastors who served this church were Revs. Thomas Jones, John Toppan, John Lyles, Rev. W. H. Decker, Rev. S. D. Tabot, Rev. John Anderson, W. Cromwell, Rev. John A. Williams, Rev. J. W. Loguen, J. H.

REV. W. H. ROSS.

Burley, John Thomas, Rev. J. C. Lodge, Rev. J. C. Gilbert, Rev. J. E. Mason, Rev. N. E. Collins, Rev. I. Stewart, Rev. W. A. Ely and others. Some of the above named ministers served as pastor several terms.

REV. M. H. ROSS.

Rev. M. H. Ross, the present pastor, has been appointed pastor of this church three times. He was first appointed to Syracuse in 1867. He was again appointed in 1887 and served three years. He was removed to Elmira, N. Y., and after serving that society acceptably four years, he was reappointed to the A. M. E. Zion Church in this city. Rev. M. H. Ross was born in Friendship, Annerimdol County, Maryland, 1835. He had the advantage of a common school education. While young he was placed under the tuition of Rev. R. L. Dashields, D.D., president of Dickinson College, where he was proficient in his studies and theological training until he entered the ministry. In 1857 he was licensed to preach in the Methodist Episcopal Church under the late Bishop M. Simpson, D.D., and preached among the slaves, and in the city of Baltimore before the war, and continued to preach until the breaking out of the Rebellion. He enlisted in the 109th N. Y. regiment under Col. B. F. Tracey, and was with him in the Battle of the Wilderness. He came to Oswego, N. Y., with Col. Tracey and resided there. In 1864 he joined the conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church in Elmira, N. Y., and has been an active member in the A. M. E. Connection, and has filled some of the largest and most prominent stations in the Connection. He has held stations in Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Chambersburg, Pa., Rochester, Ithaca, Wilkesbarre, Saratoga, Troy, N. Y., Elmira, N. Y., Newburg, Kingston, and has traveled extensively in the south and Canada, and is considered among the best theologians in his church, and is highly respected by all who know him, and especially among his present congregation. Residence, 404 Irving street.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The original site of the First Presbyterian Church was on the northeast corner of Salina and Fayette streets, where the new dry goods store of D. McCarthy & Co. now stands. The church edifice was a plain, wooden structure, clapboarded and painted white, with green outside blinds, two stories high, and surmounted with a spire of moderate height. This edifice was for many years the only one in the block enclosed by Washington, Fayette, Warren and Salina streets. The certificate of the incorporation of this church society, as recorded in the county clerk's office, was executed and recorded December 22, 1824, "before David S. Colvin, a commissioner, etc." The building was erected in the summer of 1825, and dedicated in January, 1826. The society consisted at its formation of 26 members. Rev. John Watson Adams, at that time a student in Auburn Seminary, was invited to preach a few Sundays, with a view to settlement at a salary of $600 a year. He accepted the invitation, and the result was that he was ordained and installed pastor of the church June 28, 1826. His pastorate closed with his death, April, 4, 1850, in the fifty-fourth year of his age. Dr. Adams was a man of scholarly attainments and warm friendships, and a preacher whose views of divine truth were lucid, comprehensive and sound.

In January, 1846, steps were taken for the erection of a new church edifice, and in June of that year the building was commenced on the present site. The celebrated architect, Lefever, submitted the plans. The church was erected at a cost of about $40,000, and $10,000 has since been expended upon it. It was dedicated November 26, 1850. The old church was torn down in April, 1850, and just as the last timbers were removed the venerable and beloved Dr. Adams passed from earth. Rev. Chas. McHarg of Cooperstown, N. Y., was installed in December, 1850, and resigned in December, 1851. From that time until May, 1854, the church was without a settled pastor. The pastorate of Rev. Sherman B. Canfield extended from May, 1854, until October, 1870, when he resigned on account of ill-health. He died the following March. Dr. Canfield was a man of great logical power, sturdy in his opinions, inclined to be conservative, and at times very eloquent.

In May, 1861, the meeting of the General Assembly of the New School Presbyterian Church of the United States was held in this church, Rev. Dr. J. B. Condit being moderator. January 26, 1870, a petition was made by some of the members to leave the church and organize the Fourth Presbyterian Church. This organization was perfected that same year, about 60 members joining the new society. Rev. Dr. Nelson Millard, of Peekskill, N. Y., was called to the pastorate in May, 1872. He was an eloquent, forcible preacher, and greatly loved and respected by his congregation. In December, 1883, he received a call from Norwich, Conn. Three meetings of the church society were held expressive of the desire to retain him, but the call to Norwich was accepted by Dr. Millard January 13, 1884. Rev. George B. Spalding, D.D., was called to the pastorate in June, 1885, and installed in October. He is a worthy successor of the eminent divines who have preceded him.

On September 30, 1894, Dr. Spalding preached a sermon on "Nine Years of Ministry," in which he reviewed the history of the church during his pastorate. The following is an extraction from that sermon:

"These nine years have been years of mutual affection and of tenderest recollection. There have been no strifes, no faction has arisen here, no party or class, no dissension or opposition has been born here. We have loved this church for all our associations, and for its actual work and service, and we have loved its members on account of their individual service. I have received from the first that pledge of your love and affection. In all our associations there has never been a single note of discord.

Nine years ago the membership of this church was 522; to-day it is 690, 280 persons having been added during that period, and 164 of that number on confession of Christ. These have been of every age, from 7 to 70 years. There have been seasons of large ingatherings, but the additions have been in the way of a constant increase, and from the ranks of the young. The Sunday school has been the harvest field of the church. Eighty per cent. of the membership of the Sunday school are members of the church; an unusual record in any church. This shows strength of character and faithfulness on the part of those who have given their work to this church. There have been 137 baptisms, and 82 children have received the sign of the Saviour's love."

Dr. Spalding touched upon the benevolences of the church and society, saying that all demands had been cheerfully met in all the varied lines of church work. When he came to Syracuse there were four Presbyterian churches, and to-day there are eight. The largest gifts to three churches, Dr. Spalding said, came from the First Church congregation. "For one of them $20,000 was given, and to-day, out of the generosity of one of our members, we are laying the foundations of what will no doubt prove to be a strong church in one of the outlying districts of the city. The church contributed largely to the establishment of the Rescue Mission, founded seven years ago, and has gladly done its share in supporting the good work done here, as well as giving to other objects which derive their support from the churches. A $10,000 debt on the First Church has been swept away."

REV. GEORGE B. SPALDING.

George Burley Spalding was born at Montpelier, Vt., August 11, 1835, the third son of James Spalding, a distinguished physician and surgeon, and Eliza Reed. The earliest American ancestors were Edward Spalding, of Braintree, Mass., and John Reed, of Rehoboth, Mass., both of whom came to America in 1630, and some of whose descendants served in the early Indian wars and in the Revolution. George Burley was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1856, studied law with Judge W. G. M. Davis, of Tallahassee, Fla., studied theology two years at Union Theological Seminary, New York, and one year at Andover, Mass., graduating in 1861. In August of that year he married Sarah Livingstone, daughter of Rev. John W. Olmstead, D. D., of Boston, Mass. They have several children.

On October 5, 1861, Mr. Spalding accepted a call to the Congregational Church at Vergennes, Vt., where he remained until September, 1864, when he removed to Hartford, Conn., to accept the pastorate of the North Church, now known as the Park Church, and on September, 1, 1869, he became pastor of the Congregational Church at Dover, N. H. In 1881 he established the "New Hampshire Journal," the State organ of the Congregationalists, and was its editor for several years. He was chairman of the School Committee of Dover, president of the trustees of the State Normal School, member of the Constitutional Convention of New Hampshire, and in 1877 representative of the city of Dover in the State Legislature and chaplain of that body. Mr. Spalding accepted a call to the Franklin St. Congregational Church of Manchester, N. H., in 1883, and to the First Presbyterian Church of Syracuse in 1885. During his pastorate here he has been elected trustee of Auburn Seminary and of Hamilton College, and vice-president of the American Tract Society. The degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Dartmouth College in 1878, and of L. L. D. by the Syracuse University in 1891. Dr. Spalding has published several valuable religious and historical works.

THE FIRST WARD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The First Ward Presbyterian Church was originally organized March 20, 1810, by the Presbytery of Geneva, as a branch of "The United Church of Onondaga Hollow and Salina" and Rev. Dirk C. Lansing became the pastor of the United Church. At a meeting of the Presbytery of Onondaga, at Onondaga Hollow, February 25, 1812, the following record was made: "Rev. Mr. [Dirk C.] Lansing requested this Presbytery to dissolve the connection which exists between him and the congregation at Salina: Presbytery being satisfied of the concurrence of said congregation with him, granted his request, and appointed him to declare the dissolution to them, and that congregation vacant."

This record clearly shows that the church at Salina was regularly organized and had an installed pastor in 1810. As a branch of "The United Church of Onondaga Hollow and Salina," it was afterwards supplied chiefly by Rev. Caleb Alexander and Rev. James H. Mills, till January, 1822.

January 23, 1822, "The United Church of Onondaga Hollow and Salina" was divided by the Presbytery of Onondaga, and the First Presbyterian Congregation of Salina was organized separately with thirty members.

February 5, 1822, the Presbytery of Onondaga, being met in the First Church of Onondaga, on Onondaga Hill, made the following records: "Dr. Ward Basset requested that the Church of Salina be received under the care of Presbytery, which request was granted; and Dr. Basset accordingly took his seat as a member."

"The Presbytery of Onondaga adjourned to meet at Salina on the 2d Wednesday of March [Mch. 13, 1822], at 11 o'clock a. m.

The special purpose of this meeting was the installation of Rev. Hutchins Taylor, first pastor of "The First Congregation of Salina."

Following are the names of the pastors (P.) and regular stated supplies (S. S.) of the new organization:

Hutchins Taylor, P.,	March 13, 1822—Sept. 7, 1826.
Henry Hotchkiss, S. S.,	March 2, 1827—Nov. 2, 1827.
Hiram H. Kellog, S. S.,	Nov. 2, 1827—Feb. 27, 1829.
James J. Ostrom, P.,	May, 1829—April 1, 1833. (Installed June 24, 1829.)
Joseph I. Foote, P.,	Aug. 23, 1833—July 6, 1835. (Installed Sept. 25, 1833.)
Hutchins Taylor, P.,	May 16, 1836—Dec. 25, 1839. (Installed the second time, July 20, 1836.)
Joseph Myers, S. S.,	Dec. 1, 1839—May, 1844.
Elias Clark, S. S.,	May, 1844—January, 1845.
Thomas Castleton, S. S.,	August 20, 1845—Jan. 30, 1849.
John Jay Slocum, S. S.,	July 1, 1849—June 15, 1850.
Wm. W. Newell, D D., P.,	Oct. 15, 1850—Jan. 15, 1860.
J. B. Condit, D. D., S. S.,	January, 1860—October, 1861.
Lewis H. Reid, D.D., P.,	Nov. 3, 1861—April 26, 1868.
H. M. Simmons, P. E.,	Sept. 3, 1868—April 11, 1869.
John H. Frazee, D.D., P.,	Dec. 20, 1869—Sept. 15, 1874. (Installed Sept. 14, 1870.)
A. H. Fahnestock, D.D., P.,	Jan. 24, 1875. (Installed April 27, 1875.)

The Presbytery of Syracuse, as constructed by the Synod of Utica, and by the order of the Synod, held its first meeting and was organized in this church, September 13, 1870.

The church has now 260 members, a Sunday School numbering 314, and a Christian Endeavor Society with 112 members.

REV. ALFRED H. FAHNESTOCK, D. D.

The Rev. Alfred H. Fahnestock, D. D., was born near Valley Forge, Pa., February 26, 1842, and is seventh in descent from Diedrich Fahnestock who, in 1726, left his ancestral home in Halten, Prussia, to come to America. Mr. Fahnestock entered the College of New Jersey in 1864, and ranked as the first scholar in his class. In his Freshman year, he was chosen to write the Ode of Welcome for the Centennial of the Cliosophsic Society. The same year, he received a prize for English poetry, and a Junior Orator prize, in 1867. He was graduated as salutatorian of his class in 1868, and in 1871 was elected by his class and also by the college faculty, to deliver the Master's Oration. This honor, however, he declined because of his being at the time a teacher in the college. He was a tutor in the college from 1870 to 1873. He studied theology for three years in Princeton Seminary, and graduated in 1871. In 1872, he married Miss Elizabeth Wight Van Duyn, of Princeton, N. J., and they have twin daughters and one son. Mr. Fahnestock has written many poems which have been published in leading literary periodicals and journals. Some of them appeared, together with his portrait, in the Syracuse number of the Magazine of Poetry. He has published "The Autograph Thanksgiving Souvenir," and "The Bride's Gift to Her Friends." Both received high tributes from the press. A sketch of his life is given in the fourth volume of "The National Cyclopedia of American Biography." Very unexpectedly to himself, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him in 1894, by Washington College, Tennessee. Mr. Fahnestock has been Stated Clerk and Treasurer of the Presbytery of Syracuse for thirteen years, and pastor of the First Ward Presbyterian Church of Syracuse, since January, 1875. The church which he has served so long, is in a most flourishing condition, and gave beautiful and substantial expression to their high appreciation of their pastor on his twentieth anniversary, an occasion which was signalized also by the presence and participation of seven other pastors of the city and vicinity.

PARK CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Park Church was organized December 24, 1846, with thirty-nine members. Syracuse was still a village, but increasing population demanded additional church opportunities, and this new Park Church was the logical result of this demand. The First Presbyterian Church, organized twenty-two years before, had been the only Presbyterian church in Syracuse. Plymouth Church was not yet born. The First Baptist was the only church of that faith in the village. Of the Episcopal churches, St. Paul alone was then existing, so that it can be seen that the organization of a second Presbyterian church was a distinct mark of the progress of Presbyterian sentiment here, in those earlier days when denominational lines were drawn with more emphasis than now.

Church—not a stepdaughter either—and also she is the residuary legatee of a Congregational church, which lived a short troubled life, and then gave up the ghost.

The new organization worshipped in the Town Hall and under Rev. C. Gold Lee, the first pastor, a very respectable congregation and a large Sabbath school were gathered together. In the meantime a site had been purchased on the west side of Mulberry street, where the Eagle drug store now stands, and a new church was being erected. This was the original Park Church, which was dedicated February 3, 1848.

While the building was in process of erection the Rev. Mr. Lee surrendered his charge, and Rev. W. W. Newell was chosen to the pastorate. Mr. Newell resigned in October, 1850, to take the pulpit of what is now the First Ward Presbyterian Church. Up to this time the church had struggled bravely against great difficulties of debt. But at the coming of Rev. Byron Sunderland—now Dr. Sunderland, of Washington—the church began to grow strong. Mr. Sunderland was a young man, full of force and piety, and his preaching attracted general attention, so that there came to be gathered about the new pastor a compact body of earnest men. However, Mr. Sunderland in 1853 was called to Washington, where he has since remained, and after his withdrawal the Park Church passed through several years of great financial embarrassment. In January, 1855, the church property was sold under a foreclosure of mortgage, and by a subsequent arrangement with the purchaser it came into the possession of a new society, reorganized from the old. The Rev. S. H. Hall was pastor of the reorganized church. But he resigned in 1856. He was followed by Rev. S. T. Reeves as a temporary supply. The financial depression of 1857 threw the church into further trouble, and in order to continue its existence it joined the Old School side of the Presbyterian church. This step was taken with the gravest fears and misgivings. The Old School was not in accord with the liberty loving sentiment of this Northern congregation. Yet this new connection did not prevent in the slightest degree the fullest expression of loyal conviction, which rested in the hearts of these earnest Christians. On the contrary, the church now became steady in its progress. Rev. Isaac O. Fillmore became pastor in 1858, and remained until 1865, and his pastorate was the first of any considerable length since the church was organized.

Then, after a brief interim, during which the lamented Prof. Pierce of Auburn supplied the pulpit with the result of a gracious revival, the Rev. Addison K. Strong, D. D., was called to this church. Dr. Strong was a man possessed of elements of peculiar force, and under his ministry the church prospered greatly. Large additions were made to the membership. Improvements were carried on, and the entire organization was practically renewed. Revivals were almost constant, and it was seen that at last the time had come for the church to move forward into larger places and attempt its greater work.

Dr. Strong resigned in 1870, but was immediately followed by one of his former parishioners, Rev. Edward G. Thurber, D. D., who remained with his congregation nearly nineteen years.

To Dr. Thurber's personal influence, to his unique personal qualities, to his faithful preaching, and to his remarkable gifts as a pastor, and also to his most accomplished wife, the Park Church owes an unspeakable gratitude.

The old church building was now entirely inadequate to the need of the congregation. A new edifice was planned, and the corner stone of the present structure was laid September 9, 1872. The new church was completed and dedicated June 24, 1875. Through the years of Dr. Thurber's pastorate the church prospered until it attained its position in the front rank of Syracuse Christianity. Dr. Thurber resigned February 1, 1889. In a few weeks a call was issued to the present pastor and accepted by him, taking effect April 29, 1889. Since that time the church has grown in every direction of Christian effort and work. Extensive improvements have been made and the church stands in Syracuse, second to none, in character and force and usefulness.

The contributions of Park Church for benevolent purposes deserve special mention. From a report submitted to Presbytery in March last, the following figures are taken: Total benevolences in 1893, $9,888; 1894, $11,413; 1895, $11,976; showing large increase in spite of "hard times." The average for the present year is almost $24 per member. It may be added that Park Church for growth of benevolence stands in an honor list of twenty-five churches in the Presbyterian denomination.

LORENZO MASON CLARKE.

Lorenzo Mason Clarke was born at Canandaigua, N.Y., in 1859. His father was for nearly thirty years the principal of the Canandaigua Academy, and an educator well known through the entire State.

His mother was a Vermonter, in the sixth generation of descent from Gov. Wm. Bradford of the Plymouth Colony, and from Major-General John Mason, the conqueror of the Pequods.

Mr. Clarke pursued his preparatory studies at the Academy in his native place and entered Amherst College in the fall of 1877, afterwards graduating in the class of 1880. For the next two years he taught Latin and Greek in the school where he had formerly been a student. He entered Auburn Theological Seminary in 1882, and graduated with the class of '85. During his senior year in the seminary he was called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Wolcott, N. Y., and the call was accepted. Mr. Clarke was thereafter ordained to the ministry and installed pastor of this church in June, 1885. After four years in this pastorate, Mr. Clarke accepted a call to his present charge, the Park Central Presbyterian of Syracuse, and was installed May 16, 1889.

In November, 1885, he was married to Miss Maude Fowler, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

[The very cordial relations existing between Mr. Clarke and the Park Church were shown by a recent event. A call was about to be extended to him by the Fort Street Church of Detroit. Park Church held a meeting and passed resolutions expressing their sincere love and esteem for their pastor and urging him to remain with them. Mr. Clarke promised to remain with the church for another period of six years, at least. Thereupon the church granted him a vacation of three months; and a few days later gave him a voluntary offering of more than $1,000. He is spending the vacation (and the money!) in a European trip.—Editor.]

FOURTH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Fourth Presbyterian Church was organized a quarter of a century ago, the Presbyterians of this city up to that date having been satisfied with the fact that there were only two churches of that faith in the city, viz., the First and the Park, the latter being organized in 1845. In the latter part of 1869 Rev. S. B. Canfield, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was called upon by a couple of members of his church, who counseled with him as to the advisability of forming a new society. The result of the interview was the assurance by the reverend gentleman that he would not only favor the project, but would call a meeting of his congregation to consider the subject. Soon after, a preliminary meeting was held in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., and after that Dr. Canfield called a meeting in the chapel of the First Church to consider the project. The pastor presided. After a full discussion the matter was favorably received, and at a meeting held on January 27, 1870, the preliminary organization of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Syracuse was perfected. Elder T. E. Hayden presided at this meeting, and S. H. Starin and H. H. Munger acted as secretaries. Seventy-five persons petitioned the Presbytery of Syracuse to organize them into a church, committees were appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the permanent organization, and it was unanimously resolved to extend a call to Rev. John S. Bacon of Amboy to become the pastor. On February 2, 1870, the Fourth Church was formally organized at a meeting of the Presbytery, the exercises being held at the First Church. Dr. Canfield made an address, and eighty-one persons united with the new organization. On the Sunday following, February 6th, the first services of the new organization were held in Conservatory Hall, corner of Warren and Fayette streets. Rev. John S. Bacon preached, and at the close the Sunday School was organized with a membership of 100 scholars and 12 teachers. The first elected officers of the society and Sunday School were as follows: Pastor, John S. Bacon; elders, E. T. Hayden, John Reed, M. A. Shumway, H. C. Hooker, Timothy Hough; deacons, Edwin Miles and Ira A. Thurber; clerk of sessions, H. C. Hooker; treasurer of benevolent contributions, Timothy Hough; trustees, H. L. Duguid, R. N. Gere, D. S. Hubbard, Charles Chadwick, Charles Hubbard, E. G. Lathrop, E. F. Rice, L. Brigham, E. R. Sanford; president, H. L. Duguid; secretary, William C. Anderson; treasurer, Charles Hubbard; Sunday School superintendent, Timothy Hough; assistant superintendent, H. H. Munger; secretary and treasurer, William C. Anderson; librarians, S. H. Starin, Arthur P. Yates; library committee, W. C. Anderson and Mrs. Edwin Miles.

The new society worshipped in Conservatory Hall for a few months, and afterwards removed to Convention Hall, where it worshipped for about two years, a period of time never to be forgotten by the early worshippers, the society increasing in numbers and spirit, so that it soon became evident that the time had arrived when a new and commodious edifice was needed. The present sight was selected, and on a Sunday morning soon after the lot had been purchased, an appeal for contributions was made, which resulted in the pledging of the sum of $30,000. Work was at once begun on the new edifice, which was dedicated on the 27th of February, 1873. Many new families at once identified themselves with the society, and the Sunday School was soon crowded out of the rooms in the rear of the church into the main auditorium.

After a successful pastorate of five years Rev. John S. Bacon resigned, and for about one year thereafter the church was supplied by Rev. Herrick Johnson, D. D., temporarily, when Rev. W. H. Gleason of Newburg accepted a call to become the pastor, but remained only a short time, being compelled to relinquish the work on account of failing health. Dr. Herrick Johnson again came to the rescue, and remained until Rev. Dr. Norman Seaver of Brooklyn was called and entered upon his duties in September, 1877. After a pastorate of eight years, Dr. Seaver resigned to accept the pastorate of a newly organized church in St. Paul, Minn. Rev. J. S. Riggs supplied the pulpit for a few months, when the Rev. W. A. Rice of Canandaigua accepted the call of the society and entered upon his duties in December, 1886. In September, 1889, Mr. Rice resigned his pastorate to accept a position as one of the secretaries of the American Tract Society.

A call was then extended to Rev. Allen D. Draper of Batavia, who accepted and entered upon his duties February 1, 1890. Mr. Draper's labors have been eminently successful, and under his ministrations the church has grown in numbers, and the financial obligations resting upon the society have been liquidated, until to-day there is only a small indebtedness.

During the twenty-five years' existence of the Fourth Presbyterian Church many changes in membership have occurred. This organization has granted letters of dismission to several delegations of its members who have desired to go out and help organize other churches. Among the churches which it has assisted in forming are the Memorial Church on Grape street, the Elmwood Church and the East Genesee Church. When the Danforth Congregational Church was organized, a number from this church residing in the southern part of the city were dismissed. The present membership of the Fourth Church is about 700, and of the original charter members who were present at the organization in 1870 only a handful survive. Of this number, some are now associated with other churches, or have moved out of town.

Of the original membership who have been with the church since its organization and are still identified with it are: Elijah T. Hayden, Timothy Hough, Charles Hubbard, Mary E. Hubbard, Helen Chadwick, Stephen H. Starin, William C. Anderson, Julia B. Anderson, Louisa Evans, Arthur P. Yates, Lucy Cankey, William H. Reed, Emma P. Bradley, John Van Duyn, Harriet S. Miles, Phebe A. Barker, William McCabe, Allen D. Roberts, Charlotte Roberts, E. Gilbert Lathrop, Louisa A. Lathrop, Sarah A. Reed, Eliza A. Hopkins and Mary A. Hopkins.

REV. ALLAN D. DRAPER.

Mr. Draper was born at Phelps, N. Y., and graduated from the Iowa State University (classical course) in 1876. Nine years later he received the degree of Master of Arts from the same institution. He graduated from Union Theological Seminary in 1879. His first charge was at Red Creek, in the Presbytery of Lyons, and he afterwards preached at Bergen and Batavia, in the Presbytery of Genesee. Mr. Draper married on December 29, 1881, Miss Bertha F. Stoutenburg of Phelps, N. Y., and they have one son—Robert Allan Draper.

WESTMINSTER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Over twenty years ago began the first efforts which resulted finally in Westminster Presbyterian Church as it is to-day. In 1873 Rev. Ebenezer Arnold of the Methodist Episcopal Church held open air religious services on Highland Park. He hoped in this way to give opportunity to the careless and non-church going class in this part of the city to hear the Gospel. The next summer a silver poplar tree on Oak street, at the corner of Highland Place, sheltered the assembly from the sun which beat too fiercely on Highland Park.

A room in the loft of a barn on Lodi street was the shelter for the congregation during most of the next summer. Mr. Frank Frey's house on Lodi street was kindly opened to the little flock for many months.

Conference recognized the Mission in 1875, and Rev. Mr. Arnold was appointed to the work. He continued his labors in this work till September 19, 1877. On September 13, 1875, the first meeting of the congregation, for the election of trustees, was held with a view to incorporation. For about five years the Rose Hill M. E. Church was regularly in the care of the Conference. Financial difficulty overtook the church, and in 1880, it was disbanded, and the church was obliged to part with its property. Its chapel, formerly the sanctuary of the Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, on University Ave., passed into the hands of a private citizen.

The Sunday School, however, was never entirely abandoned. The same chapel, still standing, (1895) on the corner of Douglas and Highland streets, was rented. Some Presbyterian people kindly promised assistance in rent, if necessary, and the work went on. Volunteers soon appeared. The records of the Rose Hill Mission Sunday School, date from 1881. The Mission had a healthy growth. Preaching services were soon had Sunday evenings.

In May, 1885, Rev. Alfred E. Myers came to Syracuse, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Association of the city. He was to act as pastor of the Scattergood Mission, now the Memorial Presbyterian Church on Grape street, and the Rose Hill Mission.

On November 15, 1886, the Presbytery of Syracuse met at the chapel, and the Rose Hill Mission became Westminster Presbyterian Church with fifty-one communicants.

Nearly one year later, the Scattergood Mission was organized into the Memorial Presbyterian Church. This ended the twofold work of Mr. Myers, who then became pastor-elect of Westminster Church October 1, 1887.

The foundations of the edifice of Westminster Church were laid in the autumn of 1886, and the sanctuary was completed in the early autumn of 1887. The lot on the corner of Graves and Douglas streets, was a free gift of Hon. Nathan F. Graves of this city. Of the $6,200.00 which the edifice cost, $5,200.00 was given by the First, Fourth, and the Park Central Churches of Syracuse. The church was not dedicated till April 23, 1891, and it was then given to God free of debt. Rev. Mr. Myers continued his labors till March, 1892, when he accepted a call to New York city. After being without a pastor for nine months Rev. George Mylne labored in the church for nine months, and on January 1, 1894, the present pastor began his work.

REV. SMITH ORDWAY.

Rev. Smith Ordway, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, was born in Jasper, Steuben county, N. Y., September 28, 1854. His father and grandfather on the father's side were both for many years elders in the Presbyterian Church.

His early life was spent on a farm. Taking a few terms at neighboring academies, at Woodhull and Canisteo, he commenced the realization of more liberal culture in Alfred University, Allegany Co., N. Y. Two years of study, frequently interrupted by demands at home, found college preparatory work well begun. This was supplemented by private study and instruction in connection with duties to the home and parents which greatly delayed progress till in the autumn of 1880, he entered the Freshman class of Princeton College, New Jersey.

Graduating in 1884, a portion of the following year was spent in Princeton Theological Seminary, and the summer of 1885, in Mission work in Hornellsville, N. Y. In the autumn of 1885 he entered Auburn Theological Seminary, and graduated from there in May, 1888.

Two weeks later he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah D. Parsell of Owasco, N. Y., and on June 1, 1888, commenced his labors in the ministry in the Congregational Church at Pompey Hill. A very pleasant and edifying work was carried on there for two years, when an urgent call from the Presbyterian Church of Marathon, N. Y., was accepted, and after three and a half years of service with this people, on January 1, 1894, response was made to the invitation of the people of Westminster Church of Syracuse, and on March 20, 1894, he was installed pastor of that church.

EAST GENESEE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The East Genesee Presbyterian Church is the outgrowth of the Hawthorne Street Sunday School, which was organized at 203 Hawthorne street April 1, 1888.

Mr. W. E. Clark was superintendent for two years, and Mr. Thomas Hooker from that time till the present.

The succeeding spring the East Avenue Hotel, at the intersection of East Genesee street and Lexington avenue, was purchased and the horse-sheds transformed into a chapel, in which the school covened just a year from its organization.

A weekly prayer meeting had been sustained almost from the first, and during the summer of 1889 a Sunday evening preaching service was commenced, being supplied by students from the University.

The temporary chapel soon proved too small, and during the summer of 1891 it was taken down, and in its place the present building erected. This is 34 by 48 feet in size, and with the gallery will comfortably seat 350.

The society was incorporated July 11, and the chapel dedicated September 10, 1891. On the 1st of the succeeding November, by an arrangement with four students in Auburn Seminary, morning and evening services were commenced. The Sunday School was held in the afternoon till March 10, 1892, when it was changed to the noon hour.

On the 2d of May, 1892, the church was organized with ninety members. There have since been received sixty-seven members. Six have been dismissed to other churches and two have died, leaving the present membership 149.

May 11, 1892, a call was extended to Rev. E. W. Miller, then instructor in church history in Auburn Theological Seminary, to become the pastor, and he was installed October 3d.

The Sunday School has an enrollment of a little over 200 members, with an average attendance of about 140. There is a thriving Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, also an efficient Ladies' Aid Society and a Missionary Society.

The church has been self-supporting from the first, but has received aid in paying for its real estate. It has borne its share in missionary work, its benevolent contributions last year amounting to over $200.00.

EDWARD WAITE MILLER.

Edward Waite Miller was born at Montgomery, Orange county, N. Y., on August 29, 1865. His father was a farmer of German extraction, the fifth in lineal succession to hold the land on which he lived. His mother was descended from the Huguenot and English settlers who early found homes in what is now Ulster and Orange counties. Of these parents the subject of this sketch is the eldest and only living child.

His boyhood was spent upon the farm. The public school in the village and the Montgomery Academy afforded him excellent opportunities to pursue his preparatory studies, and when nineteen years of age he entered the Sophomore class in Union College. He was absent from college part of his junior year, teaching a village school near his home, but returned to graduate with his class in 1887.

The first year after graduation was spent in Newburg-on-Hudson, where he held the position of principal in a school, and occupied all his spare time reading law. During the following summer, in company with another young man, he traveled in Great Britain and on the continent.

Already he had decided to enter the gospel ministry, toward which his heart had been turning since the beginning of his college days, and upon returning from abroad he entered Auburn Theological Seminary. There he spent three years as a student.

The first of the long summer vacations was devoted to work as a Sabbath School missionary in the neglected lumber districts of Central Michigan. His second summer was spent in North Dakota, preaching on a Home Mission field.

As the end of his senior year drew near, Prof. James S. Riggs of the Seminary organized a tourist party to visit Egypt, Palestine, Greece and Italy. Mr. Miller and two other students in the Seminary joined the party.

While absent on this tour, which occupied five months, he was appointed assistant to Dr. S. M. Hopkins, Professor of Church History at Auburn. The position he held for a year, at the same time pursuing post-graduate studies.

At the close of the Seminary year, May, 1892, he was invited to become acting pastor of the historic First Dutch Church in Schenectady during the absence of Dr. A. C. Lewall. While in Schenectady he received and accepted a call to become the pastor of the newly organized East Genesee Presbyterian Church of Syracuse. In September he was licensed by his home Presbytery, that of Hudson, and on October 3d he was transferred to the Presbytery of Syracuse and ordained and installed pastor of the young church, which he is still serving.

[Since this was written Mr. Miller has been invited to the chair of church history in Auburn Seminary. He has accepted the invitation, and will enter upon his duties there at the opening of the Seminary in September.—Editor.]

MEMORIAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Memorial Presbyterian Church is the outgrowth of the first mission Sunday school in Syracuse, known for many years as "Scattergood." In 1859 Mr. James Marshall, then superintendent of First Presbyterian Sunday school, found a crowd of young Sabbath breakers on Grape street, near Jackson. He proposed to them the formation of a Sunday school. The project met with immediate favor and the name of "Scattergood" was resolved upon. Through the kindness of a Mr. Hineman the basement of the Second Evangelical Church was placed at the disposal of the young organization, where muscular Christianity, at times, as well as the spiritual part of it found field for exercise. Choice and devoted workers rallied to help, and the school was at once a success. In 1861 Mr. Marshall was succeeded by Mr. A. J. Northrup, during whose superintendency a building on Monroe street, the gift of Messrs. H. W. Van Buren and T. B. Fitch, was erected on a site given by Mr. Edward Townsend. The building was dedicated May 1, 1863. Here for more than a score of years the school met without the interruption of a single Sunday. In 1864 Mr. Charles Hubbard became superintendent, whose administration until 1868 was conducted with marked efficiency, when he was succeeded by Mr. Henry C Hooker, who for nearly a quarter of a century was the untiring and devoted superintendent. The school outgrew its quarters and the need of a more commodious building became evident.

Generous friends of the school, Messrs. Harmon W. Van Buren, E. W. Leavenworth, P. W. Fobes and Mrs. E. B. Phillips, responded with gifts in memory of beloved dead and erected the present beautiful edifice on Grape street, opposite Monroe, which became the home of the mission in 1886. An evening preaching service had been held since 1869; but it was not until September 8, 1887, that a church was organized. Members from near by Presbyterian churches, many others on confession of faith, made a charter membership of ninety-one members on the roll of Memorial Presbyterian Church. Rev. Alfred E. Myers had been missionary on the field for two years. Soon after organization the new church extended a call to Rev. Albert J. Abeel, who became pastor, beginning labor in October, 1887. The growth of the church has been substantial and steady, having been self-supporting from the start. Total number of members received into the church has been 411 during the eight years history, and it now has 261 active and resident members. The history of "Scattergood" it is impossible to place on record, for the hundreds who came under its influence have gone forth into many States and into many churches as the fruit of laborers, many of whom have gone to their reward.

REV. ALBERT J. ABEEL.

Rev. Albert J. Abeel, of German-French parentage, is a native of New York State. Born at Stone Mills, Jefferson county, N. Y., January 18, 1859. His boyhood and youth was mostly passed in Richfield Springs, N. Y., where his early education was received in the graded public school. Prepared for college in Richfield Springs Seminary, from which he was graduated in classical course in 1879. In fall of same year entered Hamilton College, being graduated in 1883. Three years more were spent in Auburn Theological Seminary, whence he was graduated in May, 1886. Licensed to preach by Utica Presbytery in spring of 1885, Mr. Abeel supplied Presbyterian Church at Pompey, N. Y. In 1886 he was received into Syracuse Presbytery, by which he was ordained to the gospel ministry, and for one year was pastor at Pompey, N. Y., where he married Harriet Eliza Wells.

In the fall of 1887 Mr. Abeel received and accepted a call to the pastorate of the newly organized Memorial Presbyterian Church of Syracuse, N. Y., a position he still holds.

ELMWOOD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

In the spring of 1889, Rev. Wm. A. Rice, then pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, had his attention called to the fine prospect and great possibilities of the field now occupied by the Elmwood Presbyterian Society. It was his earnest endeavor which set at work forces which culminated in the organization of this church.

The first workers in the field were Mrs. S. P. Kyle and Miss F. A. Sloan, afterward assisted by Mrs. N. S. Ayers, who canvassed the neighborhood, inviting the people to gather at the school house for the purpose of establishing a permanent Sabbath School, and on the first Sunday in May, 1889, they met and organized the school with the following officers:

Superintendent—F. L. Brigham.
Assistant Superintendent—Mrs. S. P. Kyle.
Secretary—Robert Craddock.
Treasurer—George Norris.

From this time on, the school met regularly and in spite of discouragements has continued to thrive. Two years later in the spring of 1891, evening services were begun with preaching by students from Syracuse University and later from Auburn Theological Seminary. Among those who preached most frequently were Joseph Reynolds, Chas. M. Herrick, and Carl W. Scovel.

On April 13, 1893, at a regular meeting of the congregation it was voted to organize into a Presbyterian Church, and to petition the Presbytery of Syracuse with that end in view.

As a consequence of this action, on May 9, 1893, the organization was perfected, Presbytery being represented by the session of the Fourth Church of Syracuse, Rev. Allan D. Draper receiving the members into the new church. Thirteen were received by letter from other churches and eighteen on confession of their faith, a total of thirty-one.

Geo. R. Hovey, Frank E. Cable, and John J. Jewell, were elected elders, and Thomas Lees and Henry E. Goulding were elected deacons.

On June 5, 1893, the church extended a unanimous call to Rev. C. L. Luther to become their pastor. He accepted and entered at once upon the work.

It soon became evident that the school house where services were held was no longer large enough to accommodate the rapidly growing congregation. And after the usual drawbacks incident to such an undertaking, ground was broken on the 20th of November, 1893, for a new building. The building was completed sufficiently for occupancy and dedicated to the service of God on the 2d of March, 1894, and a much felt need was thus supplied.

There has been a constant and healthy growth from the time of its inception to the present time. There has been unity of action and purpose among the people. The pleasantest and most harmonious relations have ever existed between pastor and people.

God has blessed their united efforts. There is indeed a very bright outlook for the future growth and prosperity of the Elmwood Church.

CHARLES LAWSON LUTHER, A. M.

Charles Lawson Luther, A. M., pastor of the Elmwood Presbyterian Church, was born at Vernon Center, N. Y., June 17, 1861. Prepared for college at Whitestown Seminary and Clinton Grammar School. Graduated from Hamilton College in the class 1883. Principal of McGrawville Union School, 1883-4, principal of East Springfied Academy, 1884-5, principal of the High School at Wilson, 1885-91. Resigned the last position for the purpose of entering Auburn Theological Seminary, to prepare for the ministry. Graduated from Auburn in the class of 1893.

He was called to be the first pastor of the church to which he now ministers, June 1, 1893.

Through his perseverance and energy a church edifice has been erected and a large congregation brought in. His efforts are being blessed of God to the saving of souls.

P. S.—Since the above was written, Rev. Mr. Luther has resigned the pastorate of the Elmwood Church.

OTHER PROTESTANT CHURCHES.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The Church of Christ, also known as Church of Disciples of Christ, was organized at the City Hall, Syracuse, February 8, 1863, Rev. W. A. Belding, Evangelist, in charge. This body of people do not lay claim to be the Church of Christ. The name stands for a movement within the Church of Christ in behalf of Christian unity and union by a return to the religion of Jesus, in faith and life, as it is presented on the pages of the New Testament. This church or religious body is working unanimously for a restoration of the simple practical Christianity of the Christ——its creed, its ordinances. This restoration of primitive Christianity is sought as the only practical way to the union of Christians. Christian union is looked upon as a necessary condition precedent to turning the world to Christ. The religious communion therefore, known as Christian Church, Church of Christ, and Disciples of Christ, is a Christian union movement of the character indicated. This movement originated in the early part of the present century and now numbers at the most conservative estimate one million adult membership.

At its inception thirty-five persons constituted its original membership in this city. Their names are as follows:

Willi .m W. White,
Charles Tucker,
Maria Tucker,
Miss Julia Tucker,
Eben Beard,
Mrs. Helen Beard,
Mrs. Mary Hayden,
Mrs. Angeline Chesebro,
John B. Garrett,
Mrs. Velona Garrett,
Lucius A. Nearing,
Mrs. Mary A. Nearing,
Philemon Olcott,
Mrs. Mary Olcott,
W. A. Emmons,
Mrs. Esther B. Emmons,
Miss A. Emmons,
Mrs. Lianna Scott,
Thomas Bently,
Mrs. Mahala Bently,
Maria Burrell,
Mrs. Sarah Phelps,
Wm. B. Noble,
Mrs. Harriet Noble,
Miss Mattie Raynor,
Catherine A. Caldwell,
Maria F. Clark,
Mrs. Saphronia Sprague,
Larkin Bates,
Benjamin Enger,
Mrs. Mary A. Enger,
Othniel Sheldon,
Sarah Sheldon,
Mrs. Mary B. Smith,
John Bates.

So far as is now known twenty-nine of the original number of charter members still survive. The church obtained its legal organization under the corporate name, "Church of Christ," June 3, 1863. Its first Board of Trustees were as follows. Charles Tucker, John B. Garrett, James M. Clapp. Of these the first has since died.

Meetings were held regularly in the City Hall until the fall of 1863, at which time the Court House was secured and occupied as a meeting place until June, 1864. The present church edifice was then completed at a cost of about $9,000. The building has a seating capacity of about 400. An addition, lately erected, constitutes the lecture room. There have been nearly 700 persons received into the membership since the organization. The number at present enrolled is about 350. The church has regularly constituted Boards of Elders, Deacons and Trustees. The Sunday school has enrolled 200 scholars. Meetings for public worship are held each Lord's Day at 10 30 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Sunday school at 12.15 P. M. Endeavor Society at 6.30 P. M. Regular mid-week prayer meeting on Wednesdays at 7.30 P. M. Ladies' Aid Society meets on Wednesday afternoons. The church is active in the works of Foreign, Home and State missions, and in the interests of our society for Negro Education and Evangelization.

E. RICHARD EDWARDS.

E. Richard Edwards was born in New York city, March 17, 1867. At the age of sixteen years he graduated from the public schools. He then began to apply himself to the trade of machinist and engineer. During that period he began the course in civil engineering in the Cooper Institute, New York, and coupled with it a thorough drill in all that relates to the art of elocution, under the direction of Prof. Zachos. In this line, however, Mr. Edwards now prefers to follow his own natural expressions and not a studied method of any school.

In the fall of 1886, surrendering a very lucrative hardware and furnishing business, he entered the Kentucky University at Lexington, Ky. From this institution he graduated in June, 1890. The president of the college placed in his hands a request for a minister to take charge of the Second Church of Christ in Brooklyn. Releasing himself from a rural charge in Kentucky, he came to Brooklyn in October, 1890. From a struggling band of a few members his charge became one of the most popular in that community, and in a short time the place was inadequate for the crowds that attended. At this juncture a flattering call was received to St. Paul, Minn., and accepted against the protestations of a large number who believed the young man on the road to an unlimited success. This latter charge was resigned and Mr. Edwards returned to his native city, feeling strongly bound to this part of the country.

For a time he was associated with Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., of New York. During that time a call was given him to assume the pastorate of the People's Baptist Church of that city. In the meantime the church in Syracuse was in communication with him, and an invitation was extended to him to pay them a visit. In a few weeks the congregation unanimously called him to take charge, and he began the work January 1, 1895. The young clergyman has a charming wife and two boys, aged three and two years, respectively. His wife was Miss Lena Lillard of Lexington, Ky.

The work here has taken on new life, and the increased attendance and interest attests the wisdom of calling Mr. Edwards to take up the work. He believes in pleading the cause of the oppressed everywhere and in putting his church into contact with all problems relating to human life and happiness. He is strongly in favor of a business administration in municipal affairs, divorcing the latter from politics, insists on justice for all, and is proud to be allied with all movements having as their object the elevation of the race in every department of living.

FIRST FREE METHODIST CHURCH.

The First Free Methodist Church of Syracuse, N. Y., was organized by Rev. B. T. Roberts August 5, 1863. Rev. D. W. Thurston was the first pastor. He was also chairman of the Syracuse District. Chas. T. Hicks and J. D. Osterhout were the first class-leaders. Wm. F. Gere, John Welch, J. E. Waldron, and W. S. Smith were the first Stewards of the church. George W. Henry and Samuel F. Cooper were local preachers.

The society was organized with thirty-four members in full connection. The church is located on Lysander street. The present officers of the church are James Osborne, G. Vanwagner, A. Moore, S. Moore, Jesse Randall, Walter Eldridge, and John Lee.

REV. THOMAS CLARK GIVENS.

Rev. Thomas Clark Givens was born in Canada, October 19, 1856. When young he came to the United States and found work in Carthage, Jefferson Co., N. Y., and under the labors of Rev. Fred Widmer, pastor of the M. E. Church in that place, was converted to God. Some time after he went to Belleville, Jefferson Co., N. Y., and attended Union Academy of that place. After leaving school he gave his attention to the study of music, and taught singing school several winters. In 1885 he joined the Susquehanna Conference of the Free Methodist Church and at its last session was appointed as pastor of the church in this city.

THE REFORMED (DUTCH) CHURCH.

As early as 1619 services in accordance with usages of the Protestant Church of Holland were held on Manhattan Island, and in 1628 a church was fully organized in New Amsterdam. Thus the Reformed (Dutch) Church was first upon these shores, and she stands today in our communities as the only distinctive monument of the Nation which founded this commonwealth. She has ever numbered among her adherents the best families and most representative citizens of New York State. So in Syracuse this church has always held honorable place for the worth and activities of her members.

The Reformed Church of Syracuse, N. Y., was organized by the Classis of Cayuga, March 10th, 1848, and consisted of eleven persons, dismissed for this purpose from the Reformed Churches of Chittenango and Geneva, and from the First Presbyterian and Park Presbyterian Churches of Syracuse. Their names are: Wessel B. Van Wagenen, Lamira N. Van Wagenen, Cornelia D. Van Wagenen, Mary Ann Beardsley, Peter Burns, Elizabeth Pope, Harriet S. Walter, Mary E. Van Rensselaer, B. C. Vrooman, Susan Vrooman, Simon V. A. Featherly.

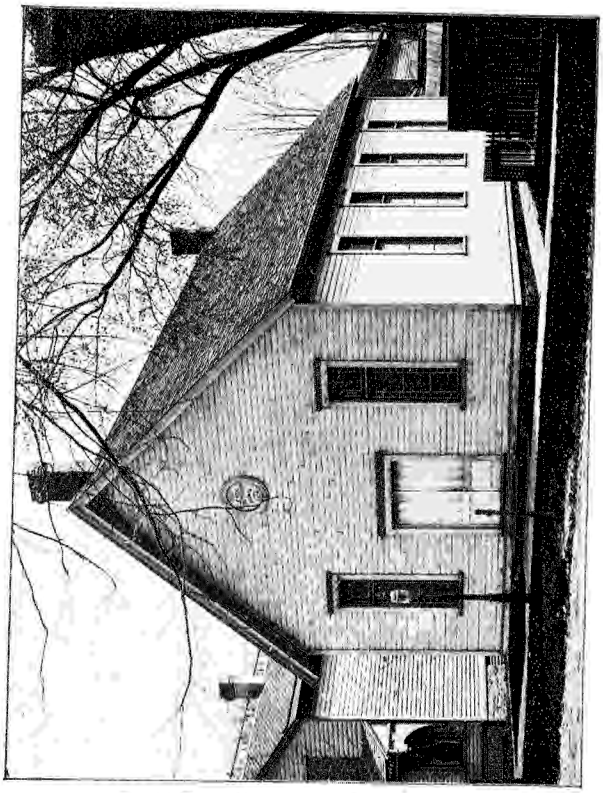
The Rev. James A. H. Cornell, called to be the first pastor, was installed in August 1848, the society holding services in the old Unitarian Chapel, on East Genesee street.

The present location on James street was purchased for $1900, and a building committee, composed of John G. Forbes, John B. Burnet, John A. Robinson, W. B. Van Wagenen and James Noxon supervised the erection of the original church structure, the cost of which was $14,000, the Collegiate Church of New York City loaning $2,000 and about $5,000 having been contributed by Eastern friends, principally through the efforts of the pastor and Elder Van Wagenen.

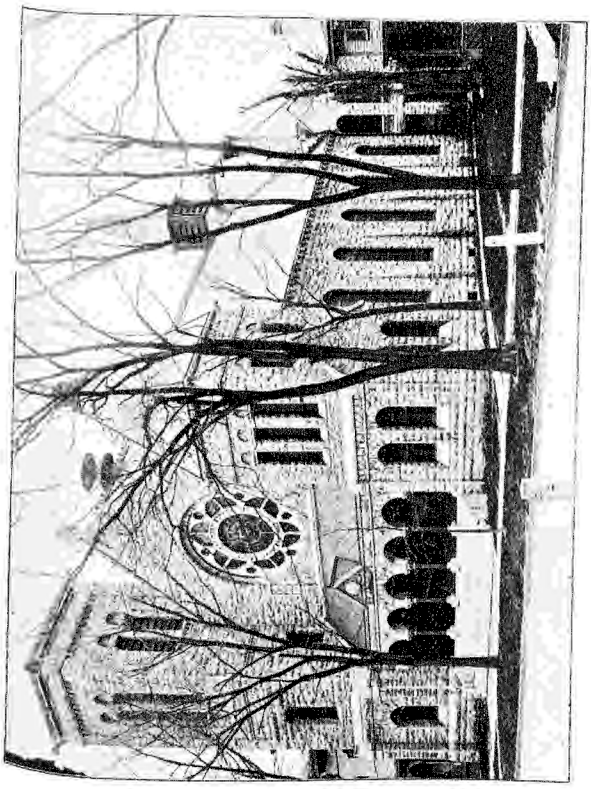
The edifice was designed by Mr. Le Fevre, the celebrated architect, the corner stone laid in the spring of 1849, the building completed early in the summer of 1850, and was dedicated on July 16th of that year.

Resigning on account of ill-health, September, 1851, Mr. Cornell was succeeded by Rev. Dr. Maltbie as a supply until May, 1852, when Rev. J. Romeyn Berry was called. After a service of about five years, Rev.

REV. THOMAS C. GIVENS.



FIRST FREE METHODIST CHURCH.



ST JAMES REFORMED (DUTCH) CHURCH.

REV HENRY DUBOIS MULFORD.

Mr. Berry was followed by Rev. Dr. Condit as a supply.

From 1859 to 1862, Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage filled the pastorate and upon his retirement Rev. Joachim Elmendorf was chosen in 1862, remaining until near the close of 1865.

The Rev. Jeremiah Searle served for about two years, when Rev. Dr. Condit again supplied the church until March, 1869, when Rev. Martin Luther Berger became the pastor, continuing to the spring of 1875.

For the year following, Rev. W. P. Coddington of Syracuse University, acted as a supply, and in November of 1876, Rev. Evert Van Slyke was installed and began his labors.

The last sermon in the old church was delivered by the pastor February 3d, 1878, and on the afternoon of that day the beautiful structure—having been recently improved at a cost of about six thousand dollars—was destroyed by fire. Services were held in Association Hall, and although "cast down but not destroyed," the society on March 11th, 1878, decided to rebuild on the site of the old church. Under the following committees, viz: Finance—R. A. Bonta, A. W. Blye, Jonathan G. Wynkoop, George B. Leonard and L. A. Swarthout. Building—N. F. Graves, Charles Nichols, John B. Burnet, William A. Judson, Charles T. Redfield, P. J. Brumelkamp and Bradford Kennedy, the work was vigorously prosecuted. Plans prepared by Mr. J. L. Silsbee, architect, were accepted and the rear part of the church—designed principally for the Sabbath school—was first erected and afterward furnished pleasant accommodations for worship until the main structure was completed.

The cornerstone was laid July 23d, 1878, amid impressive ceremonies, participated in by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Hartley, of Utica; Rev. Dr. Bennett, Rev. Dr. Beard, Rev. Dr. Goodspeed, Rev. H. R. Lockwood, Rev. A. H. Fahnestock and Rev. Mr. Franklin, representing the sister churches of our city.

The dedicatory services were held February 10th, 1881, and consisting of the following exercises:

AFTERNOON.

Doxology.

Invocation by the Rev. William Rankin Duryee, D. D., Jersey City, N. J.

Reading of the Scriptures—Rev. J. G. Van Slyke, Kingston, N. Y.

Report from Hon. N. F. Graves, Chairman of the Building Committee.

Sermon by the Rev. Edward B. Coe, D. D., of the Collegiate Church, New York City, from Matthew xvi: 18; "Upon this Rock I will build my church."

Dedication, by the pastor.

Singing.

Benediction, Rev. M. L. Berger.

EVENING.

Invocation, Rev. J. G. Van Slyke.

Letters were read from Rev. A. H. Cornell, Rev. J. Romeyn Berry, D. D., Rev. Joachim Elmendorf, D. D., and Rev. Jeremiah Searle, all of whom have served in the pastorate of this church.

The edifice is built of grey limestone (quarried from our own county), the interior finished in hardwood, with pews and organ gallery of cherry. Complete—excepting that the spire remains unfinished—the cost, including organ, furniture, fixtures, &c., has been about forty-three thousand dollars.

The Sabbath school, which has always been efficiently conducted and proven to be a nursery of the church, has been under the superintendency of the following gentlemen: John B. Burnet, until 1850; N. F. Graves, until 1860; A. W. Blye, until 1865; James C. Mix, until 1880; R. A. Bonta, present incumbent.

The General Synod of the Reformed Church in America has held two of its annual sessions in our city and church, the first in June, 1862, and the second in June, 1885.

Rev. Evert Van Slyke, D. D., continued his ministry until May 1st, 1885, and for four years thereafter the church was efficiently served by Rev. R. Bethune Welch, D. D., of Auburn, N. Y., and Prof. W. P. Coddington, D. D., of this city, as stated supplies. During the summer of 1889 a call extended to Rev. Henry Du Bois Mulford of Franklin Park, New Jersey, was accepted and on September 17 following the ceremonies of installation took place.

REV. HENRY DU BOIS MULFORD.

Rev. Henry Du Bois Mulford, pastor of the James Street Reformed (Dutch) Church, was born in the town of Livingston, Columbia County, N. Y., September 27, 1859. The Mulfords were very early settlers of New England and were among the founders of the old towns of Easthampton and Amagansett on Long Island. From the latter locality one branch moved to Duchess County where the homestead farm remained in the family for over a century. James Mulford, father of the subject of this sketch, graduated from Rutger's College and practiced law in Hudson, Columbia County, until his death in 1861 which cut short a career of much professional and political promise. James Mulford married Mary Du Bois, daughter of Hon. Henry A. Du Bois, descendant of the original Huguenot settlers of New Paltz, Ulster County. These families have attended the Reformed Dutch Church and intermarried with Dutch families for generations. The Syracuse "Domine" claims a score of ancestors in the War of the Revolution.

Dr. Mulford was prepared for college at the Hudson Academy. Entering Rutgers College in 1877 he led his class nearly every term throughout the course and took nearly every prize for oratory. At graduation in 1881 he was awarded both the Latin Salutatory for highest rank in studies and the Valedictory or Rhetorical Honor. After a year spent in teaching and in European travel, he entered the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church at New Brunswick, N. J., and finished the course in 1885. He was called to the pastorate of the Franklin Park Reformed Church, six miles from New Brunswick, where he served for four years a large and wealthy country parish. In the autumn of 1889 he was called to his present charge. Mr. Mulford is unmarried. He belongs to the Delta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa College fraternities and to the Huguenot Society of America. Recently he has been elected a trustee of Rutgers College, and Vice-President of the General Synod of the Reformed Church, honors unusual for so young a man. Fond of general society and literary work, he devotes little time to either, finding in pulpit and pastoral work full employment for his time and energy.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

As early as the year 1822 Stephen R. Smith held Universalist meetings in what is now the First Ward of Syracuse. A Universalist society was organized soon after these services began. After a number of years the congregation moved to a hall in the Granger Block. When the Unitarian society was organized in 1838, many of those who belonged to the Universalist joined the new movement. Then followed a period during which no decided efforts were made to plant Universalism in Syracuse. In 1859 Rev. A. A. Thayer (now of La Grange, Ill.,) came to the city and began to hold services in Wieting Hall. For several years these Wieting Hall meetings were very popular, and attracted large audiences. The novelty, at that time, of such public meetings, along with the unconventional freedom of the services, drew together various elements. During this period (March, 1860,) Mr. Thayer preached his somewhat famous sermon on the tragic death of Peter Tinker and his two daughters.

The movement gathered strength, and in June, 1860, the parish was admitted to fellowship by the Cayuga Association, then in session at Cortland. The delegates from Syracuse were Harry Gifford and Nelson Ritter. During the years 1862-63 the lot where the High School building now stands was purchased, and on it was erected a church and parsonage. This church was dedicated in 1863, Rev. Dolphus Skinner preaching the dedicatory sermon. Mr. Thayer was the moving spirit in this whole period. He raised the money, arranged the contracts, paid the bills, and perfected the titles for the property. In 1866 Mr. Thayer was followed by Rev. Charles W. Tomlinson. A year later the property was sold to the Board of Education, and the Universalist society moved to the Court House. October, 1869, Rev. E. C. Sweetser (now of Philadelphia) was settled and a movement for a new church building was started. The lot now owned by the society was purchased and the church, which still stands at the junction of West Genesee and Franklin streets, was erected. It was dedicated in 1870, since which time, with varying fortunes, the First Universalist Church has been permanently located.

The complete list of pastors since the beginning of the movement by Rev. A. A. Thayer is as follows: Rev. A. A. Thayer, Rev. Chas. W. Tomlinson, Rev. Dolphus Skinner, Rev. E. C. Sweetser, Rev. Geo. F. Hibbard, Rev. J. G. Bartholemew, Rev. Geo. B. Stocking, Rev. R. Fish, Rev. Costello Weston, Rev. J. C. F. Grumbine, Rev. A. U. Hutchins, Rev. F. W. Betts.

November 1, 1889, the present pastor, Rev. F. W. Betts, took charge of the parish, since which date there has been a steady gain in attendance and in membership. At the present moment the society seems to be entering a stage of larger usefulness. Besides the regular pastor, it supports a city missionary, Mrs. M. H. Cory, and is looking forward to the development of new branches of practical Christian work. The parish is free from debt, entirely united, and very hopeful for the future.

FREDERICK W. BETTS.

The ancestors of the subject of this biography were of New England Yankee stock. The grand-parents upon both sides moved to Onondaga County very early in the present century. One branch made its home at what is now Warners. The other, Stephen Betts, married a wife in Rutland, Vt., in 1814, and came by emigrant wagon to South Onondaga, where he was a tanner of hides for forty years. His son, A. J. Betts, was married to Miss Phoebe Nichols early in the "fifties," and soon moved to Illinois, near Rockford, where on March 6, 1858, Frederick W. Betts was born. The father, A. J. Betts, organized a company of soldiers and enlisted in the war for the Union. Upon his returning from the South, the family moved back to Onondaga County and settled at Onondaga Hill, where the parents now reside. A. J. Betts is a carpenter, and to this occupation F. W. Betts was educated. He worked at this trade until twenty-six years old, when he went to St. Lawrence University and prepared himself for the Christian ministry of the Universalist Church. Previous to this he had attended the public school and Onondaga Academy. From St. Lawrence University Mr. Betts went to Plymouth, N. H., where previous to his regular ordination, he was settled for one year. In August, 1886, at the Universalist National Grove Meeting at Wiers, N. H., Mr. Betts was fully ordained. Immediately following this he accepted an invitation to become pastor at Palmer, Mass., where he remained until 1889. Just previous to the year 1889 the First Universalist Church of Syracuse had experienced reverses and divisions which seriously weakened and threatened to destroy it entirely. At the request of the parish and of Rev. I. M. Atwood, D. D., president of the New York Universalist Missionary Board, Mr. Betts resigned from his parish at Palmer and came to Syracuse, to undertake the rehabilitation of this society, since which time he has served as the pastor of the church. The six years of this period have more than realized the expectations of pastor and people. The society is made up of plain people, with very little accumulated wealth, and its resources are limited. But a debt of long standing has been paid, and extensive improvements and repairs have been made. The society is now thoroughly united and free from debt. Mr. Betts has become largely identified with the work of the Universalist denomination in New York. He is at present a member of the State Missionary Board and of the Committee of Fellowship and Ordination. He is also editor and business manager of The Convention at Work, the missionary monthly of the State, which has a circulation of 4,000 in Universalist families, and preacher of the occasional sermon for 1895 before the New York Convention of Universalists at Troy.

At the age of twenty-one Mr. Betts was married to Mary R. Browning of Onondaga, and two children, Welcome A. and C. Fred, have been born to them.

WESLEYAN METHODIST CHURCH.

This church was organized May 2, 1843. Opposition to American slavery and an earnest desire to serve God in the primitive simplicity and purity of the New Testament Church, was the motive for organization. The charter members were: S. F. Green, D. S. Bliss, A. Hughes, H. J. Fritcher, Charles Merrick, Montgomery Merrick, P. W. Rice, J. Connell and J. White. At this time but one survives, viz., Charles Merrick.

The pastors of the church in the order of their service are: Luther Lee, P. R. Sawyer, B. Yrden, P. M. Way, Marshal Frink, Samuel Salsbury, Luther Lee, D. B. Douglass, Samuel Salsbury, L. N. Stratton, J. P. Betker, A. S. Wightman, T. H. Keniston, S. H. Foster, R. E. Jenkins, Emery Jones, E. W. Bruce, J. B. Knappenberger.

The lot on which the church edifice stands was bought January 4, 1846; cost, $400, in the "village of Syracuse." The building was begun in 1847. Additions have been made from time to time. No mortgage rests on the property, and the pews are all free. The church government is purely Congregational, in method and doctrine methods, and in all things scriptural. Soon after the organization the church affiliated in conference relationship with the "Wesleyan Methodist Connection of America." On April 14, 1890, the church severed its relation with the "Wesleyan Methodist Connection of America" and returned to its original independency. It has now no organic connection with any denomination, but is working harmoniously with all God's children of every name for the promotion of the cause of the divine Redeemer, acknowledging no standard but the Holy Scriptures, and no head but Christ. During the past five years God has been pleased to most graciously bless the church, spiritually, numerically and financially.

REV. J. B. KNAPPENBERGER.

I was born November 24, 1856, in Monroe, Clarion county, Pa. When about ten years of age my parents moved to Guthrie county, Ia. Very early in life I became acquainted with the saving grace and power of the Gospel in a living Christian experience. When fourteen, my father died and I became indeed the "Widow's Son," being the oldest of a family of six children. The country was new, times hard, and we were far from kindred, but by hard work and much privation, we lived and saved our home. On the 5th of July, 1873 or '74, I received the baptism of the Holy Ghost, called among Methodists the blessing of "Holiness" or "Entire Sanctification," by others the "Higher Life." Became deeply impressed that it was my duty to preach the Gospel, will not recount my struggle with the abiding and increasing conviction. Preached my first sermon in a settlement about twelve miles from home; text, John 11:40, "Said I not unto thee that if thou wouldest believe thou shouldest see the glory of God." First license bears the date of November 27, 1875. In March, 1876, became a student at Wasioja, Minn. Through student life, continued labor as a preacher. October, 1876, I was received as a member of the Minnesota Conference, receiving as an appointment Bethel, Union Corners and Centergrove. October, 1877, reappointed to the same. October, 1878, received as an appointment Clairmont. October 12, 1879, was ordained to the regular ministry and received as an appointment Fairbanks, West Concord and Fairpoint. October, 1880, received the same, with the addition of Bethel and Genoa. November 14, 1880, married Miss Mary E. Cox, of Fountain, Brookings county, S. Dak. October, 1881, received as an appointment Spring Valley and Etna. Having finished the Conference year and feeling the need of more study, entered Wheaton Theological Seminary, Wheaton, Ill. Supplied at different times during seminary course the following churches: Sycamore, Flora, Streator and Marengo in Illinois; Lake Geneva and North Geneva in Wisconsin. Graduated, completing the full course and receiving the degree June 16, 1885. Received a call to the Middlefield charge, O.; entered upon duties as pastor July 19, 1885. The circuit consisted of Middlefield, Mesopotamia, South Windsor, Windsor Mill and Green. Received a call to the Sandy Lake charge, Pennsylvania; entered upon work as pastor May 1, 1887; the circuit consisted of Sandy Lake, Oak Grove, Zion and Mill Brook. Received a call to Syracuse, N. Y.; entered upon my work as pastor April 14, 1889. In review of the uniform kindness of all the churches of which we have had pastoral charge; the triumphs of grace on every field, we thank God, we take courage inscribing anew upon the altar of our devotions Jehovah-nissi for in grace the past is the shadow of to-morrow.

ALEXANDER OBERLANDER.

Alexander Oberlander, pastor of Mt. Tabor Evangelical Lutheran Church and president and superintendent of Mt. Tabor Orphans Home, was born at Friedersdorf, principality of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt, May 31, 1834. He was the youngest of three brothers, whose father died when Alexander was two years old. Although reared in poverty, his mother a woman of excellent judgement, by the exercise of industry and economy, was enabled to give to each of her sons an academic education. Alexander was graduated from both the High School and Seminary at Rudolstadt, after which he taught school and gave lessons in music. He emigrated to the United States in 1859 and settled in Rochester, where in connection with giving lessons in German and music, he studied for the ministry being ordained a minister of the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Chicago, Ill., in 1861. His first charge was at Wan Kegan, Ill. Before coming to Syracuse, N. Y., he ministered at Mohawk, Hill, N. Y., and Trinity Lutheran Church, Rome, N. Y. In 1869 he came to Zions Lutheran Church, Syracuse, N. Y., which congregation under his charge for nearly twenty-four years grew from the weakest to the strongest Lutheran Church in Central New York. When Mr. Oberlander took charge of Zions Church in 1869 it was incumbered with a heavy debt and discord had found itself among its few members. These obstacles were soon mounted by Mr. Oberlander's genial leadership, and when in 1892 Mr. Oberlander had resigned, the congregation was large and flourishing, with no debts and a large surplus in its treasury. Mr. Oberlander's whole attention was now directed to the Orphans Home which his estimable wife, since deceased, founded in 1885. His many friends and admirers prevailed upon him to preach each Sunday in the spacious hall of the Orphan Home on Spring street.

These services were so well attended that in the fall of 1894 a beautiful church building was erected beside the Orphans Home, in which the newly formed congregation now worships. This chuich is known as Mt. Tabor Evangelical Lutheran Church. For the past six months Mr. Oberlander's health has been impaired. During this time the church has been served by Rev. F. E. Oberlander, son and assistant to Mr. Oberlander. Services are conducted in both German and English language. With this church are connected two Missions, one at Stiles and the other at Otisco, N. Y.

Mr. Oberlander is the father of (15) fifteen children of whom ten are still living.

Protestant Episcopal Churches.

THE RIGHT REV. FREDERIC DAN HUNTINGTON, S. T. D., LL. D., BISHOP OF CENTRAL NEW YORK.

Frederic D. Huntington was born in Hadley, Mass., May 28, 1819. His father, Dan Huntington, was a graduate and tutor of Yale College, and had charge of Congregational churches in Connecticut, but subsequently became a Unitarian. His son, the present bishop, was graduated at Amherst in 1839, and at Harvard Divinity School in 1842. He was then ordained pastor of a Unitarian church, Boston, and in 1855 became preacher to Harvard and Plummer Professor of Christian Morals in that university, which post he held until 1860. He also served as chaplain and preacher to the Massachusetts Legislature. He withdrew from the Unitarian denomination and took orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1860. He then organized the Emmanuel parish of Boston, and was its rector until he was consecrated bishop of Central New York, April 8, 1869.

Dr. Huntington had previously declined an election to the bishopric of Maine. The consecration took place in the Emmanuel Church, Boston. On the day after his consecration he ordained his oldest son, Rev. George Putnam Huntington, to the priesthood in the same church. He also for the first time administered the rite of confirmation in the same church, the second Sunday after Easter, fifty-three persons being confirmed. Bishop Huntington's first confirmation service in his own diocese was held at Grace Church, Utica, on the evening of April 15, 1869, the number being again fifty-three. At the time when Dr. Huntington was created bishop there were in the diocese 106 parishes and missions, 70 clergymen, 64 presbyters and 6 deacons. There are to-day besides the bishop, 109 clergymen canonically attached to the diocese, 95 presbyters and 14 deacons. The whole number of parishes and missions is 147. These are attended by 8,336 families, consisting of 16,045 communicants.

On the 8th of April, 1894, the second Sunday after Easter, and by a happy coincidence the "Sunday of the Good Shepherd," the twenty-fifth anniversary of the bishop's consecration was observed throughout the diocese. Historical addresses were delivered in the parish churches, and an offering of more than $4,000 was made as a testimonial of esteem and affection for the bishop. A more formal and elaborate commemoration of the anniversary was made in connection with the annual Diocesan Convention on Wednesday, June 13th, at St. Paul's Cathedral, Syracuse. There were present on that occasion three bishops and ninety-eight other clergy; also ninety-nine lay delegates, representing fifty-eight parishes of the diocese. Among those present were several who attended the consecration services in Boston twenty-five years before. The anniversary sermon was delivered by Bishop Potter of New York, and congratulatory addresses were made by Bishop Coxe of the Western New York diocese, Rev. John Brainard, D. D., and others. Bishop Huntington responded to these addresses most happily. His opening and closing words are given in the following quotations:

"You will not wonder, I am sure, after what you have heard, if I remind myself, with some searchings of heart, of the dangers of a favor that is partial and praise that is undeserved. I suppose it is natural enough to speak of those who have been thrown somehow into palces of comparative prominence or leadership as if they were proper or safe objects of unqualified laudation,—as if the leaders after all did not owe their position to other causes than their actual merits. Whatever credit may be due to captains or to bishops, no conquest is achieved without those who serve with them with equal hardship, equal cheerfulness, and perhaps greater self-denial. It is certainly so here. I am mindful of it every day I live. I dare say, for I believe, that the world would on the whole be better if we praised more and blamed less. Not that I imagine men of sense are likely to have their deliberate judgment of themselves materially affected by the kind or flattering things said of them on festive occasions like this, when everybody is amiable and compliments are easier than discrimination. Our self-estimates must be made up, I suspect, on firmer ground, the result of more lasting reflection and a much sadder experience. The best way is to take these over-generous expressions as the promptings of an impulsive friendship, not as a judicial measure of our merits, which are not, if all were known, of much real account." * * * * * *

"Looking reverently at twelve worshipful cathedrals, and sharing the stately but never florid worship of several of them, where veneration is mingled with thanksgiving and admiration is surpassed only by wonder, I can testify in all sincerity that a plain service in any one of our least elaborate churches or mission chapels of our own diocesan domain touches a tenderer place in my affections, and wakens a warmer personal sympathy than the pillars and arches, the marble and gold, the carvings and memorial tablets of the grandest of them. History and art, stones literally and visibly grooved by the knees of adoring believers gone hundreds of years ago to Paradise, the echoes of their anthems, the fame of prelates and martyrs, are wrought into the grace and majesty of those marvelous structures. Yet I find something in myself, which the Lord of an unseen glory has planted there, that makes every humble sanctuary built and cared for by those who are dear as a household, and on whose heads my hands have laid God's gracious benediction, more precious to my heart than any costlier temple where His honor dwelleth."

The Outlook of December 22, 1894, in a leading editorial, thus characterized the bishop:

"His position in the Episcopal church, it is difficult to state. He would probably himself refuse to be classified. He is a decided but moderate churchman, but would not call himself either a High or Low Churchman. He is broad in his intellectual sympathies, and tolerant of wide divergencies in both opinion and practice, but he would not call himself a Broad Churchman. He is a firm believer in the Evangelical faith, but could not be classified as an Evangelican partisan. He is a man of singular devoutness of spirit; a master of lucid, clear and simple English; a preacher always truly because unartificially eloquent, by reason of a translucent purity of character, which makes itself felt in his speech and in his bearing. His interest in sociological questions has been a notable feature in his Episcopal career; and we doubt whether any minister in America has applied more fearlessly the principles and precepts of Jesus Christ to questions of work and wages."

Bishop Huntington has been editor, for several years each, of "The Christian Register", "The Monthly Religious Magazine", and "The Church Monthly". He is the author of very many published addresses on a wide variety of religious subjects. The following is a list of the books he has written:

Christ in the Christian Year: Vol. I., Advent to Trinity; Vol. II., Trinity to Advent. Good Talking a Fine Art. Good Manners a Fine Art. Home-Keeping a Fine Art. Gospel and Judgment. Christian Beheving and Living. Christ and the World. The Common Things of Divine Service. Forty Days with the Master. Helps to a Holy Lent. New Helps to a Holy Lent. Sermons for the People. ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

The first public service of the Episcopal Church in Syracuse was held in the parlors of the Syracuse House in 1821. Thereafter occasional services were held in a school house in Church street, until, in 1824, the Episcopalians felt themselves strong enough to form a parish and erect a place of worship. An organization was effected, but the proceedings not having been recorded with the county clerk were subsequently considered invalid, and two years later, in 1826, the process was repeated and St. Paul's Church came then into undoubted legal existence. Previously to this, the Syracuse company had given the church a building lot, that on which the Granger block now stands, and on this a church was begun in 1825, and completed in 1827. This structure was sold in 1841 or '42, to the Roman Catholics, and its name changed to St. Mary's. It now stands, dilapidated and unused, on the corner of Montgomery and Madison streets. In 1842, a new church was completed on the present site of the Government Building. It was of stone, and considered at the time one of the finest specimens of church architecture in this part of the country. In 1883, this property was sold to the Government, and the spacious and costly building known as St. Paul's Cathedral, standing on the corner of Montgomery and Fayette streets, was finished and occupied in 1885.

The first rector was Rev. John McCarty, who had his residence at Onondaga Hill. He was succeeded within a year by Rev. Wm. Barlow, who was the first Episcopal clergyman who lived in Syracuse, which thereupon became the center of outlying missionary work. In 1830, the Rev. Palmer Dyer, an admirable parish minister, took charge of the work, and under him the church, until his resignation in 1834, made notable progress. His successors, for brief periods, and with various degrees of usefulness, were Rev. John Grigg, Rev. Francis T. Todrig, Rev. Clement M. Butler, afterwards distinguished as a professor in the Philadelphia divinity school, and Rev. John B. Gallagher, a young, able and beloved pastor, whom, after two years of brilliant ministry, ill-health compelled to resign. He was succeeded in 1840 by Rev. Henry Gregory, whose rectorship of eight years will always be memorable in the parish for the eminence of his character and abilities, and for the great advancement of the spiritual and material interests of the church. In 1848, the Rev. Wm. B. Ashley took up the work, and during another period of eight years, impressed upon the church and the community at large, the influence of his vigorous mind and his saintly life. In 1857 the Rev. Geo Morgan Hills began a rectorship of thirteen years, and a notable record of wise and efficient work. Under him St. Paul's Church grew to be a great power in the religious and social life of Syracuse. Rev. A. B. Beach, D. D., was in temporary charge for a single year, and was followed by Rev. Simon Greenleaf Fuller, the only rector of the parish who died in the office, and whose term of less than two years afforded too little time for the fulfillment of great projects he had in mind for the church's advancement. Mr. Fuller was succeeded in 1873 by the Rev. Henry R. Lockwood, S. T. D., the present rector and the only person now living who has occupied that office. During his administration, the stately and beautiful cathedral has been built, and the parish has steadily grown in numbers, and in other evidences of strength.

During its long history, this parish has included in its membership a goodly multitude of eminent servants of God; men and woman who have adorned by their ability and piety all the honorable walks of life, who have given munificently to institutions of charity and of Christian learning and whose examples of public and private virtue have been signal witnesses to the power of faith, and have left lasting and mighty influences for good, no less in the community than in the church.

HENRY R. LOCKWOOD.

Henry R. Lockwood, S. T. D., rector of St. Paul's (Cathedral) Church, was born April 8, 1843, at Honeoye Falls, Monroe county, his father being then rector of the Episcopal Church in that village. His boyhood was passed in Rochester, where in private schools he was prepared for college. In 1860 he entered Hobart College, Geneva, where he was graduated with honors in 1864. He was immediately appointed tutor in mathematics in that institution and held that position during the three years in which he was pursuing his theological studies, under direction of Bishop DeLancey and the clerical members of the college faculty. He was made a deacon by Bishop Coxe at Batavia in September, 1867, and at once took charge of the missionary work at Clayton and La Fargeville, Jefferson county, holding the first regular services of the Episcopal church in those places. Good congregations were gathered in both villages, and in Clayton a commodious and comely church was built. In January, 1873, Mr. Lockwood became rector of St. Paul's Church, Syracuse, where the main work of his ministry has been done. The new and beautiful building was completed and opened as the cathedral church in December, 1885. In November, 1872, he was married to Ellen M. Rich, second daughter of the late Samuel H. Rich, of Boston. In 1876 he was elected trustee of Hobart College, which position he still holds. In 1877 he was commissioned by Gov. Robinson chaplain of the Fifty-first Regiment of the State National Guard, holding that position until the regiment was mustered out of service. He was twice elected a diocesan deputy to the General Convention, and has several times represented the diocese in the Federate Council of the Five Dioceses in the State of New York. Since 1885 he has been a member and for most of the time secretary of the Standing Committee. In 1886 he received from his alma mater the honorary degree of S. T. D.

Dr. Lockwood has held the offices of examining chaplain and president of the Fourth Missionary District. He is now president of the Choir Guild of the diocese and of the Clerical Club of Syracuse, and trustee of St. John's Military School for Boys, Keble School for Girls, St. Andrews Divinity School, and the House of the Good Shepherd.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH.

St. Mark's Church was organized and incorporated under the State law, January 10th, 1832, and by the name "The Rector, Church Wardens and Vestry of the Apostolic Church of Geddes."

The Rev. Palmer Dyer, rector of St. Paul's Church, Syracuse, had held services prior to this in the district school house and was elected first rector of the new parish.

John G. Terry and Owen Eddy were elected wardens and Robt. Gere, Henry Lake Joel Dickinson, Chas. L. Skinner, Simeon Spalding, Jas. I. Dunbar, and Elijah W. Curtis were elected vestrymen.

Immediately after the organization of the parish in 1832, steps were taken towards building a place of worship, and the following April the State Legislature granted the parish permission to enclose a lot 60x90 feet on the south side of the village square, for the purpose of erecting a church.

The corner stone was laid July 4, 1832, by the Rev. Thos. Meacham, of Cortland, and a church 36x48 feet was built of wood at a cost of $2,850.87, containing forty-six pews.

This church was used by the parish, with some interruptions till May 24th, 1860, when it was sold with consent of the Supreme Court, as there did not appear to be necessity for its continuance.

The bell was given to St. James' Church, Syracuse, and the proceeds of the sale $129.33 to the Methodist Society of Geddes.

Besides the original incorporators the following names appear as having been at sometime wardens or vestrymen, Benjamin G. Avery, Chas. Carpenter, J. H. Luther, Elisha Marsh, J. Sanborn, G. Phillips, S. Stickney, Samuel C. Brewster, Wm. Boullian, P. S. Schuyler, J. F. Paige, D. M. Benson, Freeman Hughes, Guy Terry.

From the above date services were held only occasionally and in private houses, till April 15, 1883, when the Rev. E. W. Mundy began services in Good Templar Hall. After a few Sundays the trustees of the Methodist Society invited the congregation to use their place of worship, and services were held in that building till the following autumn, when a chapel was fitted up in Pharis Hall and the hour of service changed to the forenoon. Cyrus D. Avery, J. P. Shumway and R. E. Fox acted as a committee of finance.

This chapel was destroyed by fire February 2, 1885, and the parish was again deprived of home and all personal property.

Services were continued, however, in the Good Templar Hall while efforts were made to secure a lot on which to build a new church.

A committee consisting of Geo. G. Cotton, J. W. Smith, and P. Schuyler Knapp was appointed to have charge of the matter.

At this time in connection with the election of a new vestry April 6th, 1885, it was decided to change the name of the parish to St. Mark's Church. The following were elected: Guy Terry and J. P. Shumway, wardens; C. D. Avery, John Hatch, Geo. G. Cotton, P. Schuyler Knapp, D. P. Rhodes, J. W. Smith, E. F. Sim, Chas. E. Hubbell, vestrymen.

Though the right to build on the public square known as St. Mark's, was and is still in force, it was decided to build on some other site, and thus the present lot was purchased and the nave and a portion of the tower of the present church erected at a cost of about $8,000.

The new building was used for the first time Christmas Day, 1885. Under the ministry of the Rev. E. W. Mundy the parish grew rapidly in size and strength and the debt remaining was soon paid by the offerings of the people. In April, 1892, the rector was obliged by physical infirmity to seek relief from his labors and was given a years' leave of absence and his place was filled temporarily by the Rev. F. P. Tompkins. In 1893, however, Mr. Mundy's resignation was accepted and he was succeeded by the Rev. Harry Cresser, who in turn was obliged by failing health to resign early in 1894.

August, 1894, the Rev. W. De L. Wilson, of the Church of St. John the Divine, was called to the rectorate, and in the autumn following the church building was completed at a cost of $10,000 and the property at the corner of West Genesee and Bridge streets was purchased and added to the church estate. The enlarged church building was opened for service Christmas 1894.

At the present there are about eighty families and 125 communicants.

REV. WM. DE LANCEY WILSON.

Rev. Wm. De Lancey Wilson, the rector of St. Mark's Church, was born at Geneva, N. Y., in 1851, and educated at Walnut Hill School, Hobart College, and Cornell University. He graduated from the latter in 1871 with the degree of B. A., and engaged in teaching at Burlington College and St. Paul's School Rochester, for four years, when he was called to the rectorate of Christ Church, Guilford, and Grace, Mt. Upton, N. Y., from Guilford he was called in 1880 to St. James Church, Clinton, which charge he resigned in 1887 on account of ill health and removed to Syracuse. In April, 1888, he was appointed to the charge of the Church of St. John the Divine, Syracuse, where he ministered till taking charge of St. Mark's, August, 1894. Besides his parochial work he is instructor in Latin and Greek, in St. Andrew's Divinity School, Syracuse. Hobart College conferred on him the degree of M. A. in 1891. He is a trustee of St. John's Military School, Manlius, secretary of the Missionary Convention of the Syracuse District and president of the Syracuse Choir Guild.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

In the year 1840 the Rev. Henry Gregory came to Syracuse from Homer, N. Y., to take the rectorship of St. Paul's, then the only Episcopal Church in the city.

He soon saw the need of a second church edifice north of the canal; and on Thursday, January 27, 1848, a chapel was opened on Lock street, to be used until the new church should be built. Dr. Gregory was a devoted adherent of the principle of free seats in churches, with equal privileges to all worshippers. He got a parish organized that should represent this principle and resigned the pastorate of St. Paul's to become its first rector, August 14, 1848.

Such was the origin of "St. James," so named because of the first four verses of the second chapter of the Epistle of St. James, which were afterwards set as a motto in the front window of the new church: "My brethren have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there came in also a poor man in vile raiment; and ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool; are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?"

In building, Dr. Gregory insisted on the principles announced in Ruskin's "Seven Lamps of Architecture," that there should be no imitations. The walls and pillars should be of real stone, not stucco; and the pews of butternut wood, should be real butternut, and not pine, painted.

He collected the money and built the church, and in 1854 had the pleasure of seeing it consecrated by Bishop De Lancey to the worship of Almighty God. Of the work thus begun and established, a worthy successor of the Rev Dr. Gregory afterwards wrote: "This church was founded on the truest Christian principles. It was intended, not for the benefit of a few church families and their minister, but for the spiritual good of the whole population among whom it stands. It was started on a wise, Christian and forward-looking estimate of the spiritual wants of this city, in the purpose to extend here as widely and as fast as possible the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour. It is emphatically a missionary church. With that intent it was projected by its founder, and in that spirit it has been carried on by those who were the confidants of his purposes and the liberal furtherers of his plans. Its foundation has been laid in prayer; its walls have risen in labor and self-sacrifice; its every stone been set in zeal for the cause of Christ and love for the souls of men."

In January, 1857, Bishop De Lancey and the other trustees of the De Veaux College for Orphans at Suspension Bridge, elected Dr. Gregory the first head of that new institution. His acceptance of this office involved his resignation of St James parish, which he left in April of the same year. He was succeeded by the Rev. C. C. Barclay who, however, remained not quite two years. The vestry then called the Rev. Joseph M. Clarke, at that time assistant in Grace Church, Utica. Mr. Clarke accepted the call, and entered on his duties as rector, October 1, 1858. This was the longest rectorship in the history of the parish, lasting until the fall of 1886, when Mr. (now Dr.) Clarke was called to a theological professorship at the West.

Dr. Gregory died in Syracuse in 1866, and was buried from St. James' Church, Bishop Coxe, who had succeeded Bishop De Lancey, being present and making an address.

In 1867, Bishop Coxe held a reopening service in St. James' Church, which had been enlarged to the extent of about fifty per cent. of its former seating capacity, and confirmed a large number of baptised adults.

In 1869 Bishop Huntington came to Syracuse as first Bishop of the newly erected Diocese of Central New York. Within a few years after his arrival the number of Episcopal parishes in the city of Syracuse had been increased to six. Of the new parishes, St. John's grew out of services in the south part of the city, begun by the rector of St. James', and sustained first by St. James', afterwards by St. Paul's, communicants. Calvary Church was assisted in its early stages by members of St. James' and Grace Church, and had a number of St. James' families transferred to its membership. St. Mark's Church in the Tenth Ward, organized later on, may be said to have grown out of services held at Fairmount by the rector of St. James' during several summers, and out of a Sunday School kept up there by some devout Christian people.

Dr. Clarke was succeeded in 1886 by the Rev. Henry Feller, and he, in 1890, by the Rev. Charles Ferguson. During this rectorship a great calamity befell the parish. On Passion Sunday, 1891, the church edifice on Lock street was burned down at about the hour for morning service. The parish library, the organ and many precious memorials were burned with the building. It was not long, however, before steps were taken to erect a new church in a better location on James street, which was finished in its present form in 1892. One story of the tower and a recess chancel still remain to be built in order to complete the edifice according to the architect's design, but even in its present form the church is wonderfully well fitted for its uses. A link between the present and the past is to be found in the beautiful Gothic doorway at the side entrance, which was preserved from the old church; and in 1894 the name of the founder was commemorated in the new by a handsome memorial pulpit of brass, set up by the liberality of Dr. Gregory's two surviving brothers.

The present rector is the Rev. Frederick W. Webber, who was called to the parish in March, 1895. Recently the services have been given increased impressiveness and solemnity by the introduction of a vested choir, and on Thursday evening, July 18th, a large vocalion organ was used for the first time—the munificent gift of the Rev. Almon Gregory and his family.

REV. FREDERICK W. WEBBER.

The Rev. Frederick W. Webber was born at Hamilton, Canada, January 13, 1859, the son of Frederick C. and Christian Webber.

He graduated at Toronto University, B. A., in 1881 and M. A. in 1883, and received his preparatory education in theology at Montreal, Que., and Cambridge, Mass., at the latter place receiving from the Episcopal Theological School the Degree of B. D.

On St. Mark's day, 1883, he received deacon's orders at the hands of Bishop Bond of the Diocese of Montreal, and a year latter was ordained priest by the same bishop.

The greater part of Mr. Webber's ministerial career has been passed in the United States, first as assistant minister in St. James Church, New York, and afterwards in the Diocese of Milwaukee as rector of Zion Church, Oconomowoc, where the beautiful stone church by Congdon was built under his leadership, and of St. John's Church in the same city.

GRACE CHURCH.

University avenue, corner of Madison street.

Grace Church was organized March 27, 1871. Several months previous to this date a frame chapel had been built, by those interested, on a large and sightly lot, donated by the late Judge George F. Comstock, at the corner of University avenue and Madison street. This building was first occupied for public worship on the second Sunday in December, 1870. The Rev. Thomas E. Pattison, who had been largely instrumental in the formation of the parish, and who had conducted the services from the beginning, was elected rector. The first vestry consisted of the rector and Messrs. John V. Needham and Wells B. Hatch, wardens, and Messrs. Arthur Crittenden, John R. Hawkins, Henry A. Leggett and P. Mott Cole, vestrymen.

In 1876 the first building was removed and in its place was erected the present handsome stone edifice, Mrs. Schemerhorn, mother of F. Augustus Schemerhorn, of

New York, furnishing the larger part of the necessary funds.

The Rev. Mr. Pattison held the rectorship for sixteen years, resigning in 1886 to accept the position, which he still holds, of assistant minister in Emanuel Church, Baltimore, Md.

In —— Judge Comstock, who had given the parish the site for its church, gave a lot for a rectory; and on this lot, situated in Harrison street, between University avenue and Walnut place, a commodious rectory was built through the efforts of the ladies of the parish.

The Rev. Horace Gates became rector in January, 1887, but remained but six months, resigning in July of the same year. He was succeeded by the Rev. John T. Rose, who took the rectorship in January, 1888, and held it for three years, relinquishing it to accept a call to St. Peter's Church, Cazenovia, where he has since remained.

The present rector, the Rev. Herbert G. Coddington, entered upon his office in January, 1891.

In 1893 the church edifice was thoroughly renovated, and the interior walls and ceilings decorated in oil colors, Mr. F. Augustus Schemerhorn generously bearing the expense. Numerous other improvements have been made, both in the material equipment and in the organization of the parish, and a vested chorus choir has been introduced.

The brick dwelling house, No. 911 Madison street, is now (June, 1895,) rented and maintained by one of the parochial societies for the purpose of a Guild House.

REV. HERBERT G. CODDINGTON.

Rev. Herbert G. Coddington, rector of Grace Church, is the only son of Rev. W. P. Coddington, D. D., professor of philosophy in Syracuse University, and was born in Cazenovia, February 6, 1865. His early education was obtained in the public schools of Syracuse and through private tutors, and in 1886 he was graduated from Syracuse University with the degree of A. B. During the two following years he studied theology in the General Theological Seminary in New York city, and September 29, 1888, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Huntington in St. Paul's Cathedral, Syracuse. He was then placed by the bishop in charge of St. John's Church, Marcellus, where December 11, 1889, he was advanced to the priesthood, and where he remained until he was invited to become rector of Grace Church, entering upon the rectorship on St. Paul's day, January 25, 1891. In 1889 he married the daughter of Hon. Warren R. Fitch, a prominent resident of Lowville. They have one child, a daughter named Dorothy. The Rev. Mr. Coddington is the editor of Bishop Huntington's official paper, The Gospel Messenger, a trustee of St. John's School at Manlius, and a member of several literary and social clubs, viz.: The Browning Club, the Fortnightly Club, Onondaga Historical Association, Art Literature Club. He is secretary of the Syracuse Clerical Club, and has done considerable writing for the church papers.

CALVARY CHURCH.

The Rt. Rev. F. D. Huntington, S. T. D., LL. D., Rector.

The Rev. J. Everett Johnson, Priest in charge.

October 26, 1873, a Sunday school was begun in a small tenement house on Butternut street. The children came in crowds; nearly two hundred on some Sundays were present. The only building for sale, large enough for their accommodation, that could be found was a barn. This the bishop rented. A small sanctuary was rudely fitted up, and on the fourth Sunday in Advent the first evening service was held. In respect to nationality the congregation was as motley as that which St Peter addressed in the upper room at Jerusalem on the first Whitesunday, and in respect to religious creed far more heterogeneous. Until the following February the Rev. Mr. Hilliard officiated. The sacrament of Baptism was first administered by his successor, the Rev. John H. W. Weibel. In August a choir was organized by the Rev. B. F. Hall, the next minister in charge. The Sunday school continued to flourish, and at the Christmas festival 234 children were present. The sewing school had upon its roll the names of nearly 100 children In September, 1875, Mr. J. O. S. Huntington took charge of the mission, acting as lay-reader. "The Helping Hands," a guild of girls, who met together for sewing, reading and social amusement, was organized with twenty members. On May 28, 1876, the bishop administered the rite of confirmation to ten candidates. During Mr. Huntington's visit to Europe in the following summer the Rev. W. S. Hayward officiated. September 24, 1876, the Rev. C. P. Jennings, D. D., dean of St. Andrew's Divinity School, took charge of the mission, and Mr. Huntington became his assistant. Services continued to be held in the chapel on Butternut street until Christmas, 1877. In it thirty-eight persons were baptized, eighteen were confirmed, and the Holy Communion was celebrated fifteen times.

The corner stone of Calvary Church, at the corner of Highland and Beecher streets, was laid by Bishop Huntington on St. Matthew's Day, September 21, 1877, and the edifice was opened for worship on the Feast of the Nativity. The first child baptized in the new church (February 3, 1878) was John Henry Phillips; the first marriage (July 25, 1881) was that of John Esler and Annie Jones Gwynni; the first burial (March 9, 1880) that of Margaret Ewaldhauser. On St. Matthew's Day, 1878, Mr. Huntington was ordained deacon, and in that capacity he was placed in charge of the parish, in which he had h therto labored as a lay-reader. He established, February 23, 1875, in connection with Calvary Church, St. Mark's Mission on Henderson street, where the services of the church were held regularly for two or three years. On the 30th of May, 1879, he was ordained priest. July 26, 1881, he resigned his charge, and he was succeeded by the Rev. J. G. Cameron, now rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, New York city. On the next Advent Sunday the Rev. Wm. F. Hubbard, now a chaplain in the U. S. Army, entered upon his duties as priest in charge, and remained until the 12th of February, 1884, when he was succeeded by the present incumbent. In 1886 the Guild House was erected at a cost of $1,300. In 1891 an unfinished organ was presented to the church by Mr. F. B. Haberle of this city, and completed by Mr. John Bates, the organist, whose work, which covered many months, was likewise a gift to the church. During Lent, 1888, St. Luke's Mission, 210 Vann street, in the eastern part of the city, near Burnet avenue, was opened under the direction of the priest in charge of Calvary Church, the Rev. P. A. Mölling being his assistant. The building which had been previously rented was purchased by the bishop in 1892 and remodeled, and in 1894 it was enlarged in order to provide more room for the Sunday school. The sittings in Calvary Church and St. Luke's Mission Chapel are all free. In the former, from the first, daily evening prayer has been said, and the Holy Communion has been celebrated every Sunday and Holy Day. The church organizations are; "The Choir Guild," "The Young Men's Club," and the "Girls' Friendly Society," each comprising about twenty-five members. Calvary Church was admitted into union with the convention in 1881. The bishop is the rector; there is no vestry. Communicants, 247.

CHURCH OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE.

Previous to March 6, 1870, church people belonging to St. Paul's and St. James' Parishes had begun to remark the rapid growth tending to set southward, and seeing the opening for Evangelistic work, cottage meetings were held by Rev. Dr. Clarke in several houses in Danforth. As the winter advanced there were marked evidences of renewed church life and interest. The organization of the Church Sisterhood banded the women together for works of mercy. The Church Brotherhood was established and for a time furnished laborers in various forms of activity. There were in the whole city but three parishes and no Mission schools or Chapels under their care All these circumstances pointed to an effort for inaugurating regular Church services in some outlying district. The Seventh Ward south of Jefferson street had no religious building except the Jewish Synagogue. Scattergood Mission, since developed into the Memorial Church, was doing a good work under a band of devoted teachers, but there were many children still outside of Christian influences.

Not only that: besides families having no regular place of worship, there were in the vicinity five households, with sons and daughters growing up. who were attached to St. Paul's Parish, but too far removed for regular attendance.

It was on March 6, 1870, that the first established Sunday School was opened. In preparation for the opening, a room was engaged in a convenient location and several ladies, among them the principal of Keble School, assisted in distributing notices. At three o'clock on Sunday afternoon, a windy day with pale spring sunlight and a keen air, an anxious and expectant group was collected at the corner of Jackson and Mulberry streets. The children who had been invited were there in considerable numbers and the volunteer teachers with members of the Church Brotherhood who had pledged support to the undertaking. Owing to some failure, however, the room engaged was neither open nor heated. The first advance seemed likely to end in defeat. Must we leave these few sheep in the wilderness to be lost or scattered? In this difficulty a parishioner of St. James, since well known among us as one of our most zealous workers and friends—Mrs. Land—came forward with a suggestion which was speedily adopted. In a few minutes the whole gathering was hospitably received in the German Church, corner of Grape and Jackson streets. There the opening service was read by Mr. Geo. J. Gardner, copies of Goodrich's S. S. Tune Book were distributed, a hymn sung and the school organized into classes. The names of those present as far as they can be recalled, are Mrs. W. T. Hamilton, Mrs. F. D. Huntington, Miss M. J. Jackson, Miss E. C. Lawrence, Mrs. Jacob Raynor, Miss Georgie Raynor, Miss Lila McClelland, Mrs. Leggett, Mrs. Greenland, Miss Eva Beecher, Miss A. S. Curtis, Miss Annie Foster, Mrs. Land, Mr. J. A. Andrews, Mr. F. A. May, Mr. A. B. French, Mr. T. O. Wilson, Mr. Wade, Mr. Dunning, Mr. Robert Beecher, Mr. Geo. J. Gardner, besides many children.

Through the efforts of Mr. Foster and ladies of the Sunday School, sufficient funds were solicited in the spring to erect a rough wooden building on land loaned for the purpose. This chapel, simply battened outside and boarded roughly within, was welcomed as a church home by the little flock which had learned to prize the Sunday School and love the faithful teachers who came across the city through all weather. Here it was that during the next winter Rev. Mr. Winne ministered regularly, reading Evening Prayer for the older people after the children were dismissed.

In the winter of 1873 a great effort was made, chiefly among the women of St. Paul's Parish, and means were raised to purchase the present fine lot. To the courage and enterprise of Miss Lawrence, Mrs. Fuller and other ladies who furthered the undertaking, we owe the foundation of the material prosperity of the parish.

After the acquisition of the land, the old chapel was removed and fitted up. Rev. Mr. Bowman, then in charge of the Mission, interested himself greatly in this, doing much work with his own hands and contributing towards the church window. Not long after the Mothers' room was added and became a weekly meeting-place for many years. It was in this improved building, after the addition of a suitable Chancel and Altar, that the first Communion service was celebrated by Rev. Mr. Schouler on Easter Day, 1873.

Contributions to the sanctuary were made from time to time by the people who dearly loved their house of worship and rejoiced in the opportunity to beautify it. The first Christmas after the removal, a bell was swung in the little tower on the gable and sounded gaily as an accompaniment to the Christmas carol, rung by the strong hands of Mr. Bethel at the Children's Festival. It was a happy hour for the little flock when that summons to the house of prayer was provided.

The next Christmas was commemorated by the purchase of a Bishop's chair and another for the Chancel. In that spring a mite society was organized, meeting from house to house, and as the result at Whitsun-tide a chandelier was bought and put up as another gift from the congregation. The next year seats adapted to the use of the Sunday School were also presented.

The fifth anniversary was held in 1875. Silver crosses suitably inscribed were given to all the children who had regularly attended the school from the beginning. Those who were present will remember the procession of children singing, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," Samuel Land carrying the blue silk banner on which was inscribed the text, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." The pure and simple life of the standard-bearer was soon ended after a painful illness. The silk banner is faded and gone. But the testimony of the young man's early consecration still remains and the words of the text record the true history of St. John's. Without the Lord's help in building this house our labor would be lost; without Him the watchman would have waked in vain.

Another anniversary—this time the tenth—was spent in the old building. Then came the tenth anniversary of the mothers. Two nights after that happy occasion the building was destroyed by fire, and at first dismay overcame the scattered flock. The insurance was far from sufficient to replace the edifice by one of increased capacity; months must pass before even a roof could cover the congregation. In this cricis the guiding hand of Him who had led us thus far pointed out the way. Our good neighbors of Scattergood Mission freely loaned their Chapel for Sunday mornings. The Lenten services were held in a private house under the same brick church which had seen the birth of the Mission. Humble as were the surroundings in the unoccupied room set apart for that purpose, a reverent and devout congregation gathered there every Wednesday afternoon. When, however, the new church was opened in October, 1882, it was a happy occasion to those who had been deprived of their spiritual home. Through the liberal subscriptions of the Parish, a generous gift from Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hamilton and the ready help of others, it was possible not only to complete the building satisfactorily, but to offer it for consecration the same day it was occupied.

Subsequent to that time the records of the Parish scarcely come under the head of history—since the events are familiar to the members of the present congregation. We have been obliged repeatedly, since the beginning, to part with valued and beloved ministers, and it has seemed more than once as if the work could hardly survive such losses. Courage and loyalty have, nevertheless, moved the people to begin again and to follow faithfully in the lead of the clergyman placed in charge by the Bishop.

REV. DAVID B. MATTHEWS.

David B. Matthews, rector of the Church of St. John the Divine, was born May 19, 1870, at Manchester, England. His boyhood was passed in London. He was sent to Commercial College, Margate, at the early age of nine. Leaving there he entered Westminster schools, London. Coming to this country in the year 1887, he entered into a business life in Syracuse, singing on Sundays in St. Paul's Cathedral. He was induced to leave Syracuse by the manager of the New York Life Ins. Co., and given a promising position in Buffalo. From there he was called to the home office on Broadway, where he acted as clerk. While employed there he took an active part in mission work, and his evenings were spent for the cause of the Master, in Brooklyn. Feeling called to the ministry, he wrote to the Rev. H. R. Lockwood, S. O. D., his former rector, and received a loving letter in reply advising him to come to Syracuse and study, and arrangements had been made with the Bishop for his admittance to St. Andrew's Divinity School.

David B. Matthews was connected with the mission at East Syracuse, where he fully demonstrated that he had the requisite qualities for an active servant of the Master. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Huntington at St. Paul's Cathedral, Syracuse, in June, 1894. In the fall he accepted the call of the Church of St. John the Divine where he is at present located.

REV. ROBERT HUDSON, PH. D.

Rev. Robert Hudson, rector of Trinity Church, was graduated from the Episcopal Academy of Connecticut in 1867. He received B. A. in 1871; M. A. in 1873, in course, from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn; B. D. from Berkeley Divinity School in 1873, and Ph. D. from the University of Omaha in 1890. He was ordained deacon by Rt. Rev. John Williams, bishop of Connecticut, in 1873, and became rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Binghamton, N. Y., the same year. He was advanced to the priesthood by the Rt. Rev. F. D. Huntington, bishop of Central New York, in 1874, and was appointed the same year chaplain in the United States Navy. During the summer of 1874 he had charge of Grace Church, Watertown, N. Y. In the fall of the same year he was ordered to duty at New York on board of Vice-Admiral Power's flag ship. Continuing at that station from 1874 to 1876, during which time the new training service of the United States Navy was established. From 1876 to 1880 he served as chaplain of the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. From 1883 to 1888 he was chaplain of the United States Training School at Newport, R. I. From 1888 to 1890 he was stationed at the Man Island Navy Yard, California, and served on board the United States cruiser Charleston. He resigned from the naval service in 1890, and took charge of Trinity Church, Pittsburgh, Pa. He was called and took charge of Trinity Church, Syracuse, N. Y., in 1892. Since his arrival at Trinity Church, a parish house has been erected, the chancel redecorated, new lectern and pulpit put in, the vestry-room refitted and refurnished, and a fine vested choir of forty members formed. He has baptized about fifty children and adults, and has presented 108 for confirmation.

The attendance has more than doubled, and the number of communicants has increased from 250 to the neighborhood of 400. The services at Trinity Church are well attended, and are characterized by the heartiness and devotion of the members, and the fine singing of its choir.

January 1st, 1895 . . . . Assets, $62,234,925.33; Surplus, $7,757,930.29.

The Connecticut Mutual stands by itself and occupies a thoroughly enviable position in Life Insurance. It was neverbefore so deserving of confidence as it is to day, and never had more of the public confidence than it has now.

It tries to realize the ideal results of a legitimate business; and it seeks to attract to its membership those who want only such results.

The conservative course of the Company has brought to it a conservative constituency, and these people are the best risks, for they are people who take care of themselves; and they are the best members, for they are stayers.

Electricity as a Universal Therapeutic

Is now endorsed and approved by the most eminent authors and professors in the medical colleges of Europe and America.

In all Chronic Diseases it may be said that no other mode or method of treatment is so rational, so universal in its character, so wide in its scope, so uniformly successful, so perfectly safe in its application, and public opinion unites with science in proclaiming Electricity the all potent curative.

No medicines are used at this institution, nothing but Electricity. It is used in all its various and latest improved forms—Farradic, Galvanic and Vapor Baths and treatments without baths, as the case may require.

Some of the diseases which I treat at my Electrical Health Institute:

My testimonials prove that all acute and chronic diseases are successfully treated by this most wonderful agent, Electricity, and so recognized by the best medical men of the world. By this all-powerful agent we are enabled to remove Rheumatism, Malaria, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Sciatica, Premature Decline, Insanity, Deafness, Asthma, Prolapsus, Uteri, Scrofula, St. Vitus' Dance, Spinal Diseases, Cancer, Kidney, Bladder and Liver Difficulties, Dropsy, Lumbago Hemorrhoids or Piles, White Swelling, Tumors, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Stuttering, Noise in the Head, Hysteria, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, etc. Also all Blood Diseases of whatever name or how long standing, thoroughly eradicated from the system.

OFFICE HOURS, 9 A. M. TO 7 P. M. CONSULTATION FREE TO ALL.

FIDELITY in construction of rates.
FIDELITY in equities of policy contract.
FIDELITY in discharge of all obligations.
FIDELITY in all and to all

—IS THE MOTTO OF—

THE FIDELITY MUTUAL LIFE ASSOCIATION

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Statement for 1894, shows

Ledger or invested assets	$1,027,536.40	increase 24 per cent.
Advance insurance fund and and other liability	33,384.14
SURPLUS	$ 905,151 26	increase 22 per cent.
New business written	23,073,100.00	increase 30 per cent.
New bussiness delivered and paid for	19,449,750.00	increase 20 per cent.
Insurance actually in force	53,132,900.00	increase 15 per cent.
Mortality per $1,000 mean insurance	$8 21	DECREASE, 55 cts.

The laws of this country divide life insurance companies into two classes:

IN THE ONE, or "old line," the net premium is fixed by law, and the difference between the gross and net premium is assessed by the corporation making the contract. If the death rate is greater, or the rate of interest earnings is less than that fixed by law, or if a depreciation in investments impairs the legal reserve, failure is likely to result.

IN THE OTHER CLASS, designated "assessment," the entire premium is assessed by corporate authority, and, hence, such companies cannot be judged as a class, but every company must stand on its own merits. Assessment means naming by an authority a rate to be paid for a benefit in opposition to a rate fixed by law.

The level flexible premium rates of THE FIDELITY are based on past insurance experience, were constructed by the eminent actuary, Mr. L. G. Fouse, who is also president of the Association, and have been assessed or approved by its corporate authority, viz.: the board of directors. The plan of THE FIDELITY affords absolute security at a minimum outlay.

Some idea of the popularity of the National Life may be gained from the fact that at the beginning of the current year (1895) it had 30,186 policies in force, insuring $64,975,950.00.

The amounts paid to policy holders since organization were as follows:

Death Claims	$ 5,334,394.00
Matured Endowments	586,966.45
Surrendered Policies	2,763,524.19
Surplus Returned	2,040,132.50
Total	$10,724,047.16

In the first half of 1895 this old New England company shows a gain in net assets of $501,342.43.

This shows steady and rapid progress under adverse conditions.

RENAL CALCULI.

SYRACUSE, July 24, 1889.

Last October my kidneys began to trouble me. and from that time until I commenced taking your "Electric Compound" (May 14, 1889), my sufferings were severe, being obliged to take large quantities of opiates to get relief, (my trouble being Renal Calculi, or gravel in the kidney—passing from the kidney to the bladder). I doctored with several of our best physicians, took five different kinds of patent medicines, and drank large quantities of mineral waters, but received no benefit. I lost flesh, my appetite was very poor, my nervous system wrecked (could get no sleep except when under opiates), my strength gone, so that I could hardly go from my house to the office. I was obliged to give up work, and while visiting a friend he urged me to try a bottle of your "Electric Compound," and before I had taken the first bottle my pain had left me, my general health improved, and to-day I consider myself a well man, having taken only four bottles, and have been at work since taking the first bottle.

Yours truly, E. M. GROVER, Sup't Syracuse Journal Company.

A. C. Houghton—Dear Sir:

BELLE ISLE, N. Y., July 10, 1895.

Two years ago last November I was a sufferer from a kidney and bladder trouble, having an entire stoppage of urine except with the use of the catheter. The use of two bottles of your "Electric Compound" has given me great relief. Another case in my family pronounced by one of the most eminent physicians of Syracuse to be an advanced case of Bright's disease accompanied with hemorrhage of the kidneys, has been very much relieved by the use of a few bottles of the "Electric Compound," and instead of a hopeless case I believe it will be cured by your invaluable remedy. Respectfully yours, SAMUEL PARSONS.

A. M. HILDRETH,

COMMON-SENSE HORSE-SHOER.

210 East Onondaga Street.

The Value of a Horse is Sound Feet.

THE FOOT OF AN ANIMAL IS MADE TO LAST AS LONG AS ANY OTHER PART OF ITS BODY, BUT IS OFTEN SO INJURED AND IMPAIRED IN BEING SHOD BY PERSONS HAVING NO KNOWLEDGE OF ITS CONSTRUCTION, AS TO RENDER THE ANIMAL VALUELESS, AT AN AGE WHEN IT SHOULD BE AT ITS BEST.

Does Your Horse

INTERFERE, STUMBLE, CUT QUARTERS, FORGE, PULL SHOES, OR HOBBLE?

Has It . . .

CORNS, FLAT FEET, OR DROP SOLE? ALL OF THESE FAULTS CAN BE CURED AND THE CAUSE REMOVED BY HAVING YOUR WORK DONE AT THIS SHOP, BY ONE WHO HAS A THOROUGH KNOWLEDGE OF A HORSE'S FOOT. ALL WORK GUARANTEED. PRICES REASONABLE. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO BALANCING YOUNG HORSES.
